Bomar Injured

Heels Hold Final Scrimmage

North Carolina's football team staged its final scrimmage session of Spring practice Wednesday in preparation for Saturday's annual Blue-White game.

Tar Heel quarterback Gayle Bomar of Grand Rapids Mich. suffered an injury to his right elbow and is a doubtful starter Saturday.

"Bomar was running our offense well until he was injured," Coach Bill Dooley said. "Other than that we played poorly as a unit."

Dooley singled out linebacker Mark Mazza of Dundas Ontario for his fine play during the session.

"I think that our goal-line defensive unit did a particularly good job too," Dooley noted.

The team will rest today and hold a light workout Friday before Saturday's final Spring session at Kenan Stadium.

A large number of former Tar Heel lettermen are expected to be on hand for Saturday's 1:30 kickoff. These former players will be guests of the football staff at a picnic following the game.

A special highlight of the game will be the presentation of the new Chuck Erickson Award at halftime. The Carolina Athletic Director will make the award to the outstanding hustler in Spring practice.
