World Leaders Praise De Gaulle

World leaders Tuesday praised Charles de Gaulle in death as one of the great statesmen of the 20th century. Many, including President Nixon and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, said they would fly to Paris to honor De Gaulle in Notre Dame Cathedral.

"The passing of Gen. Charles de Gaulle reminds us of the qualities that make men and nations great," Nixon said.

"His was the quality of vision that could see the grand sweep of history at a time when others focused on the events of the moment. He provided inspiration to an age in danger of being overwhelmed by the commonplace."

Kosygin and other Soviet leaders sent a telegram to French President Georges Pompidou hailing De Gaulle as "one of the leaders of the anti-Hitler coalition."

Former President Lyndon B. Johnson issued a statement from retirement in Texas, saying "one of the great world leaders of our time has gone."

In Tel Aviv, former Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion said De Gaulle was "the greatest French statesman of this century."

Queen Elizabeth II of Britain: "A great Frenchman and patriot whose courage and tenacity in the Allied cause during the dark years of the Second World War will never be forgotten."

West German Chancellor Willy Brandt: "The symbol of French-German understanding and friendship. His role in the history of Europe and the world will remain unforgettable."

Pope Paul VI: "A great witness of our contemporary history."

Australian Prime Minister John Gorton: "General de Gaulle was always dominated by an almost mystical devotion to France."

Heels' Showing Surprises Hilton

By Howie Carr

"It was a pretty hotly-contested conference meet," said UNC cross-country coach Joe Hilton, referring to the ACC championships held Monday at Finley Golf Course.

Duke won the conference title with a total of 42 points to the runner-up Tar Heels' 66. N.C. State was third with 71, while perennial champion Maryland slipped to fourth with 77.

"Before the meet," Hilton said, "I figured we could take third and that State would be pushing us hard for that. Of course we went out trying to win, but to be realistic..."

"As a team, we made definite improvements," he continued. "Tony Waldrop (who finished fourth) improved his best time by 15 seconds. Larry Widgeon (fifth place) equalled his best time. Mike Garcia (sixteenth) ran almost a minute faster, while Steve Grathwohl (nineteenth) bettered his time by forty seconds."

"Mike Caldwell (thirty-seventh) picked up a stitch (cramp) which hampered his performance, and Bruce Hafemeister (twenty-eight) came down with a cold after it was too late to make a substitution."

The Tar Heels did better than expected mainly because of the downfall of Maryland. The Terps' top runner, Russ Taintor, did not compete, while defending conference champion Charlie Schrader could manage only a twenty-seventh place finish.

"Schrader has had some knee problems but I thought he was in pretty good shape. I do know he's a much better runner than his performance indicated," said Hilton. "Taintor was apparently injured against Navy. Maryland didn't tell anybody about it, and we didn't find out until Sunday night."

In picking the seven runners for the championship, Hilton was faced with the difficulty of selecting some runners over others who were nearly equal.

"I had to sit down and grade them on their meet performances, just like a professor grades papers," Hilton explained. "Of course no grading system is completely fair, but I had to have some basis of comparison."

Of the seven runners who "passed" four were freshmen, which means, says Hilton, that unless "lightning strikes more than twice in the same place, we'll have a good team for sometime to come."

"With out-of-state admissions as difficult as they are," said Hilton, "we've got to have a good in-state program to do well. We worked hard, and this year all but one of the top high-school distance runners in the state came here."

The single exception was Jim Wilkins of Roxboro, who went to State. He finished third in the meet.

The team closes its season November 23, when it travels to Williamsburg, Virginia, to compete in the national championships. Due to the meet's proximity to Chapel Hill, Coach Hilton will be able to take a full squad to compete.

UNC Ruggers Enjoy Weather, Big Win

Carolina's rugby club took advantage of Sunday's fine weather to treat 500 spectators to as fine an exhibition of rugby as was ever seen on campus.

The quality of Carolina's play helped them to quantify in the scoring, tallying 23 points to Washington and Lee's 6.

UNC let its backs do as they pleased. The result was precise passing and spectacular kicking that sent the home team pressing into the opponents' try line time and again.

When the backs got close, the forwards became "men possessed." They bulled their way in for tries, with Paris, Nash and Lambeth scoring.

Colin Jeffcoat pressed down another for the scrum's contribution, while Bob Porter let the backs in on the scoring with a try.

Carolina converted four of the tries and attempted no penalty goals. W&L scored one try and one penalty goal.

UNC is now looking to its next match against the always powerful Richmond city club Saturday. Richmond has lost only one game this fall, while winning seven.

UNC will be faced for the first time with extremely skilled backs, but judging by the performance Sunday while missing starters Paul Hebert and Des Cannon for the entire game and Ben Porter for 25 minutes of one half, Richmond is perhaps in for a surprise.

Carolina's scrum continued their steady improvement with the W&L game. Ed Boyd, a second row was injured in the first half and is doubtful as a starter in the coming test.

The Richmond game will be followed by the usual donnybrook Duke and UNC hold yearly. The game will be at Duke Nov. 28.
