

Carolina Thinclads Compete In Stacked Florida Relays

By CHRIS COBBS
DTH Sports Writer

Carolina's Mike Canzonieri, a precocious sort at track, may be in for an advanced lesson on the art of sprinting this afternoon in the Florida Relays.

The freshman dash specialist is part of a nine man Tar Heel contingent entered in the mammoth Gainesville attraction featuring over 50 universities.

He will race on light weight kangaroo racing spikes in hopes of equalling or bettering his best-ever time of 9.7 seconds in the 100 yard dash.

"There will be half a dozen boys who have done 9.5 or faster," Carolina Coach Joe Hilton said, "so Mike will need a real good effort."

Winged-ankle runners from such track powers as Kansas and Tennessee promise to make the sprint championships highly competitive.

The other events should be the same, with Carolina entered in the mile relay, two mile relay and sprint medley relay.

The UNC thinclads are in the field along with most of the other Atlantic Coast Conference schools, as well as teams from the Southern and Southeastern Conferences. Kansas, Michigan, Yale and Harvard are other contestants.

Canzonieri did the 100 in 9.8 in a meet at Clemson last Saturday in Carolina's first outdoor competition of the Spring.

"He's not in peak condition yet," Hilton said, "but running 9.8 on cinders he should beat that on an all-weather track like the Relays are held on.

An informal meet staged by the remainder of the team will be held this afternoon on Fetzer Field.

Meanwhile the Tar Heels will enter Canzonieri, Richard Smith, Terry Sellers and Kenny Helms in the sprint medley relay; Alex Covington, Kent Awtry, Clayton Lynch and Helms in the two mile relay; and Pryor, Smith, Sellers and Covington or Awtry in the mile relay.

Sonny Kornegay will compete in the triple jump.

Golfers Top Virginia Tech

The Carolina golfers increased their record to 2-0 Friday by defeating Virginia Tech at Finley Golf Course.

Coach Ed Kenny's golfers lost only one individual match as they solidly outclassed the visiting Gobblers, 17-7.

VPI's Bill Herbert took the lone victory for his team, besting Carolina sophomore Marty West, 3-0. Jim Barnes got UNC the winning trail by posting a similar 3-0 win over Tech's Bill Dingell.

The following two individual matches ended in a tie with UNC's Gene Phipps and Harry Welker deadlocking VPI's Arch McDowell and Steve Forest, respectively, 1 1/2-1 1/2 each.

Carolina's Joe Hackler got the Tar Heels back on the winning road by shutting out Tech's Vic Turner, 3-0, while Dave Bevaqua of UNC edged Bill Nash, 2-1.

The final two matches provided shutouts for the Tar Heels, as veterans Glen Staropoli and Bill Brackett whitewashed John Osborne and Dave Hardwick, respectively, 3-0. The golfers will journey to Wake Forest to take on the powerful Deacons on Tuesday.

Kenny Looks For Strong Link Campaign

By GIL TUNNELL
Special to the DTH

Lack of weather for practice seems to be the only worry of UNC Golf Coach Ed Kenny. His seven-man team will begin its ACC schedule Tuesday, April 1, with Wake Forest there.

"The ACC is a real good golf conference," Kenny said. "Wake Forest is probably the best team, and Duke, South Carolina, and Maryland should really be strong."

But Kenny quickly added that UNC should do well, too. The coach announced that his top three men are

"These three played real well in the Ohio match March 17," Kenny said. "All three are under par. The whole team played well and we won easily, 18 1/2-2 1/2."

Golfers on the remaining tentative playing order are sophomores Harry Welker and Joe Hackler, and juniors Chip Donahue, and Dave Bevaqua. Other men on the UNC team are John Vanderbloemen, Glen Staropoli, Bryce Beard, Bill Brackett, Bill Batchelor, and Trip Maffett.

"The team members pick themselves by their stroke play, and play in that order," explained Kenny, who has been at UNC for 20 years.

The coach said that his main strength is plenty of depth.

"We've got a seven-man team, but there are 14 good men on the squad. I feel this is one of our strongest points," he said.

"We lost five men last year, including our No. 1 player, Charlie Lynch," Kenny said. Others lost were Brook Carter, Jim Hickman, Buzzy Talbert, and Lance Richardson.

The team's overall 1968 record was 9-3. Carolina finished fourth in the ACC tournament.

"Every once in a while a coach gets a super team," Kenny said. "Wake Forest has had one for the last three years. But I look for a better finish from us this year."

Other matches on the UNC schedule include Davidson, April 14 and 21; N.C. State, April 18; Virginia April 24; Maryland, April 25; Clemson, April 28; South Carolina, April 29; and Duke, May 6.

The ACC Golf Tournament will be held May 8-10 in Raleigh.

Kappa Psi Edges TEP

By MIKE LEAFE
DTH Sports Writer

The PIKA Goofballs were batty, that is to say power-packed, as they crushed the SAE White team by a 20-1 score. Needless to say, no SAE laughed over any Goofball antics.

The Beta No-Sox were barely edged by Chi Phi Black, 7-6, while the Navy DD's never gave the Kappa Psi red team a chance to fight back as they demolished their foe, 10-0.

Phi Delt Blue score 1, 6 and 7 runs in the first three innings while holding the Lambda Chi Alphas scoreless in a 14-0 rout.

Kappa Psi Blue scored four runs in each of the first two innings and then held on as TEP Blue came roaring back to narrow the count with 4 runs in the third inning and two in the fourth. Time ran out on the TEPs, though, as Kappa Psi escaped with the 8-6 victory.

Other fraternity scores: Chi Phi Blue 3-Phi Delta Chi Blue 0; Chi Phi Red 5-Phi Gam White Owls 2; ZBT Blue 6-ATP Blue 1; Chi Psi Blue 10-St. A Blue 1; Phi Kappa Sig 9 (Johnson Winning pitcher)-Pi Kappa Phi Blue 3; Sigma Nu White 11-AK Psi 3; Pi Lam White 11-ATO White 7; Kappa Sig Blue 8-Phi Sigma Kap 1; DKE Blue 14-Beta Blue 3; DU Blue 15-AK Psi Blue 3; ZBT Diggins 20-DU Easter Seals 7.

Fogler Wanted In Games

Carolina's little Eddie Fogler is among the leading candidates who are vying to compete in this summer's Maccabean Games in Israel.

Fogler, a 5-11 starter guard for the Tar Heels this season, is currently in New York for the Maccabean tryouts.

The games are scheduled for late July and early August.

Other noted college players also attending the tryouts are Florida's Neal Walk, Boston College's Billy Evans, Don Safer of UCLA and Steve Bilsky of Penn.

AFROTC Instructs Flying Club Here

Members of the Chapel Hill Flying Club of UNC are receiving ground school instruction from the UNC-based AFROTC, according to Johann Sonner, vice president of the Flying Club.

The Chapel Hill Flying Club was incorporated in 1961 as a non-profit campus organization to promote aviation education and safety.

The club operates out of Horace Williams Airport in Chapel Hill and owns three airplanes, a Cessna Skyhawk, a Champion Citabria and a Aeronca Champ. Club membership consists primarily of UNC students and faculty members.

Eight places in the annual AFROTC ground school are being filled by Flying Club members who are learning the basic fundamentals of aerodynamics, meteorology, navigation and Federal Aviation Association (FAA) regulations.

The course prepares the student pilot for the written part of the FAA examination required for the private pilot license.

Eisenhower

"continues almost imperceptibly downhill" from the effects of congestive heart failure—the heart's inability to pump enough blood to nourish the body with adequate oxygen.

At 12:45 p.m., after Nixon, former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Lyndon B. Johnson and Eisenhower's two surviving brothers, Milton and Edgar, had been notified, Hughes began the final announcement with quavering voice:

"General of the Army Dwight David Eisenhower, 34th President of the United States, died at 12:25 this afternoon after a long and heroic battle against overwhelming illness..."

Eisenhower had suffered seven heart attacks, the first on Sept. 24, 1955, toward the end of his first term as President and the seventh last Aug. 16.
