

Prison workshop set here

"New Frontiers in Corrections" will be the topic of a two-day public workshop on problems of state and federal prison systems. The workshop will be held March 30-31.

Featured speaker Howard Gill, director of the Institute of Correction Administration in Washington, D.C., will speak at 10 a.m. March 30 in Peabody Hall.

Other speakers include Henry Vermillion, director of the North Carolina Council of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency, and Robert Crosswhite, director of the diagnostic and classification system of the North Carolina Department of Corrections.

The workshop is sponsored by the UNC Extension Division, the North Carolina Jaycees, the N.C. Council of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency and the Department of Social Rehabilitation and Control.

Sometimes it seems you can't win. DTH staff photographer Cliff Kolovson caught this graphic evidence that a motorcycle is not always a "ticket" to trouble-free parking at UNC.

NC-PIRG

'Grocery basket survey' topic tonight

by Rick Sluder
Staff Writer

When you finally get tired of eating chicken and decide to blow a week's salary on a couple of hunks of steak, where should you buy it?

The North Carolina-Public Interest Research Group (NC-PIRG) plans to answer this and other questions important to consumers at its meeting at 7:30 tonight in the Presbyterian Student Center on Henderson Street.

According to Wib Gulley, state project coordinator for NC-PIRG, the results of the recent "grocery basket survey" of Durham will be discussed.

In the survey NC-PIRG workers shopped in Durham area stores and compared the prices of 88 different items, both national and store brands, Gulley said. The items found to be the best buys and the stores selling these goods will be one of the topics of tonight's meeting.

Also to be discussed is a new pricing idea in which each store will post the price per standard unit near the product. "This will list price per ounce, per pound and so on," Gulley said. "As it is now, a shopper needs a slide rule to figure up the best buy."

The idea of the "grocery basket survey" originated in Honolulu, Hawaii, and has spread to over a half-dozen states, he added. A similar project is now underway in Laurinburg.

"We need to hear what other people are saying about high meat prices," Gulley said. "We feel we can be useful to UNC students, especially those who haven't been in Chapel Hill long enough to know where the lower prices are."

NC-PIRG was established one and a half years ago from the need for a group to research problems and act on behalf of the public interest. Funded by college students, NC-PIRG is concerned mainly with environmental protection, consumer rights and corporate responsibility.

News in brief

Rubenstein to visit

Theologian Richard L. Rubenstein, author of "After Auschwitz: Radical Theology and Contemporary Judaism," will speak at 8 p.m. Thursday, March 29 in Hill Hall.

A professor of religion at Florida State University, Rubenstein has served as director and chaplain of the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundations at several colleges and universities. He has authored at least six books and written over 100 articles and reviews for various magazines.

The appearance is sponsored by the Carolina Forum and admission is free.

Interested students should complete the application form by March 29 and return it to Peter Hall, 01 Steele Building or to the Union information desk.

Meditation class

Instruction in transcendental meditation as taught by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi will begin tonight at 7:30 in 100 Hamilton Hall.

As part of an ongoing program of the Chapel Hill chapter of the Students' International Meditation Society (SIMS), the lecture series will consist of tonight's meeting and a second lecture on Thursday also at 7:30 in 100 Hamilton Hall. Also, one to two hours of individual instruction by appointment will be held on Saturday evening, and group sessions will be held on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of next week at a time to be announced.

Dystrophy drive beginning today

Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity will sponsor their annual muscular dystrophy drive, "Shamrocks For Dystrophy," today.

Fraternity brothers and representatives will solicit contributions from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the following locations: the Carolina Union, Y-Court, Student Stores, Franklin Street, Eastgate and Chase Cafeteria.

The fraternity has projected a goal of $1,000.

If you think the Seminary is a place of study and meditation, you're right. But there is so much more.

As a Paulist you become involved from the start.

We were founded with the belief that each man has a place. Each man has a job. Sometimes, many jobs. And each contributes his own unique talents and is given the freedom and the support he needs to achieve his goals.

The Paulist is a man on the move. His mission is to people, particularly the people of North America. The issues and problems we face today—justice, poverty, peace, war—must be the concern of the Church.

Wherever the Paulist student serves the Christian Community—in a parish or an inner city school, a youth center or a campus radio communications, he is concerned, involved. Right now.

When you commit yourself to the Paulists, it isn't a someday thing. It's today.
