Cage Hopes For The Future

WITH THE SIGNING of Dennis Wuycik, Pennsylvania's superbly of the basketball courts, UNC has firmly established itself as a force to reckon with in years to come.

The Tar Heels of course are fresh off a season which gave them a second place finish in the nation. But, four of those which started on that championship team will be gone after next season.

Larry Miller has seen his last year as a Tar Heel. Rusty Clark, Bill Bunting and Dick Grubar will be leaving after the next campaign. Top reserves Joe Brown and Gerald Tuttle will also depart with this group.

This brings us back to Wuycik. But, not Wuycik alone. Besides him Coach Dean Smith has already announced the signing of 6-6 forward Bill Chamberlain of New York City.

Then Smith announced the signing of 6-9 center Greg Corson from New Hampton Prep, N.H. Corson weighs 215 and averaged 17 points a game in his senior season this year at New Hampton.

Smith said that Corson has the potential to develop into a fine college player. "If Greg works hard and develops as we think he will, he could turn out to be an outstanding player," Smith said.

Corson and Chamberlain will be the two big men in Smith's scheme of things. They can combine with Lee Dedmon off this year's freshman team to give the Tar Heels good height and strength under the boards.

Wuycik will handle one of the starting forward positions. So it will be between Corson, Dedmon and Chamberlain for the starting forward and center spots.

Steve Previs, a standout guard from Bethel Park High School in Pittsburgh, Pa., may be what Carolina has needed for quite a while—a real sharp-shooting guard.

Dick Grubar has handled the playmaking job superbly for the past two seasons, but he hasn't provided the tough outside shooting the Heels needed.

Previs, a regular at Bethel Park for three seasons, will join with Charlie Scott in the Carolina backcourt to provide both the playmaking and shooting accuracy which will provide a balanced attack.

But, next season is coming up first and that should be another good one. Our apologies to Dean Smith for this bit of optimistic prognostication. On the other hand, our thanks go to him for providing us the talent to talk about.

Grid Prospects Bright Also

UNDER THE REIGN of Bill Dooley it looks as if football as well as basketball is going to come to the front on the Chapel Hill campus.

At this time, Dooley has signed 45 prospects in what many feel is the best recruiting year in Tar Heel grid history. That group includes some of the most sought-after high school grid-ders in the country.

This year's freshman squad, which will move up to the varsity unit next season, is already giving a good indication of the Dooley recruiting magic.

Don McCauley, 6-0, 195-pound halfback, is already being compared favorably with Ken Willard, now with the San Francisco 49ers.

McCauley was voted the outstanding player by the sportswriters in attendance at the Blue-White game Saturday. He rushed for 108 yards in 21 carries and scored the Blues' single touchdown on a 19-yard run.

Sophomore quarterbacks John Swofford and Ricky Lanier will also be counted on heavily for the upcoming campaign. Senior Gayle Bomar will be the first unit signal caller of course, but Swofford and Lanier will provide capable backup.

"Both these boys have great potential," Dooley says. "They are green right now but could develop into fine young quarterbacks."

Another young defensive member of the Tar Heel sophomore troops will be causing trouble around the ACC. His name, which also will cause trouble for sportswriters, is Ron Grzybowski.

Grzybowski is a 6-2, 210-pound tackle from Shamokin, Pa.

Coliseum Use Approved

ATLANTA UPI—The State Board of Regents Wednesday approved the temporary use of Georgia Tech's Alexander Memorial Coliseum for the new Atlanta Hawks basketball team.

The Regents approved a three-year contract for 41 games at a rental fee of $1,000 a game, beginning with the 1968-69 season.

The Regents were told that a leasing arrangement longer than three years was not needed because a new 16,000-seat coliseum will be built in downtown Atlanta to be the home of the team.

The board of directors of the National Basketball Association Tuesday gave unanimous approval of the Hawks' transfer from St. Louis to Atlanta.

The team was purchased only Friday by former Georgia Gov. Carl Sanders and real estate developer Tom Cousins from Ben Kerner for a reported $3.5 million.

Many ACC Tournaments Set

Special To The DTH
It's spring tournament time in the Atlantic Coast Conference and the only thing for sure is that it will be a hard-fought battle in every sport.

The tennis championship will be decided this weekend, May 9, 10, 11, at the University of Maryland. South Carolina, 5-4 victor over North Carolina will go into the meet with a 6-0 conference record.

Their win over the Tar Heels was the first by an ACC team at Chapel Hill since the conference was formed.

The number one seed among the top players will probably go to David Cooper of Clemson, who won all of his conference matches. Next to Cooper, there are at least five hopefuls, including defending champ Gene Hamilton of UNC.

South Carolina and North Carolina will be favored at the tournament but they will get strong competition from several other schools.

Wake Forest finished its regular season with a 15-5 record, their best ever. The Deacons were 3-4 in ACC play, which gives an indication of the strength of conference tennis.

The Gamecocks had the best record by any ACC team in any sport—21-0-1. The tie came about when darkness cut short the final doubles match against Georgia Tech.

The golf title will be up for grabs on Monday and Tuesday, May 13-14 at Quail Ridge Golf Club in Sanford, N.C. It is almost a forgone conclusion that Wake Forest will emerge victorious, since they managed to win all nine of their matches Hard-hitting third baseman Chris Cammack has taken over the Atlantic Coast Conference batting leadership according to the latest statistics released by the ACC office.

North Carolina State's freshman hot-sacker moved into the lead by passing Maryland outfielder Jim Norris, another freshman. Cammack is hitting a cool .468 on 36 hits in 77 trips to the plate. Norris is swinging at a .465 clip with 20 baseknocks in 43 at-bat.

Wake Forest outfielder Digit Laughridge is the third leading hitter with a .370 average. Another outfielder, Dave Boyer of N.C. State is fourth at .363.

Rounding out the top eight hitters in the league are Clemson shortstop Randy Bray (.348), Virginia outfielder Steve Bryant (.344), Duke first baseman Randy Blanchard (.342), and Maryland outfielder Gene Hiser (.339).

Carolina catcher Skip Hull is hitting at a .326 pace, good for eleventh spot in the conference batting race.

Clemson's Bray tops the ACC in base-hits with 40. The Tiger shortstop has also been to the plate more than anyone else in the loop—115.

Carolina's ace lefthander, David Lemonds tops the circuit in strikeouts with 64. (Actually Lemonds now has 76 with the 12 he whiffed in Tuesday's game with Wake.) Maryland, whose pitching staff boasts a team ERA of 1.03, has the top two men in that department individually. Tom Bradley leads the way with a microscopic 0.61, while Mike Herson is at 0.66.

Lemonds ranks third in ERAs with a 1.78 mark. Other ACC hurlers under 200 are South Carolina's Jimbo Smith (1.94) and Clemson's Nelson Gibson (1.95).

Gibson, teammate Tom Huggins, and State's Joe Frye lead in victories with six apiece. The Wolfpack's Mike Caldwell has the best won-loss record with a perfect 5-0 mark.

Other chunkers with five wins to their credit are: Lemonds of UNC, Smith of USC, Alex Cheek of State, and Bill James of Clemson.

Chi Psi Trounces Champs TEP, 11-9

By BOB COLEMAN
DTH Sports Writer

Chi Psi knocked off the defending softball champion TEP's with a nine-run rally in the final frame Tuesday and will play in both the white and blue title tilts tonight.

The DU Hooters tackle Chi Psi White at 6, an hour before the Blues tangle.

Lea Clower collected three hits for the winners, including a homer and a single in the last inning. Guy homered and Cafield and Lloyd each stroked three-baggers.

The losers trailed 5-0 but then built an 8-5 lead before the Chi Psi explosion settled it, 14-9.

DU Blue scored twice in the first and that was all it needed in gaining the finals, 5-1, over Beta Blue. Myer and hurler Terry Henry each clouted triples in the win. Steve Dobson averted a shutout with a leadoff homer in Beta's last ups.

In the residence hall division, the Avery Bottom Ends scored freely but only pulled away from the Parker Yankees in the last two innings in winning 11-6.

The Lewis II tennis team of Charlie Hamrick, Buddy Dixon, Rick Page and Swope Montgomery took two 2-1 matches Tuesday for their third win in 24 hours. Lewis II downed Ehringhaus C and then without a rest stopped the Ehringhaus A Smashers.

Winning by 3-0 shutouts were Law II versus City Planning, the Graham Crackers against the Everett Tennis Club, the Everett Rogah over the Aycock Aardwolves, Morrison E topping Granville F and the Morrison Dogs skunking the Everett Can Does. Phi Delta Blue downed Phi Sigma Kap Blue, 2-0.

SAE Blue took two of three from Beta Blue while the Stacy Studs decided the Craige A Cabbages, 2-1. Ehringhaus A Blue and Kap Sig Blue took the respective 2-1 measures of the James A Amacondas and St. A.

Monday Pi Lamb White edged Sigma Chi II while the DKE Red Raiders downed Pi Lamb and Law III White took Med III by the same score.
