Football Club Unbeaten

The Tar Heel varsity is not the only undefeated football team on the Carolina campus.

The UNV football club, 6-0 victor over N.C. State last week in its first game, also holds that distinction.

The contact football squad, organized last spring to fill a void between varsity-level and intramural-touch football, does not have a nickname yet.

It has a coach, however, and he's Peter Davis, former end and freshman coach with the Carolina varsity.

It also has a lot of enthusiasm. Some 30 team members bought forth $100 worth of equipment and insurance apiece in order to participate.

Law students and other graduate students make up about one-third of the squad while undergrad constitute the remainder.

All received physical examinations prior to beginning workouts.

This week the club plays East Carolina in a game scheduled for 7:00 p.m. Friday on the varsity baseball field.

The UNC club is a member along with ECU and State of the North Carolina Club Football Association.

Heels Break Into AP Top 20

by Howie Carr
Sports Writer

Coach Bill Dooley's Tar Heel football team, coming off a 53-20 pasting of Maryland, moved into the Associated Press sportswriters' Top Twenty this week, capturing the number nineteen position.

The United Press International Poll, composed of football coaches, still failed to include the Tar Heels in the Top Twenty.

Ohio State, which walloped Texas A&M in its season opener, held on to first place by a slim margin over runner-up Texas, a 35-13 victory over Texas Tech. The Buckeyes garnered 782 points of the Longhorns' 758 in the AP rankings.

Stanford retained the number three position with a 33-10 victory over Oregon. Notre Dame moved up two slots to fourth by crushing UPI's sixteenth-ranked Purdue, 48-0. The Boilermakers dropped out of the UPI Top Twenty.

Fifth-ranked Southern Cal also advanced a couple of notches with a 48-0 trouncing of Iowa. Nebraska, now in sixth place, used a 28-0 victory over Army to gain two positions, while Mississippi, victors in a 20-17 squeaker over Kentucky, dropped two notches to seventh.

Rounding out the Top Ten were Colorado, 41-13 upset winners over Penn State; Michigan, and Air Force, which drubbed a highly-touted Missouri team, 37-14.

The UPI poll listed the following as its Top Ten: 1. Ohio State; 2. Texas; 3. Notre Dame; 4. Southern Cal; 5. Stanford; 6. Nebraska; 7. Colorado; 8. Mississippi; 9. Michigan; 10. Air Force.

The Associated Press rounded out its Top Twenty with the Arkansas Razorbacks in eleventh on the strength of a 49-7 win over Tulsa.

Defeating Tennessee 36-23, Auburn simultaneously knocked the Vols out of the Top Twenty and propelled themselves to twelfth. Thirteenth-ranked UCLA slid past Northwestern, 12-7, while number fourteen West Virginia smacked VMI 47-10.

Georgia Tech claimed the fifteenth slot by virtue of a 31-21 victory over Miami, Fla. Penn State, smarting from its loss of Colorado, dropped from fourth to sixteenth.

It looked the mid-sixties as Alabama muscled its way to number seventeen, bumping Florida off the Top Twenty, with a 46-15 victory.

Eighteenth-ranked Arizona State handed Kansas State a 35-13 shellacking while the Tar Heels laced Maryland to gain nineteenth.

Losing to Air Force, Missouri fell eleven places to number twenty.

Richardson Honored

McCauley Is Top Back

For the second time this year and fourth time in two seasons, the ACC sportswriters have honored Tar Heel tailback Don McCauley with the title of offensive back of the week.

McCauley earned the award with 123 yards in 22 carries in Carolina's 53-20 blitz of Maryland Saturday.

Defensive guard Bill Richardson was selected defensive lineman of the week after an equally brilliant performance at Maryland.

Richardson made 10 individual tackles, camped out in the Terp backfield for four tackles behind the line of scrimmage, and caused two of Maryland's five fumbles.

Neither McCauley nor Richardson needed much time to mount these impressive totals. McCauley only played about half the game, and Richardson was in for a mere 41 defensive plays.

McCauley crossed the goal line twice at Maryland, once on a four-yard pass from John Swofford. He dived over from one yard out for the other score, giving him 24 points in three games and the conference scoring leadership.

The 211-pound senior leads the conference with an average of 151.3 yards a game. He rushed for 160 yards in the opener against Kentucky to merit his first back of the week award of the year.

McCauley's best game was against State, where he ran through, over and around the Pack for 171 yards. He was forced to sit out much of the second half because of the 90-degree heat.

At 206 pounds, Richardson is smaller than most defensive linemen. He almost singlehandedly wrecked Maryland's offense, however, after the Terps drove for an early score.

Other ACC award winners were Duke's wide receiver Wes Chesson, named lineman of the week, and defensive back Bo Davies of South Carolina, who intercepted two passes at State Saturday and took defensive back of the week honors.

UNC quarterback John Swofford received prominent mention after piloting UNC to a 33-6 halftime lead and completing four of five passes for 70 yards.

Swofford and Richardson received special recognition from the Tar Heel coaching staff, which praised their play after viewing films of the Maryland game.

UNC Harriers Top South Carolina, 27-32

by Mark Whicker
Sports Writer

Carolina's cross-country team took seven of the first ten positions in beating South Carolina 27-32 in Columbia Monday afternoon.

The Heels go for their second win Friday in a tri-meet at Raleigh against Virginia and State.

Junior Larry Widgeon captured first place for UNC with a time of 28:34 over the sandy, 5.3 mile course. However, the Gamecocks won second, third and fourth.

Larry Schemelia ran a 29:06 and was closely followed by teammates Schapier and Dalton, at 29:30 and 29:33.

However, Coach Joe Hilton's harriers exhibited their depth and youth in sweeping the rest of the top ten.

Pat Grady finished fifth with a time of 29:37, and then came four Carolina freshmen.

Tony Waldrop (29:44), Steve Grahtwohl (30:26), Mike Caldwell (31:08) and Roy Helm (31:33), all first-year men, closed the door on the Gamecocks.

"We have no way of knowing how good the times are," said Hilton, "because the course was very sandy and slow."

"Also, most of the rest of the courses are only five miles long, and the officials down there weren't really sure of the exact length of their course."

"However," Hilton concluded, "our boys did a real good job, and we're proud of them."

The Tar Heels will face a strong challenge in Raleigh Friday. Jimmy Wilkins of Roxboro, winner of the mile run in the state high school track meet last year, has joined Gareth Hayes and Neil Ackley on an improving Wolfpack team.

Virginia's main threats are Ricky Katz and Phil Meyer.

Hilton said that the State course is similar to Carolina's Finley Gold Course trail.
