

Heels Clip Wake On Errors, 3-2

WINSTON-SALEM — Three unearned runs in the opening two innings hoisted Carolina to a rain-shortened victory over Wake Forest here Tuesday night, 3-2. The Tar Heels took advantage of a wild pitch, passed ball and throwing error by the Deacons to tally all its runs before rain halted play after seven innings.

UNC is now 11-7 overall, 3-2 in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Wake is 7-16, 2-7 in the conference.

David Lemonds was the winner for Carolina, allowing only four hits and striking out 11. His record is now 4-1.

The sophomore lefthander struck out nine batters in the first four innings, including five in a row.

Larry Cain went the route for the Deacs and absorbed the loss. He allowed only two hits.

UNC scored a lone run in the first inning. Leadoff hitter Bobby Elliott singled and Doug Lanham sacrificed him to second. Elliott went to third on Skip Hull's single and scored on a passed ball.

Two more Carolina runs crossed in the second. Ron Lemonds walked and John Rudisill laid down a sacrifice bunt. Catcher Billy Heitman threw into right field on the bunt, sending Lemonds to third and Rudisill to second.

Lemonds came home on a wild pitch and one out later Elliott squeezed home Rudisill.

Cubs' Niekro Trounces His Brother

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Cubs sent 11 men to bat in the fourth inning Tuesday, scoring six times, to come from behind for a 10-4 triumph over the Atlanta Braves and give starting pitcher Joe Niekro his first win over older brother Phil.

Phil Niekro, taking his first loss of the season, was the victim of the Cubs' fourth inning barrage as the first five men to bat hit safely. Don Kessinger doubled, Glenn Beckert and Billy Williams singled for one run, Ron Santo doubled to score Beckert and after a wild pitch by Niekro, allowing Williams to score, Ernie Banks singled to score Santo.

Ron Reed replaced Niekro and Lou Johnson was safe with Banks reaching third on Felix Millan's error. Randy Hundley then doubled to score both runners.

The Braves took advantage of a 33-mile-per-hour wind blowing out from home plate to hit three homers, two of them by Cleve Boyer and the other by Hank Aaron. It was Aaron's fifth homer of the season and the run batted in put him in undisputed fourth place on the all-time National League RBI ranking with 1551. He had been tied with Rogers Hornsby.

Joe Niekro allowed the Braves 13 hits before being lifted for a pinch hitter.

Carolina Trackster Mike Williams ... His Mile Record Could Fall Saturday

Ninth Relays Set Saturday

By HANK STEADMAN Special to The Daily Tar Heel

The ninth renewal of the Carolina Relays Saturday at UNC's Fetzler Field will be a day for old record holders and new records.

In the field events starting at 10 a.m. and the running there will be six record holders competing from the 10 schools entered in the Relays. Between these six and the rest of the field there should be at least six new standards by the end of the day.

The 10 schools in the Relays are N.C. State, Duke, Wake North Carolina College South Carolina Furman and East Carolina and North Carolina. There will be no team winner.

Five of the six record holders will be defending in the events they won last year. UNC's Mike Williams, the defending champ and record holder in the mile (4:17.5), will run this time in the 880.

Furman sports two of the record holders and defending champions, Kim Piersol in the triple jump (47-14) and Danny Tyson in the pole vault (15-6).

Williams will be facing record holder Dan Donahue of Maryland in the 880. Donahue set the mark at 1:52.2 last year. Rounding out the defending champs and record holders will be Duke's Ed Stenberg in the three mile run and Jim Whitt of USC in the Intermediate Hurdles. Stenberg's 13:39.8 in 1967 established the record when the event was run for the first time. Whitt also set his mark last year at 55.3.

Many Old Records To Fall

Records in running events appear to be in the most tangle Saturday. The only field contest that seems certain to be smashed in the high jump mark of 6-5 3/4 set last year. Both Frank Costello of Maryland and Dave Smith from USC have topped this height this season. In fact, the shot put record of 54-3/4 set in 1964 by B. Blozis of record in the Relays.

On the cinders, there promises to be a number of shattered records. The most certain to go in the mile. The 4:17.5 mark of Williams has been bettered by at least three Maryland runners in the past two weeks. In a dual meet with UNC, the Terps' John Baker broke the tape in 4:08.5. Against Carolina, George Minarck and Ernest O'Boyle also were under the Relay record.

Duke's sensation, Jeff Howser, will take aim at the records in the 120 high hurdles and the 440 yard hurdles. Howser has run the 120 many times this season in 14.4 which is also the relay record. The 440 mark of 55.3 set in 1967 by Whitt should be demolished by Howser, who ran this event in 52.6 against UNC, beating Carolina's Gary Iverson by one-tenth of a second. Iverson also could break this record with an upset of Howser.

Netters Invade Duke Today

Spring Vacation Brought Four Wins, One Loss

By ART CHANSKY of The Daily Tar Heel Staff

The UNC netters lost their first match of the season to the University of Florida last Tuesday but also picked up four more wins over the Easter vacation to run their record to 14-1.

The netters will visit Duke today at 2 o'clock. The Tar Heels travelled to Gainesville, Fla. to face what was undoubtedly their toughest match of the season with hopes of knocking off the highly rated Gators.

But a combination of bad breaks and the inability to accustom themselves to Florida's hard courts led to the Heels' downfall.

Although none of the individual matches were lopsided, ed, the netters had difficulty making the decisive points and the day ended with Florida winning eight of the nine matches.

Lee Langstroth and Joe Dorn teamed up to salvage the Tar Heels only victory in third doubles.

Prior to the Florida match, the netters won an impressive 9-0 victory from the University of Jacksonville on Saturday, April 13th.

It was the 11th consecutive win for the Heels and was their eighth shutout of the season.

Fred Rawlings and Dorn playing fifth and sixth singles shut out their opponents, 6-0, 6-0, while Gene Hamilton, Bob Davis, Lee Langstroth and Bill Trotter also won easy 2-set victories.

In doubles competition, Davis and Rawlings Hamilton and Trotter, and Langstroth and Dorn all teamed successfully to complete the shutout.

The Tar Heels then returned home to host the University of Toledo last Friday.

Hamilton, playing excellent tennis once again led the netters to a 7-2 win over Toledo.

He was in complete control of the match in gaining his ninth victory of the season.

The following day Coach Don Skakle took his netmen to Charlottesville Va. to play the Cavaliers in a match which saw tennis team manager John Jensen play sixth singles.

The Tar Heels defeated Virginia, 8-1 but it was without the services of Langstroth who was detained on the way from his home in Florida.

Dorn and Trotter who were driving down separately, also were delayed and did not arrive until the doubles matches forcing Jensen to fill in as a singles player.

JOE DORN

Dorn and Trotter made it one time to team with Bill Shiya and Hamilton respectively, for doubles victories.

Finally on Monday the netters rolled to their 14th victory as they whipped a highly touted University of Maryland team at College Park Md. 6-3.

Outstanding performances were turned in once again by Hamilton, Davis, Dorn, Rawlings and Trotter in handing the Terapins their 19th defeat in 20 matches with North Carolina tennis teams.

The Duke Blue Devils are 10-5 overall this season and 2-2 in ACC competition boasting wins over Virginia and N.C. State.

The Blue Devils feature two Connecticut standouts in Bruce Mahler and sophomore Chuck Saacke.

Coach Skakle expects to keep his lineup the same with Hamilton, Davis, Langstroth,

UNC Signs Cager Corson

Craig Corson a 6-9 center from New Hampton Prep, N.H., has signed a basketball grant-in-aid with the University of North Carolina it has been announced by Head Coach Dean Smith.

Corson, who weighs 215, averaged around 17 points a game in his senior season this year at New Hampton.

Smith said that Corson has the potential to develop into a fine college player. "If Craig works hard and develops as we think he will he could turn to be an outstanding player," Smith said.

Corson is the second player signed to a Tar Heel grant this season. Smith earlier announced the signing of Bill Chamberlain, highly-touted 6-5 forward from New York City.

There's a dramatic new way to program Life Insurance. This man is an expert at it.

We call it Electronic Personal Planning. And it was conceived to make financial planning more productive than ever before—by combining the unique capabilities of this man and a machine into one effective process.

Briefly, it works this way. You and your Provident Mutual agent provide the basic financial information needed, and this serves as the foundation for the program. Automatically, the computer considers a wide range of factors... social security benefits, veteran's benefits... others too numerous to list here.

Then the man from Provident Mutual goes to work on the basic program. He interprets, shapes, tailors... in short, designs a plan to achieve specific goals with maximum efficiency. You'll be amazed at the accuracy of it. And the reach.
