Re-evaluation of Union board to cover membership structure

Staff Writer

The Carolina Union Board of Directors is presently re-examining its structure, according to Union director Howard Henry. A re-evaluation of its membership make-up is included.

Union President and Board Chairman Gary Phillips said the directors want as much input as possible from all segments of the campus.

The organization's primary function, said Phillips, is as a policy-making group. It has "final authority and responsibility" for all Union activities, such as programming and building renovation, Phillips said.

News analysis

The board is responsible for all Union income, Henry said, made up of $3 from each student's fees, bowling, billiards and vending machines proceeds and profits from Union activities such as films, concerts and the Carolina Forum. The income available to various Union groups such as the programming committee, Henry said.

In addition to examining its structure, the board is now appointing a Union Space

Aldermen said ignoring crisis

> by Ken Allen Staff Writer

The Chapel Hill Board of Aldermen is refusing to acknowlege a potential crisis, Jim Wallace, a former alderman and current member of the N.C. Board of Air and Water Resource said.

Wallace reported to the board during its regular meeting Monday night that an agreement signed with Carrboro in January, and implemented in October, 1973 gives Carrboro unlimited use of the waste treatment facilities shared by Chapel Hill and the University.

In addition to unrestricted use, Wallace said, no time limit was specified. Although Carrboro pays for the privilege of using the facilities, they do not have any capital investment, Wallace said.

"In effect, Carrboro has waste treatment on the installment plan, indefinitely,"

Mayor Howard Lee termed the situation

"a problem, not a crisis," and said everything would be worked out. Chapel Hill shares the waste treatment facility on Bolin Creek with the University. the owner of the facility. The plant has a treatment capacity of 4.5 million gallons of waste per day. With Carrboro on the system, the facility is operating at around 3.5 million gallons a day, Wallace said. Expansion in Carrboro could use up the extra million gallons at any time, Wallace said. Chapel Hill has no control over Carrboro expansion.

Lee announced that a joint Chapel Hill and Carrboro task force would study the

In other action, Lee named Aldermen Shirley Marshal and Joe Nassif to an Energy Conservation Task Force Committee. Other members will be named from the Carrboro Board of Aldermen, the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Merchants Association, the University, and the Chapel Hill Board of

Duke University Union Major attractions committee

PRESENTS

an evening with

THE GRATEFUL DEAD

one more Saturday Night

December 8th

7 p.m. in Cameron Indoor Stadium

Tickets $5.00 & $6.00

On Sale at all area Record Bars, on the Quad and Page Box Office at Duke and the

No Bottles of any kind PLEASE

Committee, Phillips said, which will decide how office space upstairs in the Union will be

The 1973-74 Union Board of Directors now consists of 17 student and faculty members.

The board includes six student members: two appointed by the Association of Women Students (AWS) for two-year terms; three appointed by the Campus Governing Council (CGC) for three-year terms; and one appointed for a three-year term by Student Body President Ford Runge. Two vacancies still remain on the board.

Ex-officio (non-voting) student members are Phillips and Runge.

Six faculty members, appointed for threeyear terms, are also Union directors. The student representatives nominate two faculty members for each vacant faculty seat. The chancellor appoints one member from each pair of nominations, Henry said.

Faculty ex-officio representatives are Dean of Supportive Services Katherine K.

Carmichael and Alumni Director Clarence Whitefield. Henry is also an ex-officio

There has been controversy concerning faculty representation on an organization spending students' money. Phillips believes faculty input is necessary.

Phillips said since the faculty members have been here longer, they have a better overall view of the University than most students do. Both Phillips and Henry pointed out that faculty members are in the minority and are selected by student

Phillips and Henry agreed that students on the board have more authority than faculty, saying that student directors are more vocal at meetings.

When students are outnumbered at board meetings, the faculty generally will not vote on important decisions, Henry said.

Henry further described the standing of the board as haveing "departmental status that all organizations don't have."

Anonymous artist leaves mark on Union cubicle

Campus Calendar

Weekend Activities

The Carolina Playmakers will have open auditions for the spring semester productions of "Shay," "The Tempest" and "Sticks and Bones." They will be held at 4 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. today and Saturday in 103 Graham Memorial. Calibacks will be at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Federal job exams

Registration forms are now available in 211 Gardner Hall for the Federal Summer Employment Examination scheduled for February and March.

Deadline for the February exam is Dec. 28. Applications postmarked after Jan. 25, 1974 will not be accepted for the March

Announcement 414 describes summer job opportunities with the federal government. Copies can be obtained at any post office, or in 211 Gardner. Interested students are urged to apply early for maximum

"Star of Bethlehem" plays every weeknight at 8 p.m., on Saturdays at 11 a.m., 1, 3 and 8 p.m., and on Sundays at 2, 3 There will be a flee market on Saturday in front of the Kappe Delta house across from the Morehead Planetarium.

The Caroline Choir will present a Christmas concert at 4 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 2 in Hill Hall. Free tickets are available in the music office in Hill Hall or at the Union; they will be honored up to tan minutes before starting time.

There will be a meeting of the graduate women's caucus of the University Women for Affirmative Action at 2 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 2 in room 296 of the Union. Departmental policies toward women and minorities and the possibility of class action against the university will be discussed. A Chapel Hill resident who toured the People's Republic of China for 3 weeks in June will show slides and discuss his trip at 8:30 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 2 at Cat's Cradle, 405 West Graduate and professional women who are concerned about Affirmative Action are urged to attend a meeting of the Affirmative Action at 2 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 2 in room 206 of the Coming Events

Hank Wilson will speak about his father, Henry Hall Wilson, ndidate for democratic U.S. Senate non p.m. Monday, Dec. 3 in room 215 of the Union.

Man posts bond after plot arrest

After posting bond, Billy Edward Mauer, 36, the owner of the Scoreboard sandwich shop arrested Tuesday night for conspiring to shoot a Chapel Hill policeman, was released from jail Wednesday.

William Davis, 19, of the Tar Heel Motor Court, also charged with conspiring to shoot the officer and with several drug offenses was till being held Thursday under $31,000 bond. The two men allegedly attempted to hire two other men, who turned out to be police undercover agents, to shoot Patrolman Manley Dawson with a rifle.

Dawson reportedly arrested Mauer six weeks ago when he tried to arrest a man for public drunkenness in front of Mauer's shop. Dawson said Mauer tried to stop him from arresting the man, and was charged with interfering with a police officer, assault on an officer and resisting arrest.

In unrelated incidents, Dawson has reportedly been the target of two other attacks this year. He was attacked by two men in May when he asked them for identification. A few days later, a man tried to run over him in the parking lot of Hardee's and he was grazed by the car. Davis was also charged with four counts of selling marijuana and conspiring to break into two buildings.

soundhaus

By now a lot of music-lovers have heard Braun loudspeakers at Soundhaus; and those who can afford to buy them, have. These people may know something you don't. And this, even they don't know: Braun's newest speaker, the L700, costs only $160—with accuracy that can't be matched for less than $250. A real run for your money. Braun at Soundhaus.

113 n. columbia / 942-3162 / holiday hours until 9 / also in durham and raleigh

Duke University Union Major Speakers Committee and the Sunshine Farm's Karmayoga Ashram present Baba Ram Dass (formerly Dr. Richard Alpert, Harvard Psychologist and colleague of Dr. Timothy Leary) who will speak on his transformation and will lead chants and songs. Saturday, Dec. 1, 3 p.m., Duke University, Baldwin Auditorium (East Campus). Admission Free.

The Duke University Union Major Speakers Committee and the Duke Gay Alliance present John Rechy (author of The Fourth Angel, City of Night, and The Vampires), who will speak on 'legal, psychological, and sociological outrages" against gays. Tuesday, December 4 at 8 P.M., Gross Chemistry Building. Admission Free.

The Daily Tar Heel is published by the University of North Carolina Student ublications Board, daily except Sunday, exam periods, vacation, and summer periods. No Sunday issue. The following dates are to be the only Saturday issues: September 15, 22, & 29, October 27, and November 10 & 17. Offices are at the Student Union building, Univ. of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N.C. 27514. Telephone numbers: News, Sports — 933-1011, 933-1012; Business, Circulation, Advertising — 933-1163.
Subscription rates: $16.00 per year; $8.00 per semester.

7:00

Second class postage paid at U.S. Post Office in Chapel Hill, N.C.

The Campus Governing Council shall have powers to determine the Student Activities Fee and to appropriate all revenus derived from the Student Activities Fee (1.1.1.4 of the Student Constitution).

The Daily Tar Heat reserves the right to regulate the typographical tone of all advertisements and to revise or turn away copy it considers objectionable.

The Daily Tar Heel will not consider adjustments or payments for any typographical errors or erroneous insertion unless notice is given to the Business Manager within (1) one day after the advertisement appears, or within one day of the receiving of tear sheets or subscription of the paper. The Daily Tar Heet will not be remonsible for more than one incorrect insertion of an advertisement scheduled to run awarm times. Notice for such correction must be given before the next insertion.

Murray Pool Business Mgr. Pleyd Alford Adver. Mgr.