Oldest Mixed Chorus To Perform In Raleigh

On Dec. 2 and 3 in Reynolds Coliseum, the oldest mixed chorus in Sweden, The Stockholm University Chorus, will perform under the auspices of The Friends of the College.

Founded in 1931, it is composed mostly of students from Stockholm. The Chorus has participated in several tours to such countries as Germany, Austria, England, Finland, Italy and Poland. Their enormously successful first North American tour occurred during the Spring of 1967.

The Chorus has had the honor of performing during state visits to Sweden by various foreign dignitaries and heads of state such as Britain's Queen Elizabeth, Queen Juliana of the Netherlands, the King and Queen of Thailand and the President of Finland. In addition, the group has appeared at Nobel Prize ceremonies, the most recent being Dec. 10, 1967, in the Stockholm Concert Hall.

Last September, the Chorus opened the Stockholm Music Festival with a work by the Danish composer Langgaard. Although Scandinavian composers are well represented in their repertoire of approximately 600 numbers, the Chorus also performs the works of Brahms, Kodaly, Debussy, Ravel, Britten, Monteverdi, Handel and Orff.

The Stockholm University Chorus attained widespread recognition and its high standing under the direction of Johannes Norrby, who was its conductor from 1943-1964, at which time its present conductor, Eskil Hemberg, assumed his choral duties with the group. Maestro Hemberg is, in addition, producer at Sweden's Radio, and well-known as a composer of choral music.

Tickets for the concert are now on sale at the Carolina Union Information Desk at $1.00 per person.

'Alliance' Sponsors Two French Plays

The Alliance Francaise will sponsor a single performance of two contemporary French plays tonight at 8 o'clock in Memorial Hall.

This will be a benefit performance for the annual Alliance Francaise Scholarship. "Huis Clos," translated "No Exit," was written by Jean-Paul Sartre, whose novels, plays and philosophical essays have influenced a whole generation of writers and students.

The second play, "Si Camille Me Voyait" written in verse by Roland Dubillard earned for Dubillard the reputation of being one of France's most outstanding dramatists. He is also recognized as a poet and an actor, and is the recipient of the French Critics Award for the best play of the year.

The French troupe is composed of five actors under the direction of Madame Tania Balachova. One of the actors, Claude Romain, played with Alex Guinness in the film "To Paris With Love."

The proceeds will go for the $1,000 Alliance Francaise Scholarship awarded annually to a North Carolina secondary school teacher of French. This scholarship allows the recipient to study and travel in France for a summer.

The Alliance Francaise was founded in 1958 by a group interested in preserving their ties with France. The organization is a member of the Federation of the Alliances Francaise whose purpose it is to promote French culture and inform members with a library of the latest books and periodicals, as well as send lecturers all over the world.

Student tickets for the performance are available at Carolina Union information desk for $1.50.

Canadians Arrive Thursday

Thursday 30 students from the University of Toronto will arrive in Chapel Hill to begin their annual rendezvous with UNC.

Their four-day visit will include such activities as a soul-food dinner, a tea at the Governor's mansion in Raleigh and the Carolina-Duke game.

The Canadians will be hosted by 30 UNC students and five alternatives who are participating in the Exchange program.

Over the past six weeks, these students have planned the activities for this weekend, beginning with a welcome crowd at the Morehead Planetarium, where the Canadians will arrive after a 24-hour bus ride.

The UNC students participating in the exchange program will visit Toronto during their semester break in January. There they will be hosted by the same students at the University of Toronto.

Most of the activities planned for the Exchange this weekend are open to the public. A schedule of events will be published daily.

The Toronto Exchange was founded over 11 years as an attempt for Canadians and Americans to learn more about one another. It is traditionally held the weekend of the Carolina-Duke game.

UNC STUDENTS, YOU ARE BEING WATCHED.

We've seen a few of you trying to get into our Chapel Hill Main Office between 1 and 3 in the afternoon. So, from now on, we're going to leave an express teller window open from 1 to 3. This means you can bank all day. From 9 to 5 Mondays through Thursdays. From 9 to 6 Fridays. At the NCNB Main Office in Chapel Hill. And if other banks start doing this, we hope you'll remember which one responded to your needs first.

North Carolina National Bank is there when you need it.
