

UNC netters meet MIT today

by Susan Shackelford
Asst. Sports Editor

Tennis tremors rumble once again at UNC as MIT visits campus today for a 2 p.m. bout with the defending ACC champion Heels.

MIT—the Massachusetts Institute of Technology—kicks off the first of three home matches this week for Carolina. Journeying to Chapel Hill on Wednesday and Thursday are Toledo and Amherst.

The Tar Heels surface as definite favorites, boasting an all-time mark of 11-0 against MIT. After this week's stint of home matches, conference competition for Coach Don Skakle's club will be only a week away. As in past years, UNC has routed most extraconference foes. UNC's now at 7-1 and hoping for 11-1 before it meets the University of Maryland April 5 in College Park.

All UNC wins have been shut-outs, with the last victim being Davidson. Last Friday's contest with Cincinnati was cancelled.

The long UNC loss came 6-3 against the University of Florida on a Gainesville, Fla., trip over spring break. The battle reflected five of the six singles going to the maximum three sets.

Lady Luck intervenes frequently in such situations, but the Heels couldn't seem to find her. The Gators captured all but one of the three-set matches.

The netters are captained by seniors, McKee and Hardaway, both veterans of the strong tennis tradition, both top players in the ACC, and (making it easy on the fans) both named "Rich."

Rich McKee ranks as an NCAA All-America, and played number two court behind last year's three-time All-America Freddie McNair before moving into this season's top court position.

Other court personnel are sophomore Billy Brock, of Norfolk, Va., playing court three as one of the team's most improved performers. Another soph, Tommy Dixon, of Raleigh, usually occupies court four.

Knoxville, Tenn. native, senior Joe Garcia, returns from last year in the fifth position. The only starting freshman is Dave Oberstein on court six. A native of New York, he said UNC was his choice because of the North Carolina climate and tennis history.

The netters are backed-up by Flag Flanagan, a strong frosh, Bill Correll and Lou Pierce.

Track team triumphs

The UNC track team captured 11 of 17 first places to breeze past Clemson 95-55 here Saturday afternoon.

The Tar Heels won all the field events except one and both relays but lost all the sprints and short runs.

"I was extremely pleased with (Sam) Beasley's two wins along with performances of several freshmen," said UNC Coach Joe Hilton. "Jeff Gorski's win in the javelin, Tommy Ward's win in the mile, Mike Voight's high hurdles win were all outstanding performances for first-year men. I was also very pleased with David Hamilton's victory in the three-mile run."

Beasley won the long jump with a leap of 23'7" and the triple jump with 46'2". Gorski won the javelin with a heave of 218'3". Voight finished first in the 120-yard high hurdles with a time of 15 seconds flat. Another freshman, Gil Vance, took the discus with 149'4 1/2" and Mark Gaines won the shot put with a toss of 47'3 1/2".

Co-captain Danny Deacon won the pole vault clearing 14'6". Ward came in first in the mile due to the absence of Tony Waldrop, ahead of teammates Mike Garcia and Kevin McLee, who had identical times of 4:18.2.

Hamilton breezed to an easy victory in the three-mile run with a time of 14:07.1. The mile relay team of Winfred Falls, Mike Stratford, Hank Snowden and McLee won in 3:22.4, while the 440 relay team of Stratford, Tim Quinn, Snowden and Beasley won in 44.2 seconds.

Clemson's Ed Fern, a nationally ranked high jumper, took it easy in clearin 6'2" to win that event. The Tiger's John Bosler won the 100-yard dash in 10 flat and the 220 in 22.4. Jack Zanes won the 880 in 1:55.8, Tom Funk the 440 in 50.3 and Jim Hertz won the 440 intermediate hurdles in 55.5.

Carolina's next meet is this weekend when the Tar Heels compete in the Atlantic Coast Relays in Raleigh and the Florida Relays in Gainesville.

Ruggers dump State

The UNC Rugby Club kept their perfect record intact this weekend by beating a strong N.C. State team 4-0 in a frustrating contest that saw Carolina have three tries called back because of penalties.

The lone score of the afternoon came midway through the first half when Carolina's scrum half Joe Patterson snuck into the corner of the end zone on a 20-yard burst. The conversion attempt from an extremely difficult angle failed, leaving it 4-0 for the duration.

Highlighting the action in the first half was a spectacular play by UNC back John Arzonico. Deep in their own territory, State lofted a kick that sailed 60 yards to the Carolina end zone. Arzonico sprinted after the kick, outracing all the State players, picked up the ball in the end zone and returned it 70 yards to Carolina territory. His amazing effort saved a sure N.C. State score.

Carolina's fast-moving pace tired State in the second half and the Tar Heels dominated action and were able to keep the ball on their side of the field. State's only serious scoring threat was halted by a stubborn Carolina goal line stand. With State having the ball on the UNC 5-yard line, the Tar Heels dug in and stopped three scrum attempts within three minutes. State also failed in a penalty situation to get the ball into the end zone. Len Anderson finally kicked Carolina out of danger.

Team captain Ernie Razzono said that the State game was by far the toughest of the season. "There were a lot of unnecessary penalties and two or three fights," he said. "But I think it was our best game of the year."

Tar Heels outslug ASU Mounties, 4-1

by Steve Levin
Asst. Sports Editor

A town where drinking beer used to be the only fun at baseball games, and where Carolina's hitting was something akin to nonexistent, has changed.

People have begun to realize that all aspirins are not alike, that Rabb is Coach Walter's last name, and that UNC does indeed have a strong baseball team this year.

An excellent record, a .500 hitter in Dale Lydecker, and a 4-0 pitching slate by lefty John Danneman are just parts of this year's sudden surge. Last year at this time, the Tar Heels were wallowing in mediocrity with a 7-7 record. After three straight wins at home over the weekend, this year's version upped their record to 10-3-1.

On Friday, Danneman went all the way in a 6-3 win over Pembroke State University, no small feat considering the Braves won the Summer League last season. A 3-3 game was broken in Carolina's part of the seventh inning as thirdbaseman Lindsey Ethridge smashed a 390-foot double to centerfield, tried to go to third on the relay throw, and scored when PSU outfielder Dave Callahan threw the ball away.

The Tar Heels pushed across three more runs in the eighth on singles by Lydecker, Bobby Guthrie, Mike Wilkerson and Ethridge.

Danneman was having a rough time in the first few innings as he gave up seven hits (including a homer) and three runs in the first four innings. From then on he stopped the Braves on just two hits.

Sophomore Billy Paschal made his seasonal debut Saturday in a 4-1 victory over Appalachian. Paschal gave up only three scratch infield hits in his performance while Wilkerson and Tom Kennedy provided the hitting power, knocking in three runs between them.

Paschal gave up the App's lone run in the third inning on two singles and a walk, but throughout the rest of the game he was in complete control, striking out nine Mountainers.

The Tar Heels completed their sweep with a close 4-2 victory over Western Carolina Sunday. Fred Gianny, who raised his record to 3-1, held WCU scoreless until the ninth inning when firstbaseman Ernie Lasher tagged a 355 foot shot into the scoreboard in leftfield. Gianny fanned eight and walked just two in eight and one-third innings. Reliever Bruce Arrowood finished the game for Carolina, when with men on first and third with one out, his first pitch was grounded into a double play.

The Catamounts outthrew the Tar Heels ten to eight, but five walks, two hit batsmen, and an error aided Carolina's effort.

The game was scoreless until the bottom of the seventh when Chris Kupec reached first on an error by WCU shortstop Gary Fishel. Kennedy sacrificed Kupec to second and then Early Jones lined a 380 triple to center to bring across the first run. Lydecker brought Jones home with a sacrifice fly to left.

In the Tar Heel eighth, a double, two walks, and a two run single by Kennedy provided for the rest of Carolina's scoring.

UNC's next game is against the Eastern Michigan Indians on Tuesday. The game is scheduled for 2:30 in Cary Boshamer Stadium.

Stickmen blitz Randolph-Macon

by John Dooley
Sports Writer

The Carolina lacrosse team rebounded from an opening game loss to Maryland by romping by Randolph-Macon 18-7 on a rain-soaked field recently in Ashland, Va.

All-American candidate Bert Fett led the attack, scoring five goals and adding three assists.

Although the rain had stopped by gametime and the sun occasionally peeked out from behind the clouds, the damage had already been done. The marshy condition of the turf dictated play which was often sloppy.

The first period turned into a shooting gallery as Carolina bombarded the Yellow Jackets' goalie, filling the net with eight goals. The first phase of the incipient slaughter ended 8-1.

Second period action slowed down considerably and the Tar Heels, confident of an easy victory, could only be spurred to life after a Randolph-Macon score. Carolina answered each of the Yellow Jackets' four goals, but could do no more and the half ended 12-5.

In a seemingly endless third period that began with a penalty, the play deteriorated into little more than a donnybrook, as neither team showed concern with execution of the finer points.

By this time the mud that clogged the bottoms of players' cleats hung like ankle weights. On several occasions when the ball was lodged in the mud, the game appeared to be in suspended motion as players huddled around the ball and attempted to spear it from the quagmire. Shovels would have been more appropriate weapons.

As the frustration mounted, wild sticks flared and several players slashing desperately out at their opponents were caught with one-minute penalties. Carolina took the bulk of the restitution, incurring four slashing offenses during one two-minute interval midway through the quarter.

Highlighting the action in an otherwise languid third period that ended 16-5, was the performance of freshman Lee Carlson. Getting his first taste of action, Carlson came off the bench and scored two unassisted goals within 10 seconds. On his second goal, Carlson grabbed the faceoff and raced by his man, scoring unopposed.

In the fourth quarter, as most of the crowd began to leave, each team managed only one goal. There were a lot of missed shots and much loose ball play. Reserve goalie Steve Volker played well for Carolina during this period coming up with 10 saves.

Leading the scoring for UNC, other than Fett, were freshman Rob Hollis with three goals and five assists and Don Frazier with three goals.

Glen McKenzie added a goal and two assists as did another freshman, John Donato. Pete Miller, Joe Martin and Doug Arnold each picked up a lone tally.

Coach Paul Doty was disappointed with his team's overall play, marred by 17 penalties. He attributed the sloppy performance partially to the muddy conditions, but thought it largely a result of a letdown after the Maryland loss.

"Especially when you're tired," he said, "and you've lost to Maryland on Monday."

Carolina's next home game will be Thursday at 3 p.m. against N.C. State on the astroturf.
