

This Christmas, Give Gay Prints by the "Ghoulies" Man

Karl Smith, of Greensboro, is one of North Carolina's outstanding creators of decorative prints.

The complete display of his work in our Print Room includes a number of Prayers and wall mottoes, including the famous "From Ghoulies and Ghosties" print, a collection of U.N.C. sketches, and illuminated maps of the Robert E. Lee country, the Lincoln country, North Carolina, and the United States.

The Price? Don't give it a thought. The smaller items are $1.00 each, the larger $1.25 each—and what more could you ask for Christmas?

Gardner-Webb Trounces Tar Babies, 93-80

Sharpshooter Butch Zatezalo

By DENNIS DENFIELD
DTH Sports Writer

BOILING SPRINGS, N.C.—If the Hong Kong flu ever hits western North Carolina, coach Bill Guthridge and the UNC Tar Babies might wish it'd hit here first. Gardner-Webb College's Bulldogs, spearheaded by 7-2 center Artis Gilmore's omnipotent 37-point show, penned a 93-80 victory over the Carolina freshman squad, which suffered its first setback of the season.

The Bulldogs showed the Chapel Hillians what it's really like to have a home court advantage.

Over 3,000 partisan fans licked their lips with glee as the home team snarled its way to a quick lead, which was never seriously challenged.

Gardner-Webb, behind Gilmore's point dipping and board dominance, broke a 2-2 tie—the closest Carolina ever came—with a 10 point spree early and blistered its way to its eighth straight victory, and Coach Danny Holbrook's 100th victory in his last 4 years here.

The Bulldogs, in addition to Gilmore, placed three men in double figures. Forward Emie Fleming tossed in 18 points, forward George Adams added 17 and guard Steve Tebeck contributed 13 to the Bulldogs. Dennis Wuyick added 14 points for the losers.

Gilmore and his mates made for 29 Tar Baby turnovers, as the UNC offense never really got started.

Carolina's frosh dropped to a 2-1 mark, while the bush league Bulldogs upped their record to 8-0.

Zatezalo Takes Aim At Heels As Clemson Invades Monday

By OWEN DAVIS
DTH Sports Editor

A tough guy named Butch brings his six-gun into Chapel Hill Monday night, aiming to shoot down the baskets at Carmichael Auditorium.

Butch Zatezalo, defending Atlantic Coast Conference scoring champion, will carry along four pals on the Clemson Tigers to face Carolina in the first ACC shootout for both schools.

Zatezalo is the chief gunner in the conference, shooting from almost anywhere on the court. He is averaging more than 18 points a game this season after topping the ACC last year with a 23.0 average.

Zatezalo, who took more shots than the next two players on the squad last season, hit only 36.7 percent from the field.

But a tougher starting corps has reduced Zatezalo's sometimes poor shooting attempts, and this year's Clemson team has more balance than the 1967-68 team which finished 4-20.

A very good center for his size, 6-7 Richie Mahaffey, gives the Tigers scoring power inside. But Mahaffey is the tallest man on the team, and Clemson will probably get killed on the boards by the tall Tar Heels.

Tiger forwards are small. Returning starter Trip Jones, 6-5, averaged 9.9 points a game last year but got only 72 rebounds in 24 games. Junior college transfer Ronnie Yates broke into the lineup with good pre-season play, but he's just 6-4.

Thus Clemson's 6-7, 6-5, 6-4 front line goes against a 6-10, 6-8, 6-5 front for the Tar Heels.

Zatezalo is only 5-11 as one of the starting guards, and he joins sophomore John Coakley in the backcourt. Coakley was high scorer on last year's freshman team.

Clemson is 1-1 for the season, having defeated Georgia Tech in its opener and then losing 86-85 to Pete Maravich and Louisiana State at home.

Carolina, which hasn't played since last Monday, will open ACC play with a 4-0 record.

Coach Dean Smith talks about a better balanced Clemson and the scoring of Zatezalo, but he knows his rebounders will make the boards' battle a farce.

And as against Oregon, Kentucky and Vandy, that means a Tar Heel victory.

Dolphins Drown Maryland, 70-43

By PETE LEWIS
DTH Sports Writer

Carolina swimmers continued their winning ways with a smashing victory over Maryland yesterday, 70 to 43.

What Coach Pat Earey had termed their "severest test of the season," appeared to be an easy victory.

Anchor fresh uncooked cranberries, using toothpicks, around the rim of grapefruit halves.

The Dolphins won 8 of 13 events including both halves of the diving competition.

Cuch Humphrey took two strong firsts in the 1 and 3 meter dives with Steve Neff finishing third in the 1 meter and fourth in the 3 meter.

Earey felt the meet "was under control when we won the Medley relay."

The anticipated strength of Maryland's Dave Heim in the 1000 and 500 freestyle gave the Terps 2 of their 5 victories.

Gary Coodner of Maryland upset Dave Ball in the 200 freestyle and Richard Williams was upset by Accornero in the 200 breaststroke.

Doug Behrman continued his comeback from a broken arm with two excellent legs on both relays.

Modestly Behrman said, "Maryland wasn't as strong as I thought they would be. Of course I'm happy. It was a great meet."

Freshmen Chambers and Bedell added two victories to Carolina's list. Chambers won the 200 individual medley and Bedell the 200 butterfly.

Ole Miss Trounces VPI In Liberty Bowl, 34-17

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—The Mississippi Rebels, trailing by two touchdowns in the first two minutes, came from behind on a 79-yard run by Steve Hindman in the opening seconds of the third period Saturday and went on to beat Virginia Tech 34-17 in the tenth annual Liberty Bowl.

The Rebels had battled from a 17-0 deficit to within three points, 17-14, at halftime on two second period touchdown passes by sophomore quarterback Archie Manning.

Then, on the first play after the second half kickoff, Hindman, a senior tailback, swept his right end behind perfect blocking and scored to put Ole Miss into the lead.

The Rebels padded that lead early in the final period when monster man Robert Bailey intercepted an Al Kincaid pass and raced 70 yards for a touchdown, a Liberty Bowl record for a pass interception return.

Mississippi, appearing in a bowl game for the 12th consecutive year, then, in the final period, tacked on field goals of 43 and 46 yards by Van Brown, who also kicked the Rebs' four conversions.

Virginia Tech messed up an onside kickoff attempt after Simcsak's field goal and the Rebels got the ball at midfield. Manning led them in to their first touchdown, which came on his 21-yard pass to Hank Shows 30 seconds after the second period began.

Later in the period Manning threw a 23-yard touchdown pass to Leon Felts.

The final score was not a true indication of how completely John Vaught's Ole Miss team dominated the play after Virginia Tech's early splurge. The Rebels were held for downs at the Tech one-foot line in the second period and again at the Tech two late in the fourth.
