CULLOWHEE — (UPI) — Western Carolina University pulled out of the Carolinas Conference Tuesday and announced plans for an expanded athletic program.

conference, whose official name is the Carolina Conference.

WCU's action leaves member teams in the conference Atlantic Christian, Catawba, Elon, Guilford High Point Lenoir Rhyne Newberry Pfeiffer and Presbyterian. Atlantic Christian High Point and Pfeiffer do not compete in football.

The board of trustees, meeting here Tuesday, voted to withdraw from the conference. The board also announced that a new director of athletics will be named to succeed Tom Young, who requested that he be relieved effective June 30, 1968, and assigned to other duties.

The board said present contracts for athletic contests involving other Carolinas Conference schools would be honored. Other members of the conference were notified of the action Tuesday afternoon.

The trustees also approved an increase of $5 per student per quarter in the student activity fee with the full proceeds of the increase going to the Athletic Department for development of an expanded athletic program.

The changes in the Western Carolina athletic program were based on recommendations of the Faculty Athletic Committee.

Withdrawal from the conference was recommended on grounds that an expansion of the sports program was "desirable to allow for greater student participation."

The committee also said restrictions of the conference on the number of athletic scholarships for football and basketball place Western Carolina in an unfavorable position.

In addition to these two sports WCU also competes in baseball, tennis, track, cross country and golf.

The committee said plans are being developed to create teams in swimming soccer, wrestling and gymnastics.

Fund Campaign Slated

By MARY BURCH Of The DTH Staff

UNC Volunteers for McCarthy are planning a massive student fund raising drive for the Indiana primary, announced the group's President Charles Moore.

The Chapel Hill McCarthy group received a telegram from the Washington headquarters stating that funds for the Indiana primary are desperately needed.

The UNC Volunteers have set their fund raising goal at $1107—the number of votes McCarthy received in the Y mock primary.

"It is a big goal," Moore said. "It will take 220 students willing to give an average of $5 each."

Primaries are expensive, Moore noted. It cost McCarthy and Nixon about $450,000 to finance their Wisconsin camaign. "I think we can afford it," Moore said. "Those who can give more are urged to do so."

Dr. G. E. Lenski chief fund raiser for the Chapel Hill town group, said that the $50,000 spent on the McCarthy campaigns in New Hampshire and Wisconsin couldn't have been spent better. "That money changed the political picture," he said. "We are beginning to see the results in American foreign policy."

Mike Curtis, a member of the group's steering committee, said that the current Gallop and Harris polls show that McCarthy runs just as strongly against Nixon as Kennedy does.

Curtis pointed out that Kennedy traveled around the country charging his massive campaign bills. "Our candidates father was a small farmer.

He couldn't give McCarthy millions to campaign on," Curtis said.

"There is nothing wrong with Kennedy using his money to finance his campaign," Curtis said, "but there is something wrong if a candidate who runs just as well as Kennedy, and who will probably run better when he is better known, is unable to campaign because he wasn't lucky enough to have money."

"McCarthy depends on contributions," Curtis said. "He has done and will do a great deal for us."

Though the campaign is primarily aimed at student support faculty members are urged to contribute. Contributions will be accepted at Y Court and Lenoir Hall booth and by other persons stationed in the graduate departments and in the dorms.

"We hope to have the money ready to send to Indiana by Monday," Moore said. "The primary is coming up soon and we can't delay."
