Dean disbarred in Virginia

ALEXANDRIA, Va.—Former White House Counsel John W. Dean III was expelled from the Virginia bar Wednesday for "unethical, unwarranted and unprofessional conduct as an attorney of law."
Attorneys for Dean had asked the three-judge disciplinary panel to suspend Dean rather than disbar him.
But at the end of a two-hour hearing, Judge Franklin I. Backus said, "John W. Dean is now guilty of unethical, unwarranted and unprofessional conduct as an attorney of law."

Weicker cites Nixon, Dean for cover-up

WASHINGTON—Sen. Lowell P. Weicker asked President Nixon Wednesday if he and John Dean III did not share responsibility for covering up the Watergate scandal.
Weicker, a member of the Senate Watergate committee, posed a series of 11 questions to the President. Although the Connecticut Republican drew up the questions, they were submitted to Nixon on behalf of the entire committee.
The questions were in lieu of a meeting with Nixon the committee has requested several times.
Weicker asked Nixon, "What is the difference in your measure of responsibility from that of John Dean?"

Injunction asked in heating oil shortage

NEW YORK—Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz Wednesday sought an injunction against four major oil companies for allegedly contriving a shortage of homeheating oil here by diverting it overseas.
In papers filed in Manhattan Supreme Court, Lefkowitz sought an injunction against the companies to cease the alleged illegal activity.
It charged that the four companies schemed since the winter of 1972-73 to contrive a shortage in the home heating oil.
The scheme, according to Lefkowitz, was carried out by diverting nearly 1 million barrels of oil to foreign ports.

Wage-price control end recommended

WASHINGTON—The administration, acknowledging the results of 2½ years of wage-price controls were mixed at best, recommended Wednesday an end to all controls April 30 except in the petroleum and health industries.
Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz said the administration would prefer that Congress not grant even standby control of other industries because there might be a tendency to raise prices in anticipation of possibly future control action.

Kleinbaum to serve on ad hoc committee

Prof. David G. Kleinbaum of the UNC School of Public Health has been appointed to serve on an ad hoc committee on the Status of Minorities in Statistics.
The appointment was made by the president of the American Statistical Association.
Kleinbaum is also chairman of a UNC faculty council committee on the status of Minorities and the Disadvantaged, chairman of the Department of Biostatistics' Committee on Opportunities for Minorities and a member of the School of Public Health's Minority Relations Committee.

Winston residents

Trustee meeting sought

by Laura Yandell
Staff Writer

A group of second floor Winston residents plan to present a statement supporting the continuation of room-by-room coed living on their floor to the University Board of Trustees Friday.

Residence Hall Association (RHA) president Janet Stephens said Wednesday that the group definitely would appear before the board if they could be scheduled on the agenda. She expects final confirmation of the meeting from Chancellor Ferebee Taylor Thursday.

Second floor resident Jim Taylor said that the statement would contain a clear, rational argument for reconsideration of Dean of Student Affairs Donald A. Boulton's recent decision to end the room-by-room arrangement.

"Any protests could hurt us now," Taylor said. "We're going to emphasize reason."

He said the group planned to point out their objection to the lack of student input in Boulton's decision.

"Regardless of their personal views of the arrangement, we hope board members will be good enough administrators to realize that one-man arbitrary decision-making has no place in a university of this size," Taylor said.

He said that if the board did not reconsider Boulton's decision, residents hoped they would at least allow for further inquiry into it.

Four residents are in the process of planning the statement, Taylor said, and that no more than four or five residents would take it before the board.

Board to discuss roads

The Chapel Hill Planning Board has set Feb. 19 as the date for the second public forum on proposed revisions to the Chapel Hill Thoroughfare Plan.

Meeting Tuesday night in the Chapel Hill Municipal Building, the planners proposed nine specific items to be taken up at the public meeting. Among the more important items that were proposed by the board after suggestions by Chapel Hill citizens were:

- Addition of South Columbia Street to the plan and extension of Pittsboro Street through the central business district;
- Possible widening of U.S. 15-501 Bypass;
- Investigation of the relationship of the Chapel Hill master plan to the Durham Thoroughfare Plan;
- Discussion of peak hours of use of major thoroughfares.

The public forums are being held by the Planning Board to test popular sentiment for proposed changes in its highway master plan. The most recent plan was drawn up in 1963.

All students interested in local transportation needs are encouraged to attend the session at 8 p.m.

The best-sounding under-$400 stereo system you can find anywhere is at Soundhaus. That's right. Soundhaus.

$369, System 2+: starts with Advent/2 loudspeakers. After two years of R&D, the best-sounding little speaker ever. Heard it yet?

The Pioneer SX424 is, feature for feature, unquestionably our pick among FM receivers in the $200 price range.

Rugged but gentle, the Garrard 42 M/P automatic turntable is fitted with a Pickering ATE (elliptical) cartridge.

And— Full access to Soundhaus facilities and services. All connecting cables are included, as are a base for your Garrard and a wood enclosure for your receiver.

Mild pressure tactic: $369, obviously, is a very low price to pay for $409.45 worth of components. When prices increase—and they will soon—the system will still be a fine value. But why wait until then?
