

Orioles Sting Reds In Series

CINCINNATI (UPI)—The Baltimore Orioles stung Gary Nolan for homers by Boog Powell, Ellie Hendricks and Brooks Robinson Saturday to overpower Cincinnati's heralded "Big Red Machine" 4-3 in the first game of the 1970 World Series.

But the Orioles needed the help of a controversial decision by National League umpire Ken Burkhart, who called Bernie Carbo out at the plate in the sixth inning with the score tied to create a heated argument as the crowd of 51,531 booed.

The Orioles, outthomered 191 to 179 by the Reds this season, fell behind 3-0 at the end of three innings as the Reds' Lee May hit a two-run homer in the third inning.

But Powell's two-run homer in the fourth and Hendricks' solo shot in the fifth tied the game 3-3 before Brooks Robinson, who was 1-for-19 in last year's World Series, homered on a 0-1 pitch with one out in the seventh to win the game.

Jim Palmer, who allowed five hits in 8 2-3 innings, survived a rocky start and gained the second series victory of his career. He was lifted after walking Pete Rose on four pitches with two out in the ninth and Pete Richert came on to retire Bobby Tolan on a soft liner to shortstop Mark Belanger to end the game.

The Orioles won the first game of last year's series but then lost four straight to the New York Mets.

The Reds got only one hit over the final six innings but that one hit—Tommy Helms' hit-and-run single with one out in the sixth-put runners on first and third with one out and the score tied 3-3 and set up the most talked about play of the game.

Ty Cline, a hero of the Reds' three-game sweep over Pittsburgh in the playoffs, then was sent up by Manager Sparky Anderson to bat for shortstop Woody Woodward.

Cline hit a chopper that bounced high in front of the plate on the spongy, wet astroturf. This was the first series game ever played on an artificial surface and Carbo—who had walked with one out—streaked to the plate as catcher Hendricks waited for the ball to come down.

After he grabbed the ball, Hendricks spun and dived towards the plate in an attempt to tag Carbo, who was trying to slide around him. Burkhart, who was working behind the plate, stumbled as he fell back away from the plate and ruled that Hendricks had tagged Carbo out.

Carbo immediately jumped on and started screaming at Burkhart with his arms waving up and down. Anderson dashed from the dugout, pushed Carbo away and then continued the argument. The Reds tossed towels from the dugout but Burkhart remained firm in his decision.

The major league umpires agreed to work the series this week when they signed a four-year contract that ended a long dispute.

Burkhart's decision left the score tied 2-2 with runners on first and second with two out and pitcher Nolan coming up.

Judge Mattocks Rushes Gamecock Passer

Jones Leads Duke Upset

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI)—Sophomore fullback Steve Jones scored two touchdowns on short runs and led a strong running attack which carried Duke to a 21-13 upset victory Saturday over previously unbeaten West Virginia.

The Duke Blue Devils, rated 13-point underdogs, surprised West Virginia by turning from the passing of Leo Hart to the rushing of Jones and halfback Bill Thompson to nap the Mountaineers' 4-0 season record and two-year 10-game winning streak.

West Virginia quarterback Mike Sherwood scored two touchdowns a three-yard keeper plays and broke a 15 year record for total offense at the university.

Pete Wood, the West Virginia fullback, who gained 526 yards in four previous games, suffered a knee injury in the first quarter and was taken out of the game.

Jones plunged five yards through the right side of the West Virginia line at 4:58 of the second period to cap a 56-yard, five-play drive and give Duke a 14-7 lead. The sophomore ripped off gains of 13 and 14 yards in the drive.

Jones drove four yards into the end zone with 4:30 elapsed in the fourth quarter to give the Blue Devils the clinching touchdown and a 21-7 lead. The touchdown came at the end of an 82-yard, 12-play drive sparked by two long gains by Thompson.

Jones' 34-yard kickoff return set the stage for Duke's first touchdown drive a 56-yard, 18-play march. On fourth down and goal to go, Brad Evans too a pitchout from Hart and ran untouched around the left side three yards into the end zone.

WHAT EVER IT TAKES COGGIN GIVES
COGGIN PONTIAC

4018 Durham—Chapel Hill Blvd.
Chapel Hill—929-4900
Durham—489-6531

Back to school news for all Students. Coggin Pontiac would like to welcome you to this area and invite you to visit our large up-to-date Service Department where we offer the finest and most complete Automotive Service on any make of automobile with Factory Trained Technicians. We also offer a large fenced area for automobile storage. Hours of operation are from 7:30 to 5:30 Monday through Friday.

Sherwood's first scoring run capped an 81-yard, 19-play drive after the opening kickoff and gave him the yardage to surpass, in three years of play, the 3,426 yard rolled up by Fred Wyatt in four years between 1952 and 1955.

Sherwood's second touchdown came with 6:06 to go in the game and closed the gap to 21 to 13, but the Mountaineers did not get the ball again until the game had 54 seconds to go.

Ump Missed It, Says Reds Carbo

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Rookie Bernie Carbo said he seldom argues with an umpire but when he was called out in the sixth inning at home plate "I'm sure the umpire couldn't have seen the play."

"The umpire was between me and home plate and was looking the other way when I slid into the plate," Carbo emphasized.

The controversial play—key to the Orioles' opening game victory over the Reds—came in the sixth inning with the score tied at 3-3 when Carbo attempted to score from third base on a chopper just in front of the plate by pinch-hitter Ty Cline. Orioles Catcher Ellie Hendricks had to wait for the ball to come down, then grabbed it, and dived in an attempt to tag out the sliding Carbo.

National league umpire Ken Burkhart, a former major league pitcher, was knocked down on the play. But as he fell his thumb went up in the "out" sign.

And the protests roared—by Carbo, by Reds' manager Sparky Anderson, and by the Reds' bench-riders who tossed towels out on the field.

Burkhart says Hendricks tagged out Carbo "with both hands—a two-handed tag." Hendricks says he tagged him with the ball in his bare hand.

Carbo says there is "no way" Hendricks could have tagged him at all, and Johnny Bench of the Reds suggests, "maybe Hendricks tagged Burkhart."

Anderson told reporters after the game "the umpire didn't beat us, Baltimore did."

But he was quick to add that he didn't think Hendricks could have tagged Carbo from his position.

Burkhart defended his controversial call, claiming that Hendricks "absolutely tagged him (Carbo)."

"It was one of those tough calls," he said. "I had to make the call on whether the ball was fair or foul on the hit, that was No. 1. It was fair by that much."

Asked how he managed to see the tag over his shoulder as he was falling, Burkhart said, "I don't remember how I saw it, but I saw it. It was one of those unusual plays—one in a million. I did my best to call it right."

Burkhart said Carbo had "hit me on the leg" as he started the slide.

Outfielder Pete Rose, the Reds team captain, said he "couldn't blame the umpire" on the call and refused to make it an excuse for losing.

Rose did say, however, that he had never seen Anderson as angry as he was on the call.

"Sparky never go that upset all season," Rose commented. "Usually he would just talk to an umpire on a close call, but today he was really mad."

Losing pitcher Gary Nolan commented that "I don't think the umpire could have seen the play" but declined to comment on whether he felt Carbo was safe.

"He made what he thought was the correct call and that's all there is to it," he said.

Nolan, who struck out seven Oriole batters and gave up all four runs before Anderson lifted him in the seventh, said he was disappointed with his performance.

"I don't think I threw the ball very well today," the young righthander said. "The home runs to Powell and Hendricks were fast balls, but the one Robinson hit out was a pretty good pitch, a change-up."

Asked if he had noticed the Reds throwing towels on the field and whether he thought to punish them for it, Burkhart said:

"I didn't see it. I wasn't looking for trouble. I had enough trouble of my own."

Incomparable Archie Sinks Georgia 31-21

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI)—The incomparable Archie Manning passed for three touchdowns and scored another himself Saturday as sixth-ranked Mississippi came from behind in the final period to beat Georgia, 31-21.

Manning threw a 66-yard scoring bomb to Vernon Studdard the first time the Rebels had the football, ran over from three yards out with 4:40 left in the first half, then passed for 52 and nine yards to Floyd Franks and Jim Poole respectively the final period.

The favored Rebel didn't take the lead for keeps, however, until a misplayed kickoff by the Bulldogs set up Cloyce Hinton's 36-yard field goal with 11:41 left in the game.

On the kickoff following Manning's long strike to Franks, the ball bounced over the would-be Georgia receivers and Ronnie Moses grabbed the ball for the Rebels at the Bulldog seven-yard line. Hinto came on to put the Rebels in front when the Bulldogs pushed Ole Miss back to the Georgia 19.

The aroused Bulldogs, who have won only once in their last nine games, were very much in the ball game up to that point.

A 41-yard march after Buzy Rosenberg made the first of three interceptions of Manning passes, was climaxed by a nine yard run by Julian Smiley to tie the score at 7-7 with 1:35 left in the first period.

The Bulldogs marched 60 yards the next time they got the ball with Rovert Honeycutt going over from a yard out to give Georgia 14-7 lead.

Ole Miss had three chances to regain the lead in the third period but was unable to cash in and Georgia leaped into the lead for the last time, at 21-14, with 1:18 left in the period after Bill Darby's 67-yard pass interception return put the Bulldogs deep in Old Miss territory.

Georgia fumbled in the Ole Miss end zone on the first try but got the ball back immediately in an interception. Mike Cavan then passed six yards to Smiley to give the partisan, overflow crowd of 59,130 visions of a major upset.

Manning, figuring enough was enough, immediately led Ole Miss on an 85-yard drive which he capped with the long pass to Franks, which, like the first-period bomb to Studdard, caught the Georgia defense napping.

And when the Rebels got the ball back on the ensuing kickoff, it quickly became only a question of how the Ole Miss margin would be.

Next to Old Book Corner
137 E. Rosemary Street

Carofista
JEWELRY DESIGNERS

Crest Rings
Wedding Bands
Engagement Rings
Diamonds—other gems
Custom work at no extra charge.

10-6 p.m. Tues.—Sat.

Honey's
A Honey of a place to eat

Welcome Students
For your convenience

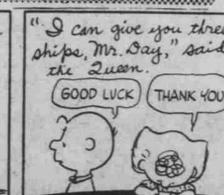

Open for Breakfast 7 a.m.
Close Sun—Thur 12 p.m.
Fri & Sat 1 a.m.

155 seats in our dining room.
48 curb locations.
Clip this coupon and bring to Honey's for Special Discount.

Honey's Discount Coupon

To: Honey's Cashier
This coupon is good for $5.00 discount on any food purchase of $2.00 or more.

Not Valid After Oct. 31

WAKE FOREST UNIVERSITY
COLLEGE UNION PRESENTS
IN CONCERT

THREE DOG NIGHT

October 17, 1970
7:45 p.m.

Winston-Salem Memorial Coliseum
Also on the same show
The Comedy of Edmonds & Curley.

$4 In Advance $5 At The Door

Tickets available by mail. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Wake Forest College Union, Box 7226, Reynolda Station, Winston-Salem, North Carolina 27109. Make checks payable to: Wake Forest University.

ANOTHER WINNING PERFORMANCE BY LIZA FROM "THE STERILE CUCKOO"

Tell me that you love me, Julie moon

SHOWS: 1:00-3:04-5:08-7:17-9:26

GIANT BLOW-UP
2x3 ft. Poster (black & white)

Send any black & white or color photo up to 8x10" (no negatives please) to:
RONALD JAYE Poster Service 177
P.O. Box 43
Plainview, N.Y. 11803

Enclose cash, check or money order (no C.O.D.'s) in the amount of $3.50 for each blow-up.
Original material returned undamaged.
Satisfaction guaranteed. Allow 30 days for delivery. Add 45¢ for postage & handling.

NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

CROSSWORD PUZZLE
Answer to Saturday's Puzzle

ACROSS
1-Resort
4-Sun god
6-Stop
11-Filled with excitement (abbr.)
42-Be borne
13-Commands
15-Latin conjunction
16-Decorated
18-Preposition
19-Part of "to be"
21-Goddess of discord
22-Soft drink
24-Turkish regiment
25-Cozy corner
28-Weight of India
29-Stage whisper
31-Allowance for waste
33-Prefix: down
36-Gull-like bird
38-Conjunction
40-Dye plant
42-Tranquillity
45-Title of respect (abbr.)
47-Man's name
49-Ireland
50-Keyed up with interest
52-Preposition
54-Behold!
55-Spanish for "yes"
56-Let go
59-Fierce islands whirlwind
61-Flight of Mohammed from Mecca
63-Land surrounded by water
65-Warning device
66-A continent (abbr.)
67-Compass point

DOWN
1-Pronoun
2-Parts of flower
3-Alternating current (abbr.)
42-Be borne
5-Fruit of oak
6-Spouse
7-Before
8-Totals
9-Compass point
10-Worn away
12-Symbol for tantalum
14-Trap
17-Disturbance
20-Post
23-Bone
24-Cooled lava
25-Mental image
27-Retain
30-Sicilian volcano
32-Woody plant
35-Like
37-Metal fastener
38-Shatter
39-Wild revels
41-Solitary
43-Sings in a low voice
44-College degree (abbr.)
46-Conjunction
48-Blamish
51-Facial expression
53-Mountain in Greece
57-Period of time
58-Spanish article
60-Dutch town
62-Processed
64-Conjunction