

Bowers' Running Sparks State Win Over Maryland

RALEIGH, N. C. (UPI) — Junior tailback Charlie Bowers powered North Carolina State's ground attack Saturday and scored three touchdowns in the Wolfpack's 31-11 triumph over Maryland.

Bowers, who became a starter when senior Leon Mason was injured in preseason practice, ground out 113 yards rushing on 28 carries. He scored three touchdowns against South Carolina two weeks ago.

He scored against Maryland on runs of 10 and three yards in the second quarter and on a one-yard plunge in the third. Halfback Jim Hardin ran three yards in the waning moments for another State touchdown.

Gerald Warren kicked a 21-yard field goal for the Wolfpack in the first period and added four extra points.

Workhorse Billy Lovett drove one yard in the third quarter for Maryland's only touchdown and took a pass from quarterback Alan Pastrana for the two-point conversion.

Rick Carson kicked a 29-yard field goal for the Terps in the first quarter.

Maryland, which had won two straight after breaking a 16-game losing streak, showed a powerful running attack of its own in the first half after taking a 3-0 lead.

The ground-conscious Wolfpack stormed back but settled for Warren's field goal in a fourth-and-one situation.

Wolfpack quarterback Jack Klebe came up with the day's key play when he caught Maryland flatfooted with a 68-yard quick kick that put the ball on the Terps 10.

State recovered a fumble two plays later and was on its way.

The victory put the Wolfpack on top of the Atlantic Coast Conference with a 5-0 mark and set up a showdown contest with the defending champion Clemson next Saturday.

KENNY HELMS

Helms Has 'Tremendous Desire'

By JOHN WESTEFELD & MAX MAXWELL DTH Sports Writers

Ken Helms, a junior from Charlotte, N.C., is leading the cross country team to one of its best seasons in recent years.

He has placed first in three meets and second in two others while pacing the harriers to a 5-1 record. The teams' only defeat came at the hands of arch-rival Maryland, always a formidable track power.

According to Coach Joe Hilton, Helms not only has good speed and endurance, but also possesses "a tremendous desire to win."

While attending high school in Charlotte Helms ran both cross country and track. As a senior he won the state championship in the mile run with a time of 4:24. It was this outstanding performance that captured the attention of the Carolina track coach.

"His showing was exceptional for a high school runner, and we knew he could make a contribution to the team," said Hilton.

Helms later decided to attend Chapel Hill because of the fine track program. The success of this program depends on rigorous workouts.

A typical workout is designed to increase both speed and endurance.

"I like for the boys to run between 12-15 miles a day to keep in top shape," said Hilton. "Sometimes the team works out as a unit and other times it is on an individual basis."

Though he is a fine cross country runner Helms' real specialty is the mile and half-mile.

"I run cross country primarily to get in shape for the spring," he said.

His best time in the mile is 4:15 while his best 880 time is 1:53. The young harrier also was a member of the 2-mile relay team which set a school record last year.

So far this year Helms' best time for the Tar Heels' 5-mile cross country course is 26:27. Though this is an excellent time, he claims that "the course is very rugged—especially the many hilly areas."

While possessing a tremendous amount of ability, Helms lacks the self-confidence necessary to fulfill his potential.

"However," said Hilton, "Ken continues his marked improvement, he should be a conference standout his senior year."

Clemson Mistakes Give Alabama Win

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI) — Sophomore quarterback Scott Hunter passed for two touchdowns set up by Clemson mistakes to lead Alabama to a 21-14 victory Saturday.

Hunter hit Donnie Sutton for 40 yards and sophomore end George Ranager, his favorite target, for 30, while sophomore tailback Buddy Seay took in the other Tide touchdown on a 15-yard run. Clemson scored on a three yard run by tailback Buddy Gore and a six yard pass from quarterback Billy Ammons to fullback Ray Yauger.

The Tide struck quickly in the first quarter, building a 14-0 lead on Hunter's pass to Sutton after Mike Dean intercepted an Ammons pass at the Clemson 40 with 6:22 left.

After the kickoff, the Tide struck again, this time after Mike Hall knocked the ball from Ammons' hand and end Norris Hamer fell on it at the Tide 36. Behind senior quarterback Joe Kelley, the Tide marched to Clemson's 15 with a 3 yard Kelley to Ranager pass bringing the ball to the 21.

Seay cracked the line for three and Kelley gained three more on a keeper and then handed it to Seay for the TD run.

With Ammons passing and Gore and Yauger running, the Tigers marched 60 yards in 12 plays in the second quarter and 69 yards in eight plays in the third for their two touchdowns.

The Tide drove close three time in the third quarter, but field goal attempts by Vinnie Schilleci and Dean were short. In all, the Tide missed five field goals.

Then, in the fourth quarter, Hall recovered a Yauger fumble at the Clemson 20 and, on the first play, Hunter hit Ranager at the 15. Ranager cut to his right, powered past two tacklers, and scored with 8:17 left to play.

Clemson battled back, moving to the Alabama 22 where Dean collected his second interception and allowed the Tide to run out the clock.

Tar Heels Fall To Deacons, 48-31

Wake was ahead 28-3. But Bomar, who had been running from sideline to sideline all day, finally sprung loose on the next Carolina series.

He went 58 yards to the Wake 15 after faking a hand-off and rolling left. Tommy Dempsey threw a clearing block.

Bomar hit Blanchard cutting right behind the goal for a 12 yard scoring play.

But the Deacons quickly countered, scoring 3 downs later. Dolbin slipped through a trap hole left from his 33, dashed to the 15 where White blocked the last defender, and scampered the remaining yards for the touchdown.

It was 67 yard run. The point-after made it 35-10. Three snaps later Wake led 41-10 as Deac defensive back Gary Willard cut in front of McCauley on a flare pass and ran 58 yards for another touchdown.

One more score came in the fertile third quarter, this one by Carolina.

Bomar was at his 24 when he saw Blanchard cutting left, and he hit him at the 47. Blanchard, a 220-pounder, shook off defender Laughridge like excess water and rambled down the sideline on a 76-yard pass play.

Wake scored its final touchdown in the final period when the Leavitt went over left tackle from one yard out. Clymer's 29-yard run, which ended at the one, made it inevitable.

The Deacs took their 48 points and retired for the day.

The Heels scored twice more on an 80-yard drive and after an ensuing on-sides kickoff.

Bomar ran 6 yards for the first one on a bootleg right, seven plays later, Perry Buck returned to the Deacon payoff line on a 9-yard run.

A second straight on-sides kick again gave possession to UNC, but an interception stopped the offensive.

It was a day when defense watched from the audience, while the scores performed on stage.

Olympic Sponsor Has Credentials

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Mexico's President, Gustavo Diaz Ordaz, is not the noted sportsman his predecessor was, but, as official patron of the Olympic Games, he still has his own credentials.

Former President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, who fought to get Mexico City named as the site of the games this October, had a reputation as a hiker, mountain climber, sports car driver and boxing fan.

But scholarly Diaz Ordaz "was an athlete in his own right," says an aide. He played basketball and competed as a swimmer in high school, and likes to watch basketball games.

Like the typical Mexican, he is a boxing and soccer fan. When Mexican athletes compete in important meets or matches outside the country, the President sometimes sends them a pep-talk cable.

Virginia Tech Defeats West Virginia, 24-12

BLACKSBURG, VA. (UPI) — The kicking of sophomore Jack Simcsak provided the difference Saturday as Virginia Tech defeated West Virginia 27-12.

Simcsak booted field goals of 24 and 29 yards and added points after three touchdowns. His punting also kept the Mountaineers in poor field position most of the afternoon. Virginia Tech drew first blood when linebacker Mike Widger intercepted a pass by Mountaineer quarterback Mike Sherwood and returned it 74 yards for a touchdown late in the first quarter.

With seven seconds left in the first quarter Sherwood threw an eight-yard pass to fullback Jim Braxton at the end of a 79-yard drive for a West Virginia touchdown. Sherwood tossed a three-yard pass to tight end Jim Smith for the Mountaineers' second score after a 55-yard drive in the third quarter. Ken Juskowich missed the extra point and Tech led 13-12.

In the fourth period fullback Ken Edwards scored from four yards out on an 80-yard drive, and tailback Terry Smoot scored from three following a fumble recovery.

Army Conquers Bewildered Duke, 57-25

WEST POINT, N. Y. (UPI) — Halfback Lynn Moore, the forgotten man in Army's corps of hard-running backs, made his presence known Saturday by racing for four first-half touchdowns which triggered a smashing 57-25 conquest of Duke.

Moore, a 205-pound junior with the size of a fullback and speed and deception of halfback, did all the scoring in a three-touchdown first-quarter explosion which buried the Blue Devils.

The scores came within two minutes and nine seconds in the first period and lifted aroused Army to a 21-0 advantage from which bewildered Duke could never recover.

The Cadets, running up their highest scoring output in a decade, kept the offense rolling with three more touchdowns in the second period, one of them on a spectacular 97-yard pass interception return by Jim McCall, and another set up on an 87-yard punt return by speedy Bill Hunter.

The Westpointers, gaining their fourth win in six outings and first ever in Michie Stadium over Duke, marched 63 yards in 14 plays for their first score with Moore going around right end from four yards out with 8:25 remaining in the first period.

Three plays later, Army's Tom Wheelock received Duke quarterback Leo Hart's fumble on the 13 and Moore, running on first down, blasted around right end for his second touchdown.

On the following series of downs, Duke was forced to punt and Hunter took the kick by Wes Chesson on the Army 10, ran up the middle, bolted to the east sidelines and rambled almost to the goal.
