

Israel Backing Down On Missile Demands

JERUSALEM—Prime Minister Golda Meir Monday backed off from Israel's vigorous demands for an Egyptian missile rollback along the Suez Canal. But official sources said the Jewish state is not ready to resume Middle East peace talks at the present time.

Parliament, Mrs. Meir made it clear Israel would be prepared to return to the U.N.-sponsored talks only when the conditions are right. But she made no mention of the previous hard and fast demand that the antiaircraft missiles be pulled out.

really expected that Israel would win out on the missile demand, although she described it as "just."

"At the present time we do not find conditions suitable for a resumption of the talks under the auspices of United Nations special envoy Gunnar Jarring," an official Israeli source said after Mrs. Meir's speech. "The government has not yet decided what the conditions for a return to the talks would be."

Mrs. Meir said Israel was in consultation with the United States, and the government source said the U.S. government was expected to provide "firm proposals" for the resumption of the talks with Egypt and Jordan which Israel broke off in September in a dispute over the missiles.

Congress Reopens

WASHINGTON—Congress started its first lame-duck session in 20 years Monday, facing almost as much work between now and Christmas as it did in the first 10 months of the year—and lingering bitterness over the hard-fought mid-term elections.

With eight of 15 major appropriations bills still requiring action, 50 lame duck House members and 11 in the Senate, and prospects of Democratic attempts to overturn Nixon's veto of a campaign spending bill, GOP Senate Leader Hugh Scott predicted the post-election session would be "unmitigated disaster."

Hartke Wins

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Indiana Secretary of State William N. Salin certified the official results of the Nov. 3 election Monday showing that Democratic Sen. Vance Hartke defeated his Republican challenger, Rep. Richard Roudebush, by a record-thin margin of 4,383 votes.

Disease Threatens Pakistan Survivors

DACCA, East Pakistan—Pakistani armed forces went on a war footing and the world poured in tons of relief supplies Monday for massive rescue operations in coastal areas devastated by a killer cyclone and smashing tidal waves.

The specter of disease threatened the area as thousands of human corpses and animal carcasses lay unburied on beaches and floating off-shore. "The survivors can hardly survive," a Pakistani newsman reported from the scene.

The government radio put the official death toll at more than 41,000, but unofficial estimates went as high as 300,000, which, if true, would make it the world's worst disaster of this century. The Army, Navy and Air Force mobilized for medical and evacuation operations, and from Scotland to Hong Kong came offers of relief supplies.

The government radio said a coastal area of 2,848 square miles—larger than the state of Delaware—and 13 offshore islands were almost wiped off the map by the disaster Thursday.

President Gen. Yahya Khan flew over the area Monday and said every effort would be made to help the people.

Warrenton Declares Emergency

WARRENTON, N.C. A state of emergency and a night-time curfew were imposed Monday after police used tear gas to break up a march by about 100 to 150 blacks protesting school board policies.

Mayor W.A. Miles declared a state of emergency and a 6:30 P.M. to 6:30 A.M. curfew after scattered incidents of rock-throwing were reported in the wake of the tear gas.

More than 30 highway patrolmen, all with riot training, were sent into Warrenton by Gov. Bob Scott "as a precautionary measure."

The march was part of a controversy by young blacks protesting elimination of all school functions in the wake of adoption of an extensive desegregation plan and the postponement of school elections.

The five schools in the Warrenton district have been closed for more than a week as a "safety precaution" because of tensions.
