The Daily Tar Heel

Thursday, November 18, 1971

Black students visit UNC

by Kathy Koch Staff Writer

For the next three days 20 UNC students will try to bridge the gap in black-white relations by acting as hosts to visiting black students from Johnson C. Smith University and by visiting the Smith campus in Charlotte.

Johnson C. Smith is a private black university, located in downtown Charlotte, with an enrollment of about 1,300 students.

year - gives 20 students from each school

an opportunity to visit the other school and to act as hosts on two different weekends.

Ten UNC students will go to Smith this weekend while the other half of UNC students in the program host 10 Smith students here in Chapel Hill.

Students acting as hosts this weekend will visit Smith the weekend of Dec. 1-5 while the ten going to Charlotte this weekend will host another group of Smith students.

Pam Campbell, coordinator for the The Smith Exchange - in its second exchange and chairman of the Union Special Projects Committee, said "by fitting into the everyday routine of life on each other's campus, the exchange will hopefully give us a better understanding of each other and set a regional example of cooperation between black and white schools."

Miss Campbell said the exchange is designed loosely to allow the visiting students to "have the run of the campus," getting together as a group only for meals and discussions.

The exchange is organized in pairs, with each UNC student finding lodging for their "co-exchanges" and devoting most of the time during the weekends to their guests. Ten men and ten women were chosen from each school in order to facilitate that pairing process. Selection procedures were determined by the individual schools.

Smith students will get a view of Carolina through such activities as a spaghetti dinner at James, a faculty reception at the N.C. Fellows Lounge, dinner at the Chi Psi fraternity, a dinner party in Mangum social lounge and brunch at the home of Anne Queen of the YW-YMCA.

They will also attend classes, have a dance party in the Union Coffee House and go to the Josh White and Guess Who concerts.

One of last year's members of the exchange, Clailborne Jones, described it as an "energetic, volatile interchange." She said "we were perfectly frank about things that shocked us, and we began breaking down myths the first night when we went out talking and drinking beer.

"It would seem easy to come away with a certain self-assuredness in dealing with black people, but you can't kid yourself," she said. "You can't ignore the fact that it was an abnormal experience. It was a separate, unique, unrealistic situation."

Another member of last year's exchange, Tim McAdams, called the experience an "eye-opener." He said, "Since we were paired, it gave us a chance to get to know each other 'on a personal level, rather than on an overall level. Breaking down the biggest barriers was to make us color-blind."

It's a tight squeeze but she'll make it. That's one of the great things about bicycles they go just about anywhere. (Staff photo by Leslie Todd)

The Great Alternative-The Great Alternative-The Great Alternative-

Union exhibit features 'abstract expressionism'

A former UNC student and four art graduate students are currently exhibiting several of their works in the Student Union.

Artist Doug Gilchrist, a UNC graduate and art teacher at Carrington Junior High School in Durham, is showing a collection of nine of his works in the north lounge through Nov. 30.

Gilchrist described the paintings as primarily "hard edged, minimal abstract expressionism." Titles include "Sunrise-Sunset," "Conception" and "Inception."

The paintings exhibit a variety of shape and color combinations. Oblong and elliptical shapes are inset with similar forms. Acrylic colors range from pastel blues, pinks, grays and lavenders to vibrant reds, greens and blues.

The paintings are priced from $50 to $3000 and, according to Gilchrist, anyone interested in purchasing may inquire at the Union information desk or contact him at 967-7834.

Gilchrist's exhibit was arranged through Hank Wall and the Union Gallery Committee.

Graduate students Ron Snapp, Frank Faulkner, Winston Kennedy and Jacques Manache are showing several of their paintings in the south lounge.

Anyone interested in purchasing any of these paintings may contact the artists or inquire at the Union information desk.

There will be a meeting of the UNC football club today at 7 p.m. in the Student Union. Check the information desk for the room number.

Should Chritianity heal today? There will be a Christian Science lecture on Monday at 7:30 p.m. upstairs in the Student Union, All are

Erve Lewis, a well-known folk singer, will be featured tonight at College Life at 9 p.m. in Carroll Hall, Sponsored by Campus Crusade for Christ and Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Newcomer's Bowling: at 9:15 a.m. at Sportland, on the Durham Blvd.

sign up in the Y office. Those who indicated interest before Nov. 8, please come by and sign up for time and place.

The first "sing-through" for the Savoyards' spring production of "The Mikado," by Gilbert and Sullivan, will be held at Allied Arts Center, 810 Proctor St., Durham, Sunday at 3 p.m. For LOST: Ladies' yellow raincoat in Hardee's. Call 967-5101. $15 reward.

LOST: Gold Pomeranian in front of Bingham, Call 967-4455.

An extremely generous reward of $10 will be paid for the return of two notebooks taken

Contact 933-4432, 351 James, Reward, welcome.

Student interested in speaking with the assistant dean of Vanderbilt University's Divinity School should come to 313 Murphey Hall intween 2 and i p.m. today.

Ananda Marga yoga society will meet today at 5 p.m. in the Student Union. Hatha Yoga, Kirtan and group meditation. All are invited. No charge

Friday's free flick is "Destry Rides Again," and will be shown in Carroll Hall at 4, 6:30 and 9. Saturday's free flich is "The Professionals" to be shown in Great Hall at 4, 6:30 and 9. Sunday's free flick is "Forbidden Games," to be shown in Great Hall at 6:30 and 9.

Carolina Christian Fellowship will be sponsoring a talk on "How to have a Spiritual Life" tonight at 8 in the Student Union. Featured speaker is Jim Abrahamson, All are Freshman Council Group II will meet in the Frank Porter Graham Lounge at 10 p.m. today. King Nyle will lead the discussion.

Voter registration rock concert today from 4 to 8 p.m., at the Chapel Hill Municipal Building, Follow Columbia Street from campus past Franklin and Rosemary streets, go down the hill, it's behind the fire station. Register to vote.

Students who were initiated into Phi Eta Sigma Freshman Honorary Society last spring may pick up their membership certificates in 303D South Building.

UNC Outing Club will meet to make final arrangements for Linville Gorge trip and rock climb this weekend. Meeting is tonight at 7:30 in the Student Union. Will also involve further instruction in climbing.

The UNC Polo Club will meet Friday at 7 p.m. in the Student Union. All members must attend or be fined.

Bahai's believe the world unity is inevitable and we can bring it appear, meetings are Mondays at 8 p.m. in the Student Union, Tuesdays at 8 p.m. on 213 Purefoy Rd, Call 942-2925 for more information.

Mathematics Colloquium: room 332, Phillips Hall, Speaker: Thomas A. Dowling, UNC Statistics Department, Topic: "Elementary Pre-Images and Essential Flats of Combinational Geometries."

Operations Research Colloquium, Place: room 224, Phillips Hall, Speaker: Phillip Cooley, Research Triangle Institute. Topic: "A Model for Assigning Students to Schools to Minimize Busing Costs, Distances."

Sigma XI lecture: Place: Room 215, Phillips Hall, Speaker: Dr. Owen Gingerisch Astrophysical Observatory and Professor of Astronomy and History of Science, Harvard University, Topic: "Johannes Kepler: Physicist or Metaphysicist."

Newcomer's Evening Bridge: groups A and C at Kathryn Bellew, 628 Tinkerbell; groups B and D at Bonnie Hensley, 3237 Pickett Road, Durham.

All McCallie Alumni: There will be a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Friday at the Carolina Union. Featuring in person: Spence III, Mr, Patterson, Mr. Henegar and even A.W. James. $2.25 per plate. Call 933-2001.

Ananda Marga Yoga will meet today at 5 p.m. in the Union. Hatha Yoga, Kirtan and Dharmashakra - free, "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead," the Carolina Playmakers third production of the season, will run through Sunday. Tickets are available from the Graham Memorial and at Ledbetter-Pickard's downtown at $2.50 per ticket.

Registration forms are available for the National Security Agency's Professional Qualification Test (PQT) to be administered Dec. 4 at UNC. Interested students should come by the Placement Service in 211 Gardner. Deadline for receipt of registration forms is Nov. 24.

Anyone interested in working as a salesman at the Y International Bazaar, Dec. 3-5, can

A pleasant, old-fashioned excitement of the coming

Before December 1, pick out advent calendars for

The Intimate

Bookshop

open evenings

those favorite voungsters.

custom to heighten the

Advent

Calendars!

of Christmas!

more information, call Ellen Ironside, evenings at 929-3694, or come to the sing-through on Sunday.

There will be a meeting of the UNC Football Club today at 7 p.m. in the Union, Everyone must attend.

History 90, "Women's History in the West," will be offered at 2 TTh spring semester. Juniors and seniors are welcome. Pink slips are available in 212A Saunders.

FOUND: A small beagle puppy with collar at Cat's Cradle Saturday night. Call 929-6769.

FOUND: Gold wedding band on Airport Rd., near the Ranch House. Come by the Journalism School Library in Howell Hall between 7 and 10 p.m. to claim.

FOUND: Girl's glasses, brown rims, in front of Phillips, Claim at DTH office.

FOUND: Ten-speed, red Sears' bike. Claim by opening the lock, Call 933-4836.

LOST: Black-rimmed glasses at or near Carmichael, Call 933-4696 or come by 548 James, Reward: One Duke Ticket, LOST: "L'Immoraliste" by Andre Gide, somewhere between James and Dey, Call 933-4608 or come by 403 James.

LOST: Pharmacy 21-31 notebook belonging to Gregory Strayhorn. It was picked up off the wall in front of Greenlaw accidentally. Please return to Union desk or phone 933-6142. 1 need the notes for my Monday exam.

LOST: Female part German Shepherd. Black & brown, 4 months old, floppy ears. Call 968-0870 after 3 p.m.

97¢

TODAY

4:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Beef Chunks on Bun

w/ 2 veg. and bread

entrance behind the Zoom

THE BACCHAE

the thread mill

CLOTHES FOR GUYS & GALS

self service

from Student Stores, Call 933-8222. LOST: Calico tabby cat with white collar on E. Franklin St. Call Judy 929-6156. LOST: Black wallet with important papers.

LOST: Brown purse with initials CKF and wallet. The ID'S are hard to replace and the purse has sentimental value. Call 933-1908.

LOST: Black wallet at the Clemson game. Contains ID's of Charles Richard Cook, Please return to Lou Bonds at DTH, 933-1011.

Alternative

The Gr

nativ

Alternative

The Great

Alternative

Great

LOST: Silver wire ring in ladies' restroom of Bynum. Call 933-5406.

LOST: Zoology 41 notebook, left in 111 Murphey Hall on Tuesday, Nov. 16. Please leave at Union Information Desk or contact Rosalind Gray at 942-7956. Reward offered by Penny Sawyer, 967-7675, 1'm the one who lost it.

LOST: A thick spiral notebook - four sections with the name of Becky Snider on the outside, near the undergrad library sometime Monday. Call 929-5238.

LOST: Pharmacy and Chem notebooks, In Student Stores Tuesday about noon. Call 933-1807.

LOST: Dark blue fraternity windbreaker outside Everett last week. Call Jim Hawkins. 933-1684.

LOST: Football from 14 Old East, Please return.

LOST: Brown tri-fold wallet Tuesday, November 15 in Woollen Gym. Finder may keep money but please return I,D, and license. Call 933-2390.

The look is wide and wild - the fabric is pinwale cotton corduroy in rich colors that blend beautifully with the new shirts. Basic jeans construction that is traditionally Levi's. Slide into a pair or two - today!

SPECIAL OFFER TO UNC STUDENTS

10% Off any Item in the Store!

	native-The G
OUR FIRST PRE-CHRISTMAS SALE	The Great Alter
ALL PANTS and TOPS 20% OFF TODAY ONLY	Alternative
12 W. FRANKLIN ST. "across from Dunkin' Donuts"	e Great

