

UNC lumberjacks fell Tree to hand Bluejays 1st loss

by Mark Whicker
Sports Writer

"The Tree" was the root of Carolina's problem in Charlotte Saturday night, but the Tar Heels chopped away like polished lumberjacks. When it was over "The Tree" was felled and the Creighton Bluejays were axed 106-86, their first defeat in five games.

Cyril Baptiste, alias The Tree, had his moments. He scored 13 points, mainly by pushing Lee Dedmon and Dennis Wuycik away before making his moves to the basket.

And he batted away three UNC shots in a row in the 15th minute of the first half.

But when The Tree fouled Wuycik with 13:22 remaining in the game, it was his fifth infraction, and Cyril reluctantly went to the bench to end one of the worst nights of his career.

The Tree had been averaging 26 points and 13 rebounds. Against Carolina, he got 13 points and only one rebound.

"They just told me to hold Baptiste below his scoring and rebounding averages, and I guess that's what we did," said Dedmon after the game.

Wuycik's 39 points and 12 rebounds, coupled with Billy Chamberlain's 25 and 11, was the best simultaneous performance yet by the two former high school All-Americans.

"Chamberlain played by far his best game since coming here," said Coach Dean Smith, "and Wuycik worked hard in there for taps and layups."

Smith also complimented guard Steve Previs for "a fantastic defensive effort."

Previs scored 13 and collected nine assists.

The junior guard had some explanations for UNC's surprising 42-31 rebounding edge.

"You can take a team of six-footers and put them against a bunch of giants, and if the six-footers give an all-out effort they can get the rebounds," said Previs.

"If you sit back and say 'well that guy is bigger than me, so I'll let him have the rebounds,' then he'll get them."

Previs also had some comments about the sportswriters' attitude toward UNC's conference chances.

"There were some newspaper guys before the season who said we'd finish seventh or so in the conference, and they also said we wouldn't win because we didn't have any big superstars," the guard recalled.

"Well, that's the kind of thing that ends up on our locker room walls. That guy right there (Previs pointed out some newspaper men in the dressing room) and that guy standing over there next to the door. We're out to show these guys that we're a better team than they think."

"Last year's team had a lot of pressure on it to win," said Chamberlain, "with Charlie Scott being our only big star. I think we did well to come out with an 18-9 record."

"Now that constant pressure is off now. We're just going out there to play our game, and give a maximum effort."

Soph George Karl, who scored 11 and assisted four times, showed that effort when he dived on his belly for a loose ball on the sidelines. Carolina was ahead by 15 at the time.

It was the first time in history that UNC has scored over 100 in three straight games, and Smith credited the other teams for making it possible.

"It's been the other team's election to speed up the tempo," said Smith. "They've been playing the full-court press when behind, setting up quick buckets for us sometimes."

The coach went on to say that Carolina could be a real contender for conference honors with more games like Saturday night's.

Pirates pound Heels mercilessly, win 42-0

by David Zucchino

Carolina's wrestling team opened up its regular season schedule on a sour note Saturday afternoon, absorbing a merciless pounding from an overwhelming East Carolina squad.

The Pirates captured all ten weight classifications en route to their second smashing Carmichael Auditorium victory in seven days, having claimed the team championship in the previous weekend's North Carolina Collegiate Wrestling Championships.

The Tar Heels were outmanned and outclassed by East Carolina, as no less than five UNC wrestlers were defeated by falls.

East Carolina quickly breezed through the first six divisions, scoring four of their first six victories by falls.

Bill Vroom put the visitors ahead for good early as he trounced Carolina's Mike Bryan, 12-5, in the 118-lb division and Tar Heel sophomore Les Curtin's leg injury forced him to forfeit to ECU's Dan Montre in the 126-lb class.

The Pirates put the match out of reach in the next four divisions, as they claimed four consecutive falls over the bewildered Tar Heels.

Freshman Doug Snell fell to ECU's Steve Morgan with 2:18 gone in his 134-lb match, while senior Hal Griffin and Tar Heel team captain Luther Gartrell were overcome by Mike Spohn and Bob Fosburg of ECU in the 142-lb and 150-lb divisions.

Carolina sophomore Roger Morgan stayed with Pirate Roger Ingalls before succumbing with 3:52 elapsed in their 158-lb class.

In the 167-lb division, Tar Heel Gary Purcell was outpointed 15-3 by ECU's Bill Hill, while Ricky Weisner almost saved Carolina from a whitewashing before dropping a close 7-5 verdict to Joe Deversa in the 177-lb division.

Pirates Tim Gay and Mark Pohren finished up the rousing ECU triumph with victories in the 190-lb and heavyweight divisions. Gay defeated Tar Heel sophomore Todd Parrish after 3:08 had elapsed in their match, while Pohren trounced UNC heavyweight Charley Sara, 11-4.

The ECU frosh also beat UNC, winning 33-20.

Maryland tankers defeat Heels 71-42

Defending Atlantic Coast Conference champion Maryland bumped the Carolina swimming team from the ranks of the unbeaten Saturday afternoon with a 71-42 victory.

The Terps jumped off to a quick 7-0 lead by winning the 400-yard medley relay over a Tar Heel team of Marshall Peck, Rich Williams, Dave Bedell, and Mike Rawleigh.

With a 10:27.9 time, Clifford of Maryland won the 1000-yard freestyle over UNC's Jake Southard and Gerry Chapman. Terps Gary Goodner and Dick Barret swept the 200-yard freestyle, as Phil McMunigal of Carolina finished third.

Glenn Garella and Bruce Wigo grabbed the first and third places in the 50-yard freestyle to cut Maryland's lead to 23-11. The Terps, however, came back to sweep the 200-yard individual medley with Duschl and Yonych, and UNC's George Schiaffino trailed in third.

Captain Chuck Humphrey won the one-meter diving, but Maryland took the next two slots to run its lead to 35-17. In the 200-yard butterfly, all three finishers came in within a second, but the Terps got the first two spots as Dave Bedell of UNC had to settle for third.

A 24.9 time was good enough to win Goodner his second event of the day, the 100-yard freestyle. Wigo and Garella were second and third, respectively.

A sweep by Yonych and Duschl in the 200-yard backstroke put Maryland one point away from victory at 56-23. Carolina's McMunigal finished third.

In the 500-yard freestyle, Terp distanceman Clifford's second win of the day put Maryland over the top. Southard was 4.3 seconds off the pace at 5:09 to grab the runner-up slot.

Tar Heel Williams gave ACC 200-yard breaststroke champion Tom Schachberle a real battle before losing by six tenths of a second. Maryland also got third place to make its lead 68-29.

With a total of 255.90 points, Humphrey won the three-meter diving to become Carolina's only double victor of the day. Bob Petrovich of Maryland claimed the runner-up position, while UNC freshman John Chamber was third. Carolina's team of Garella, Butch Bristow, Wigo, and Mike Rawleigh recorded a time of 3:18.3 to win the 400-yard freestyle relay and make the final score 71-42.

The Tar Heels' next opponent is Navy, whom they will face Wednesday in Annapolis. Both a varsity and a freshmen meet are scheduled.

Jones, O'Donnell lead frosh over Brevard

by Mark Whicker
Staff Writer

Bobby Jones and John O'Donnell combined for 53 points as the UNC freshmen ripped Brevard College 108-76 in Charlotte Saturday night.

The Tar Babies now have a 2-1 record and will face the Virginia frosh Tuesday night in Carmichael Auditorium at 6:00. Jones hit 12 of 14 shots from the field, sank all six free throw attempts, for 30 points, and pulled down 15 rebounds to pilot Coach Bill Guthridge's yearlings. O'Donnell garnered 23 points and six rebounds.

Guard Ray Hite added 15 points. His three straight buckets gave Carolina an 18-7 lead with 14:03 remaining in the first half, and before long O'Donnell and Jones had expanded the margin to 30-11.

The Tar Babies connected on 57 per cent of their field goal attempts, to Brevard's 46.5, and outrebounded their opponents 53-32.

Bob Wolf, a guard from Madison, Ind. provided Brevard's only offense with 23 points and four rebounds.

After taking a 51-32 halftime lead, the Tar Babies expanded it to 61-34 with three straight baskets by O'Donnell and a tap-in by Jones, performing before his home town fans.

Guthridge played his substitutes in the latter stages of the second half, and 12 Tar Babies scored. Bill Crouch led the subs with 10 points.
