Petitions for student office due today

Today is the deadline for filing a petition for student office. Petitions must be filed with Elections Board officials by midnight tonight.

Petitions are necessary for all candidates for campuswide, legislative and class offices. Elections Board officials will accept petitions in Suite C of the Student Union from 8 p.m. until midnight.

Candidates for student body president, vice president and Daily Tar Heel editor must have 150 signatures on a petition. Candidates for Student Legislature must have 25 signatures, except for those who represent off-campus districts, who must have 10 signatures. Candidates for all other offices must have 50 signatures on a petition.

A compulsory meeting for all candidates (except residential college candidates) will be held Tuesday and Wednesday nights in room 431 of Greenlaw Building at 7 p.m. Candidates must attend one of the meetings.

Institute to offer undergrad class

The Institute of Government will offer undergraduates a non-credit course on criminal justice beginning February 22, if sufficient student interest is shown.

Classes will be held on Tuesdays from 7-9 p.m. and will run for approximately nine weeks.

The course is designed to be a primer and critique of law enforcement activities, with a fair amount of time devoted to basic criminal law and procedure.

Prospective topics include the law of arrest, the law of search and seizure, North Carolina's court system, interrogation and the line-up, basic trial procedure, sentencing and corrections and the new North Carolina drug law.

Exact subject matter is still open and will be shaped according to class interests.

Most of the instructors for the course will come from the staff of the institute, many of whom have personal experience working in criminal justice agencies.

The course will entail a little outside reading, but the primary obligation of the student is regular attendance.

Students interested in the course should fill out an application form at the Student Union or the Institute of Government by noon Friday, Feb. 18. Selection will be on the basis of a first-come-first-served basis.

For further information contact Michael Crowell at the Institute of Government.

Merchants help Heart Fund

Ten Chapel Hill merchants have banded together and will donate a dime to the N.C. Heart Association for every point scored by the UNC basketball team during February.

"Back the Heels," the title of the Heart Fund Drive, was started because of the local interest in the University's basketball program, according to Paul McMillen, one of the sponsors of the drive.

"The program is interesting and involving and we expect there will be good support from the community," McMillen said recently.

The 10 participating merchants are First Citizens Bank, NCNB, the Pines Restaurant, Security Building Co., the Hub, Belks, Sharyn-Lynn Shoppe, WCHL, Huggins Hardware and the Glen-Lennox Pharmacy.

W. Jack Holt is the director of the Orange County Heart Fund Drive.

Status of women topic of panel

Three women from the Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor will discuss the changing status of women, sex discrimination and women in the labor force at 7:30 p.m. today in 111 Murphy.

The panel of women includes attorney June Wakeford, regional director of the Women's Bureau in Atlanta, and Arleen Winfield, social science advisor to the Division of Economic Status and Opportunity of the Women's Bureau. Carol Balkany, coordinator of youth activities for the Women's Bureau, will also appear on the panel.

The panel is sponsored by the Association of Women Students (AWS) in lieu of their regularly scheduled meeting. The discussion is open to the public.

Panel members will present findings of government agencies which are of concern to women, AWS president Cathy Cauthorne said Friday.

"These three women are tops in their fields and are willing to speak to any viewpoint," she added.

As Cauthorne described them, the panelists are not female liberationists. "They are just women interested in what women are doing and how they can improve women's position," she said.

Caron Balkany believes the solution to sex discrimination will come through women's political action. Cauthorne said. Balkany, a student at George Washington University, has organized several groups of panelists to tour the Southeast and to discuss problems of women in the labor force with college students, Cauthorne added.

RA applications due Tuesday

Applications for Resident Advisor (RA) positions for the 1972-1973 academic year must be returned to the office of Residence Life in the basement of Bynum Hall by Tuesday.

The Office of Residence Life has thus far given out about 1,000 applications for RA positions.

Panel interviews of applicants will begin during the week of February 13-19 and should be completed in early March.

Aldermen look for replacement

Nominations to determine a successor for Alderman Jim Wallace will be accepted by the Board of Aldermen today at 7:30 p.m. in the Municipal Building.

Wallace resigned last week to accept an appointment by Gov. Bob Scott to the State Board of Water and Air Resources. His replacement will serve until the 1973 Municipal Election, when the seat will be filled for the remaining two years in the term.

In other business, the board will hear a report by Town Attorney Emery Denny on existing ordinances prohibiting pool tables where beer is served.

PICTURE YOURSELF AS A PAULIST.

First, picture a religious Community. A Community founded by an American convert in, and for, the benefit of North America. Picture a founder who was a century ahead of his time. A man with a vision that came true. A man with a belief that a Community could be modern and flexible enough to meet the needs of the Church in every age as they arise. A Community that wouldn't lag behind the times on leaden feet. A Community that would communicate through the spoken and printed word and one that wouldn't be hampered by specific activities when new needs arise.

Next, picture the men in this new Community. They would be flexible. Each one would use his own individual talents in his own way and would be given the freedom to do so.

These are the Paulists. The modern religious Community. Keeping pace with the times. Concerned. Involved.

If you can picture yourself as a Paulist, why not write for more information to: Rev. Donald C. Campbell, C.S.P., Vocation Director, Room No. 400
