Police uncover drug cache

Chapel Hill police are looking for Ralph Leon Travis, proprietor of the Paper Castle, after discovering a quantity of drugs in his store on Feb. 20.

Detectives Don Tripp and Bill Bree discovered felonious amounts of marijuana, LSD, MDA and methamphetamines in the E. Franklin Street store when they responded to a fire alarm.

Warrants have been issued for Travis's arrest. No other employees of the store have been charged.

Lang new dean

Nancy Lang, originally of Garden City, N.Y., has replaced Julie Jones as an assistant dean in the Department of Residence Life. The job became open when Jones announced her resignation in January to take a position with Southern Bell in Charlotte.

Lang, a 1970 graduate of Millikin University in Decatur, Ill., is presently working on her master's degree in dramatic art at UNC. She has been in the Chapel Hill area for a year and a half, working as an RA and later as college master in Granville East. Before coming to Chapel Hill, Lang was a traveling secretary for Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

Commenting on her new job Lang said, "It's very challenging. I only started this past Monday but I think I'll enjoy it. I enjoy working with students since I'm not that removed from college, myself." When asked about any plans for future moves, Lang, who is single, said, "My future plans are here right now. I've traveled around long enough. I'd like to settle down in one place for a while."

Doctor elected

Dr. Kenneth M. Brinkhous, chairman of the Department of Pathology at the UNC Medical School, has been elected president of the American Association of Pathologists and Bacteriologists.

Brinkhous will take office on July 1. A member of the prestigious National Academy of Sciences, Brinkhous won international acclaim for his research in clinical pathology and hemophilia, a rare blood disease.

In 1968, Brinkhous was chosen to receive the North Carolina Award in Science, one of the state's highest honors, and was tapped in 1969 by the James F. Mitchell Foundation to receive the International Award of Heart and Vascular Research.

A native of Iowa, he received his M.D. degree from the University of Iowa in 1932. He became Pathology chairman at UNC in 1946.

Library hours

The following is the Spring Recess schedule for Wilson Library and House Undergraduate Library:

Friday, March 9 and Monday-Friday, March 12-16, the libraries will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. On Saturday, March 10 and Saturday, March 17, the libraries will be open from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The libraries will be closed on Sunday, March 11 and be open from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Sunday, March 18.

Regular schedules will resume on Monday, March 19.

Sailing course

The first class in a beginner and intermediate sailing course will start at 8:30 tonight in the Carolina Union.

The classes are sponsored by the UNC sailing team and are open to the entire University community.

Hanoi promises POW release

North Vietnam said Wednesday it would resume the release of American prisoners, but a White House announcement said the U.S. delegation to the International Conference on Vietnam would not participate until Hanoi submits a list of the next POWs to be freed.

Indians battle federal officers

Militant Indians holding at least ten hostages in Wounded Knee, S.D., fired on federal officers Wednesday, retaining control of a trading post and church occupied Tuesday. They are demanding a Senate investigation of government treatment of the Indians.

Some Canada exiles may return

Selective Service officials said Wednesday that draft dodgers in Canada may return to the U.S. without waiting for amnesty if they were never called to serve.

New primary date bill pending

The House Elections Law Committee passed and sent to the House Wednesday a bill changing the state primary to the third Tuesday in July. The primary is now held on the first Saturday in May but a later date has been urged to put the primary closer to the general election date in November.

A career in law ... without law school.

When you become a Lawyer's Assistant, you'll do work traditionally done by lawyers — work which is challenging, responsible and intellectually stimulating. Lawyer's Assistants are now so critically needed that The Institute for Paralegal Training can offer you a position in the city of your choice — and a higher starting salary than you'd expect as a recent college graduate. Here is a career as a professional with financial rewards that increase with your developing expertise.

If you are a student of high academic standing and are interested in a legal career, come speak with our representative.

Contact the Placement Office. A representative of The Institute will visit your campus on
