

SPORTSWEEK April 8-14

- Mon. Tennis, 2 p.m., Miami, Home Golf, Big Four Tournament, Winston-Salem Soccer, Varsity spring practice begins, Astro-Turf
- Tue. Baseball, Wake Forest, 2:30 p.m., Home Tennis, Duke, 2 p.m. Away Intramurals, Big Four Day
- Wed. Baseball, VPI, 2:30 p.m., Away Tennis, NCSU, 2 p.m., Away Golf, second round of Big Four, Raleigh
- Thurs. Lacrosse, Roanoke, 3 p.m., Home
- Fri. Baseball, Clemson, 2:30 p.m., Home
- Sat. Track, North Carolina Relays, Home
- Sun. Baseball, Duke, 2:30 p.m., Home

Netters crush Tigers...

by Susan Shackelford
Asst. Sports Editor

Carolina's male netters, returning from a two-match split on the road, crushed Clemson, 9-0, in front of packed home stands Sunday, giving them a 12-1 mark after a 5-4 loss at Princeton last week.

Sunday, in the end, it was their overheads that did it.

Scanning all six courts, UNC Coach Don Skakle could see that his emphasis on the overhead return is not fruitless strategy, especially not in the No. 1 position.

No. 1 Rich McKee repeatedly halted, as he sidled to the backcourt, to leap for an overhead smash, putting points away toward an eventual 7-5, 6-2 triumph.

The opening set for All-America McKee presented the most pressure from Indian opponent, Bhanu Nunna, who forced McKee to struggle with deep cross-court shots in the early stages.

McKee resorted to shots down the middle, eliminating the cross-court weapon and breaking Nunna's service at 6-5 in the first set, which generated momentum for the remainder of the match.

Rich Hardaway on court 2 also used the overhead to defeat Herb Cooper, 6-2, 6-4. "Hard" picked up the first win of the afternoon for the Heels, dominating throughout his contest, as he frequently drove his foe back to the fence before lofting a soft net shot to take the point.

None of the remaining matches continued past the second set as Billy Brock beat Ali Akbar, 6-4, 6-2 on court 3, Tommy Dixon glided past Asif Hussain, 6-2, 6-1, Joe Garcia hit for 6-3, 6-3 over Stefan Laporte, and Dave Oberstein followed with a similar 6-3, 6-3 edge over Pike Rowley.

In doubles McKee and Brock combined for a strong win over Nunna and Hussain on court 1, 6-1, 6-2. The second court resembled the first, as Dixon and Hardaway cruised by Cooper and Akbar in two, 6-1 sets.

Completing the day's volleys were Oberstein and Garcia. The UNC pair took their first set, 7-6, after a tie-breaker, assuming command from that point for a 6-3 second round and the match victory.

The visiting Tigers are the Heels' first home ACC victims of the season. Last Friday UNC won its initial ACC encounter when Maryland fell 6-2 at College Park. The contest ended 6-2 because the third court doubles match, belonging to Garcia and Oberstein was called for darkness.

The match will be finished as a preliminary to the ACC tournament, scheduled for a Clemson locale, April 26-28.

Today at home, the Tar Heels are entertaining undefeated Miami, which is currently No. 4 in the nation.

Coach Dale Lewis's Hurricanes bring No. 1 player Joaquim Rasgado to counteract UNC's McKee. Two years ago in the pair's only meeting, McKee beat the Brazilian 6-0, 6-1.

Sitckmen fall to UMBC

by John Dooley
Sports Writer

Obituary: Tar Heel lacrosse team dies at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County... or so it seemed Saturday afternoon in Baltimore when Carolina was stung by an aggressive young UMBC team, 10-7.

"We just didn't run," said a disappointed coach Paul Doty, "and that's all there is to it."

"I had the pre-game scouting report and I told our team to expect a tough game," he said. "We just couldn't get moving. Everyone was waiting for the other guy to take the initiative."

"It won't do you any good to analyze the scoring sheet," he added. "They beat us every way you can be beat — shots clears, ground balls and faceoffs." It was the first time Carolina had been beaten in the ground ball department this season, a clear indication that they suffered from an energy crisis.

The Tar Heels lay any hopes they had of salvaging a win slip by in the closing minutes of the last quarter. Trailing 6-3 at the half they had come back to make it 7-6 with less than five minutes to go. However UMBC outscored the Heels 3-1 during this interval to secure their cherished victory.

The Tar Heels managed only 38 shots — fewer than their output against both national powers Virginia and Maryland.

Carolina has been plagued by muddy fields and Baltimore teams all season and Saturday's game was no exception. While not offering extenuating circumstances for the loss, goalie Chuck Weinstein, who entered and left the lockerroom on crutches admitted the soggy field was a factor. "We're too used to playing on the Astro-Turf and we had trouble scooping the ball out of the mud," he said. "The turf can be a bad thing sometimes."

Weinstein who suffered an ankle sprain in last week's Virginia contest had been walking on crutches to keep from straining it. Nevertheless he had a good performance, coming up with 20 saves. Back-up goalie Steve Volker was also injured, leaving the goalie's situation in a precarious position.

Doty praised the effort of UMBC's young team that played no seniors. "We gave them a few breaks and they just took off" he said. Leading the scoring from the attack for Carolina was Bert Vett with three goals and an assist. Don Frazer followed with two goals and an assist and Robin Beran had a goal. Rob Hollis, playing both midfield and attack, also picked up a goal and an assist.

The loss, the third in a row for Carolina, brought the season record to 2-4.

Doty had his team out for a revival practice session Sunday afternoon, instituting a few new drills in preparation for Thursday's home game against Roanoke College.

Waldrop triumphs, may not run Sat.

by Jim Thomas
Sports Writer

Aching wisdom teeth may be the only thing that can stop Tony Waldrop from winning. A trip to the dentist may prevent Waldrop from competing in the Carolina Relays here this weekend.

Waldrop could have been shot full of novacaine Saturday and still have won the two-mile run in the South Carolina State Record Relays. He beat N.C. State's Jim Wilkins with an unspectacular time of 8:54.

Perhaps it was the wind gusting over 10 miles per hour, or the cold weather, or the lack of competition, or the state of South Carolina in general, but most likely the root of the problem will be discovered early Monday morning.

At that time a dentist will take a look at Waldrop's wisdom teeth and decide if the teeth have to be pulled. If they have to come out then Waldrop would be out for a couple of days and would not run this Saturday much to the disappointment of area fans who have been... er, uh... aching to see the world indoor mile record-holder run.

Waldrop was not the only one hurting. There were few spectacular performances at the State Record Relays which featured such teams as Cornell, Harvard, Georgia, Georgia Tech, East Tennessee, Baptist, Pembroke State and, of course, South Carolina.

Tommy Ward came in second in the mile with 4:14.8 as the race went down to the wire before the freshman standout was beaten by 0.1 second.

Kevin McLee was second in the 3,000-meter steeplechase with a time of 9:33, an improvement of seven seconds over his performance at the ACC Relays.

In relay competition, Carolina's sprint medley team came in second with 3:32.3. Peter LaRoche's throw of 199-9 1/2 was good for third in the javelin.

Sam Beasley leaped 24-2 1/2 in the long jump to come in third in stiff competition. Freshman Gil Vance spun the discus 166-1 1/2, and co-captain Danny Deacon vaulted a disappointing 14-6 as each took fourth place in their events.

An offensive victory

The Tar Heels utilized a new kind of football in Saturday's blue-white game as the offensive team played against the defensive team. Touchdowns were scored the usual way, while the defensive team was given one point for stopping a drive, and three points for forcing a turnover.

Led by the performances of tailbacks James Betterton, a junior, and sophomore Mike Voight, the offensive team ran over the defensive team, 53-37. Betterton netted 277 yards, scoring two touchdowns. Voight gained 274 yards and scored three touchdowns.

Not everybody played. Twenty Tar Heels missed the spring game, including defensive tackle Rod Broadway, linebacker Mark

JV Baseball

The UNC JV baseball team banged out 25 hits in a pair of weekend victories over Richmond Senior High and Mitchell College. The wins evened Carolina's record at 3-3.

The Tar Babies' 9-4 win over Mitchell Sunday stopped their winning streak at 18 games and ruined their chances of a perfect season. Leading the hitting parade for Carolina was Eddie Ball who had a perfect three for three day at the plate. Chipping in with two hits each were Mitch Nance, Marty Rasnake and David Gursoy.

In a Saturday night game at Rockingham, the Tar Babies pulled out the long-ball weapon to bomb Richmond Senior High 11-3. Gursoy hit two home runs in two trips, also driving in four runs. Charles Spivey added a two-run homer and a double in four trips. Carolina's fourth home run was hit by pinch-hitter Peter Eagleson.

Kenny Hudgins posted his first win of the season for Carolina.

STARTS TODAY SHOWS

Plaza 1

3:00
5:00
7:00
9:00

WOMEN WHO MAKE THE KIND OF OFFER A COP CAN'T REFUSE!

dirty oneil

THE LOVE LIFE

DEA COP

NOW PLAYING SHOWS:

Plaza 2

3:00
5:05
7:10
9:15

JON VOIGHT IS "CONRACK"

PG

5th DEMONIC WEEK

Plaza 3

SHOWS AT:
2:00-4:30
7:00-9:30

Nominated for 10 Academy Awards including Best Picture

THE EXORCIST

From Warner Bros.

Jefferson Standard believes students should be treated like people.

I'm "Rabbit" Giles, and believe me, I know. Formerly Head Cheerleader for the Tar Heels, now I'm a representative for Jefferson Standard Life in Chapel Hill. I specialize in selling the College Plan for seniors. This plan features $10,000 to $25,000 of permanent life insurance at a low, guaranteed premium. Guaranteed cash values, plus an option to buy up to $100,000 additional coverage in the future, regardless of insurability. And we'll even provide financing for the first annual premium. It's a really good deal and it's especially designed for you, the College Senior. Want to know more? Just give me a call.

Jefferson Standard
"Rabbit" Giles
110 South Estes Drive
Box 2424
Chapel Hill, N.C. 27614
Telephone 942-4194

CAROLINA NEWMAN REDFORD THE STING

1:50
4:10
6:30
8:50

LIMITED TWO DAY ENGAGEMENT Today and Tomorrow at 2 and 8 P.M.

"Agonizingly funny... a great movie!"
—Boston Herald American

ZERO MOSTEL
GENE WILDER
and
KAREN BLACK
IN EUGENE IONESCO'S

Produced by ELY LANDAU Directed by TOM O'HORGAN
Screenplay by JULIAN BARRY Executive Producer EDWARD LEWIS
Music by GALT MACDERMOT

Discount prices available to college students and senior citizens. Matinee performances only. Special discounts also available for high school student groups. Inquire Theatre Manager.

Varsity
121 E. FRANKLIN ST.
PHONE 942-3651

SPORTS

Women victorious in state tournament

by Kevin Barris
Sports Writer

The UNC women's tennis team, using their excellent depth to the fullest, came away with the team championship in the N.C. Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women tournament, held this past weekend in Chapel Hill.

The Tar Heels edged their closest competitor, Duke, by a 38-34 score. Scoring is on the basis of one point for every match won, regardless of the round.

Bad weather plagued the tournament the first two days, but most teams played well in spite of it. Carolina led 23-22 over Duke after the first day, then increased their advantage to 35-30 after Saturday's matches.

The first match which pitted Carolina against Duke came in the third round of the singles on Friday. UNC's Jean Scott, who had easily won her first two matches, lost a tough 6-4, 7-6, 6-2 match to seventh-seeded Mary Scott Allen of the Blue Devils. Allen went on to defeat her teammate, fourth-seeded Patty Mays, and Carolina's Stewart Smith before losing to the Tar Heels' Beth Hamilton in the semi-finals.

The number three seed, UNC's Jane Preyer, injured her ankle during Friday's play, but continued to play well. She eliminated two Duke players, Gaylee Gillim and Debbie Brooks, before losing in the semi-final round to the eventual winner, Cindy Johnson of Duke.

Johnson proved she deserved her No. 1 seeding, never losing a set on the way to the singles championship. The Tar Heels' Nina Cloaninger came closest to beating her, losing 7-6 in her first set with Johnson on a tiebreaker.

The best match of the tournament was the championship doubles match on Sunday with Johnson-Mays of Duke pitted against Carolina's Hamilton-Preyer. It looked as though the Blue Devils would run away with the match, as they grabbed an early first-set lead of 5-2. Hamilton and Preyer came back to win three straight, but Johnson and Mays won the first set 7-5.

The best tennis of the tournament was displayed in the second and third sets. Several points saw six or seven consecutive shots at the net, and all points were well played. Hamilton and Preyer came away with 6-2 win in the second set, and, after falling behind 4-1 in the third set, won five straight game to take the doubles title.

Appalachian State finished third in the event, with Elon and East Carolina tied for fourth. The tournament title is UNC's first tourney title of the year, while being unbeaten in regular play.

Golfers capture fifth

by Bill Kay
Sports Writer

In what Coach Jeanne Eller described as a "fine and well-run event," the UNC Women's Golf Team finished fifth overall in the two-day Women's Carolinas Collegiate Championship Golf Tournament at Furman University.

The tournament included 11 teams from North and South Carolina. After completing the first 18 holes of play Friday, the top 14 scores were slated for the championship flight on Saturday. The remaining 28 players were divided into a first and second flight.

As expected, host Furman ran away with team honors in the stroke play tournament.

Men set for Big 4

Winston-Salem is the site of the first day of play in the Big Four Golf Tournament, and it comes as no surprise that Wake Forest is heavily favored to walk away with the coveted crown.

The four-day, 72-hole shootout starts today, and switches to State's home course in Raleigh on Wednesday. The final two days of the event will take place in Durham and on Carolina's Finley Golf Course, but dates have not been set.

Carolina golfers Brad Burris, Mark Andrew, Pete Wallenborn, Skip Dunaway, Sid Aldridge, David Fink and Ted Culp will compete in Winston-Salem.

"Wake must be considered the top favorite," Coach Mike McLeod said, "and on past performance State has to be rated second best in the field."

"We hope to catch State and feel that we always have a chance against the best in Wake. All our players are capable but they have yet to hit a consistent stride.

"UNC will be well represented and hopefully we hit our top form for this always important event," McLeod said.

He added that top freshman prospect Scott Humrickhouse, who has been out all season with a broken foot, is expected to be in the lineup for the ACC Tournament coming up later in the month. "He's as good a player as we have, and possibly the best," McLeod said.

Thesis Due?

Let Insta•Copy help you meet that deadline!

- Fast Overnight Service (no extra charge)
- Quality Work Guaranteed (meets Graduate School specifications)
- Top-Quality Paper (100% Cotton Bond)
- Collating

Insta•Copy
Franklin & Columbia Street (over The Zoom)

929-0170 9-6 Mon-Fri. 10-4 Sat.

THE RETURN & SOUND OF THE TRUMPET

Wake Forest University Board Presents

ARLO GUTHRIE

Sunday, May 5
8:15 p.m.

Wait Chapel, Wake Forest University

Reserved Seating $5.00. Send self-addressed stamped envelope to Wake Forest Ticket Office, Box 7225 Reynolds Station, Winston-Salem, N.C. 27109. Phone 725-9711, Extension 552.