

Tar Babies Defeat W&M

By RUSTY CARTER
DTH Asst. Sports Editor

A barrage of hot-handed shooting during the final minutes of play enabled Carolina's freshman basketballers to come from behind and clip the Indians of William and Mary College 76-68 last night.

What began as quite a drab affair in Greensboro's Coliseum ended in tension for Coach Bill Guthridge and his Tar Babies. And nearly resulted in their second defeat in two straight outings.

The Blue and White freshmen found themselves down by 10 points with 13 minutes remaining in the contest and little life showing in their attack. But when it was getting a little late to think of winning unless something happened fast, scholarship hoopsters George Karl and Bob Johnston provided the winning spark.

Two buckets each and one a 3-pointer for Johnston narrowed the margin to 51-49 in only three minutes. Just prior to leaving the game on fouls Karl swiped a William and Mary pass and fed John Austin to cut the edge to 1 point at 6:26.

The Tar Babies finally overcame the edge on Ronnie Moffitt's basket at 5:40 to make the mark 56-55 UNC. With team leader Karl on the bench Julian Dempsey and Moffitt along with Johnston manned the attack to a winning finish.

Carolina opened the gap to 5 points at 1:55 forcing the Indians to foul in desperation. But UNC proved accurate from the charity line as well. The Tar Babies hit on 5 of 6 after 1:20 to close the doors on the W&M attempt.

Austin led the scoring for the Tar Babies with 15 points followed by Johnston with 13. Karl, not playing at his usual speed, had 11 as did Moffitt. But Dempsey's 6, Stafford's 8 and Norris Crigler's 3 were crucial in the rally.

The freshmen had earlier in the first half built up a 5 point lead, but Guthridge, apparently displeased with the quint's performance, substituted a new lineup at 8:25 William and Mary then climbed to a 24-22 margin. The Heels did not recover by halftime and trailed 31-28 when the pause came.

Leading marksman for the game was W&M's Davis who hit for 31. He was trailed by Moore with 17 and Strong with 5.

The close win over the Indians was the fourth victory for Guthridge's youngsters against only one loss. The Tar Babies have crushed East Carolina, Laurinburg Institute and Davidson while losing only to Duke.

Dentist: Brushing Alone Ineffective

A small town dentist recently told 1200 of his colleagues from across the country that toothbrushing by itself is ineffective in preventing tooth decay.

Delivering the main address at the University's 15th annual Dental Seminar last Wednesday, Dr. Robert F. Barkley of McComb, Illinois, said, "even if most people brushed their teeth between bites they would keep right on having dental disease."

Dr. Barkley stressed the fact toothbrushing helps prevent decay only if used in conjunction with a strict program of other cleaning and disease control procedures.

To clean teeth and keep them clean, Dr. Barkley uses a fine, strong thread, two-ended toothpicks that fit on a special handle and a fine-bristled brush whose bristles penetrate into the tiny crevices between the teeth and "wiggle" food out.

In addition, Dr. Barkley often places his patients on special diets to keep them from getting cavities.

In his speech, Dr. Barkley attacked the way many dentists tell their patients to brush their teeth and then concern themselves only with drilling, filling and pulling.

"Decay doesn't make people lose teeth," Dr. Markley commented. "Dentists make people lose teeth."

He said dentists find many ingenious devices to hold false teeth in place but added, "nothing is so ingenious to hold teeth in place as the roots."

Using his keen wit and sharp tongue to get his belief in preventive dentistry across the audience, Dr. Barkley added, "we tell people to do something that doesn't work, and then we tell them to do it after every meal."

Today, 22 million Americans are without teeth, and Dr. Barkley commented that number will increase to 50 million by the year 2000.

Dr. Barkley spends much of his time travelling and speaking to audiences across the country about his new concept in preventive dentistry, and he is the author of the controversial publication, "Toothbrushing—The Hoax of of American Dentistry."

James Bawden, Dean of the UNC Dental School, Saturday said Dr. Barkley has a very good approach to taking care of his patients.

"More dentists are working toward the prevention of disease now," Bawden commented, "but Dr. Barkley is still a year or two ahead of the others."

What are you going to do with yourself over winter break?

(Go to the Bahamas? Go to Panama City or Lauderdale? Or--worse yet--go nowhere?)

O.K., here's something new: snow skiing. Dynamite.

Now, the purpose of this hype is to get you to talk your folks into financing a little getaway to the mountains. Read on.

Being from the South, when you think of skiing, you naturally think of water skiing. Forget it. This is snow skiing. The best. Ah, but you say that that means Vermont or Colorado or some other foreign place like that? Nope.

We mean Beech Mountain, N.C. Yeah, North Carolina. Beech has the highest slopes east of the Rockies, and that includes Vermont. And Beech has ten different slopes, from beginner to advanced, with lifts to service each one. There are cozy places where you can get some good chow and something to drink, or maybe just sit around and get warm.

Beech also has a lot of single people all over the mountain, all winter long. If you are male, that means that there are a significant number of females with whom you can become acquainted, and vice versa, if you can dig it. If you don't know how to ski, we'll teach you. If you don't have any equipment, we'll rent it to you, cheap. If you do have your own equipment, what are you waiting for?

So here's the pitch: Beech Mountain features a gift certificate which entitles you to two days of skiing. The package includes your lift fees and complete equipment rental. All for under thirty dollars. (A lot less if you have your own skis and stuff.) You'll also get a jacket patch and a button which bears the catchy, ad game phrase "One Good Beechkommer Deserves Another." Wear it proudly and all that jive. Even when you figure up your own food, lodging and transportation, it's still cheaper than the Bahamas. Now, cut the coupon out, write your name on it, etc., and mail it to us. We'll shoot through with some brochures and stuff that will explain what's happening.

Bahamas? P.C.? Lauderdale? Tell those scenes to kiss off. This winter, go to Beech Mountain and ski. End of ad.

O.K., send me all those brochures and things so I can ponder this skiing business in my heart of hearts.
