Fulbright organizing trip to Hanoi

WASHINGTON-Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said Tuesday he is trying to organize a congressional visit to Hanoi to seek a full accounting of U.S. servicemen missing in action from the Indochina War.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he has been told that the State Department has no objection to the proposed trip and that it would share the hope that he would be successful.

· It has been estimated 1,300 servicemen still are missing throughout Indochina. Previous diplomatic efforts to determine their fate have been unsuccessful.

Rhodes wants committee questioned

WASHINGTON-House Republican Leader John J. Rhodes said Tuesday White House lawyers should have the opportunity to question the congressional committee which is scheduled to issue Wednesday its report on President Nixon's income taxes.

"The American people and tradition allows any person the time and opportunity to defend himself before any tribunal," Rhodes said after meeting for two hours with

Snail-eating champ hangs up tongs

HOUSTON-Showing more style and speed than 30 rivals, Rex Miller demonstrated the eloquence, grace and goodness of dining on escargot Monday night by eating 112 Moroccan snails in 15 minutes.

"You are tops in style," said chief judge Erik Worscheh of Houston's Petroleum

Miller retired from formal competition Tuesday and hung up his tongs and twopronged fork forever. "As far as escargot contests go, last night was my final performance," he said. "I

NEW YORK—President Nixon's brother testified Tuesday that a lawyer for financier Robert L. Vesco asked him to warn the President in 1972 that Vesco's secret $200,000 campaign contribution might be exposed.

F. Donald Nixon Sr. said he refused to do so, but suggested the lawyer get in touch with former Attorney General John N. Mitchell. "I said there is no way I can do this,"

Kennedy offers health measure

WASHINGTON-Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass. and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., proposed Tuesday a sweeping national health insurance plan to cover every American against medical costs regardless of their income or their need.

The bill, described by Mills is similar to a health bill sponsored by the administration and is a significant rollback from a broader, more expensive measure proposed by Kennedy.

The bill contains a castrophic illness provision whereby full cost of health services would be covered after a family had incurred annual medical expenses of $1,000.

Kennedy and Mills estimated the total cost of their program at about $40 billion annually, about $8 billion of which represents additional costs above present spending, but about the same as President Nixon's health proposals.

Tornado hits N.C.

CHARLOTTE-A tornado ripped through Cherryville early Tuesday, killing one person and destroying or damaging 25 mobile homes in two hard hit trailer parks.

"There were pieces of trailers scattered everywhere and some were completely flattened," said Ralph Towery, Cherryville's assistant fire chief.

On Monday, the National Weather Service counted 28 tornadoes along a storm belt stretching from Cincinnati, Ohio, to Huntsville, Ala. The two-day death toll was at least three, one each in Alabama, Kentucky and North Carolina.

Donald Nixon said at the federal court conspiracy trial of Mitchell and former Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans.

"It's been my policy ever since my brother has been in politics never to use that office for any purpose of mine or anyone I work for...l never talked to my brother about anything."

The 59-year-old Nixon was the first member of Nixon's family to testify in any of the current trials or investigations of alleged wrongdoing by Nixon Administration officials.

Nixon, who is retiring April 15 as a vice president of the Marriott Hotel chain because of ill health, testified for the prosecution.

He said New York attorney Howard Cerny, an old friend, came to his hotel room in New York just before the 1972 elections at a time when his son, F. Donald Nixon Jr., was working for Vesco.

"He said there had been a $200,000 contribution made to my brother's campaign and there was an SEC investigation in progress which could very likely expose this contribution and he felt this would be before the election and he wanted to get this information to the President," the witness

"I made it plain to Cerny I didn't want to get involved in any way with the Vesco case. I said if you want to get information to the President, you must know people, you have an office in Washington."

Chapin was told of dirty tricks

WASHINGTON-Confessed political saboteur Donald Segretti testified Tuesday he distributed phony letters in 1972 accusing Democratic presidential hopefuls Henry Jackson, Hubert Humphrey and Shirley Chisholm of sexual misconduct or mental problems.

Segretti said he sent to Dwight L. Chapin. President Nixon's former appointments secretary on trial for lying to a Watergate grand jury, copies of virtually everything involved in his dirty tricks campaign.

A federal jury heard Segretti, who served a 4 1/2 month jail term for election violations in the Nixon presidential campaign in 1972, acknowledge distribution of the bogus

He said the letters charged, among other things, that Senator Jackson of Washington had fathered an illegitimate child when he was in high school, and that Senator Humphrey of Minnesota was involved in an auto crash with a "known call girl" in his car.
