

Coeds Get Big Sisters

For some 350 freshmen women this semester promises to be one of their most exciting—at least it'll be that way if any of 175 Big Sisters have anything to say.

The Big Sisters, freshman orientation counselors, are inaugurating the Big-Little Sister Program this week with the hope of helping entering girls to get settled and, according to Women's Freshman Co-ordinator Joyce

Davis, "showing them just what a Carolina education can be."

Miss Davis stressed that each new coed will have a Big Sister who will be her "personal contact" and give her advice with any problem. In addition to aiding the girls on an individual basis it is hoped the program will strengthen the entire residence college system.

The program will continue through the fall term and highlight three major areas of student life at UNC—academics, social life, and extra-curriculars. The first three programs will be held in male dormitories and will include:

*Activities Night (Sept. 23-26), an informal introduction to student organizations.

*Carolina Myth Program (Sept. 30)—an examination of campus social life with controversial panel discussions.

*Academic Orientation (Oct. 7)—A supplement to the regular orientation with emphasis on residence college courses, faculty fellows, and the experimental college.

Columbia Prexy Promises Freedom

NEW YORK (UPI)—Andrew W. Cordier, Columbia University's acting president, told a student rally Thursday there would be "no repression whatsoever" on the troubled Columbia campus.

Cordier made the remark at a rally of 300 students called by the moderate Students for a Restructured University to protest the denial of campus facilities to the more radical Students for a Democratic Society (SDS).

SDS led the protest demonstrations last spring which resulted in hundreds of arrests, violent clashes with the police and the suspension of classes for two months. It also caused a disruption of the fall registration Wednesday. There was fear the SDS would try to continue the

Frat Rush

Students planning to go through fall fraternity rush are requested to fill out fraternity preference cards at 02 South Building.

Transfer students and students who have completed at least sophomore standing with a 2.0 grade average are eligible to rush.

Houses will be open beginning Sunday, Sept. 29, 4:00-6:00 p.m. Other dates are Sept. 30, 7:00-10:00 p.m., Oct. 1, 7:00-9:30 p.m., and Oct. 3, 7:00-9:00 p.m. Invitations will be issued according to interest cards.

disruptions Thursday, but the rally was peaceful and registration for Columbia's 17,500 students proceeded without trouble.

Cordier's surprise appearance at the rally brought a flood of questions from students, including one about campus repression.

"Repression is not a word in my vocabulary," he said. "It never has been and it never will be."

During his brief remarks to the rally, Cordier said "What we want from this campus is, to be sure, the dynamic, forward-looking, progressive institution which engages in strenuous efforts to have a program which corresponds to the temper and needs of our time."

The remarks were greeted by shouts of "Talk about the issues. The issues."

On Wednesday, helmeted campus police clashed with students who tried to crash into the university gymnasium, where registration was in progress, to register Mark Rudd, 21-year-old SDS leader who was suspended for his part in last spring's bloody clashes.
