

Tentative Action plan implemented; summer hiring results ready soon

by Jim Roberts
Staff Writer

Although the UNC Affirmative Action plan has not yet received final approval from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, a tentative plan is being implemented, and results of summer hiring should be available at the end of September.

Douglass Hunt, UNC's Affirmative Action officer, acknowledged he is required to report by Sept. 30 the percentage of women and minorities employed by the University.

The Affirmative Action plan was established to meet HEW's goals of increasing the percentage of women and minority members on the staff and faculty.

In the past Hunt has stressed that the goals of Affirmative Action are not static since the HEW goals are always being revised. If approved, the plan will be used for three years with revisions made when necessary. Thereafter, new goals will be established.

Student Government President Marcus Williams said he did not know whether the University had met any hiring goals yet, but he said he hasn't "noticed any new faces around."

Williams also said that, if the September report is inconsistent with his expectations, he plans to initiate action himself. He did not specify any actions.

UNC first submitted a plan to HEW on July 1, 1973. It was subsequently rejected although HEW did say UNC's intentions were made in good faith.

After discussions with HEW officials about the plan's deficiencies, UNC officials provided more statistics and information in a second plan, submitted in February. UNC still awaits its approval.

The University hopes to fulfill the following goals through hiring by July 30, 1976:

- In departments of academic affairs the University will increase the percentage of black faculty members from 1.3 to 3.2 per cent, and increase the percentage of women faculty from 10.3 to 13.4 per cent;

- In the schools of health affairs, the plan proposes to increase black faculty from 1.3 to 4.7 per cent and women faculty from 3.5 to 24.8 per cent;

- Blacks covered under the State Personnel Act will increase from 24 to 27.5 per cent, and the percentage of women covered under the act will remain at 38 per cent. The State Personnel Board sets pay scales for certain state employees according to a classification system of their abilities;

- University employees exempt from the State Personnel Act will increase from 4.4 to 6.2 per cent, and women are to increase from 31.1 to 32.8 per cent.

Registration extended

by Laura Toler
Staff Writer

The Chapel Hill Police Department has extended the period during which town residents may register bikes. Although the town ordinance establishing mandatory registration requires all bikes be registered in September, officers will not ticket violators until after Dec. 1.

"We are giving them three months in which to register," a police department spokesman said Sunday. "We could not possibly register all the bikes in town within 30 days."

Town officials held a ceremony at the Municipal Building Friday to officially begin the registration period. Police Lt. Arnold Gold, Mayor Howard Lee, Town Manager Chet Kendzior and Alderman Alice Welsh were on hand to answer questions about the program.

One town resident who registered his bike Saturday said the police were somewhat unsure of the registration procedures. Instead of evaluating each piece of equipment according to size and color, the citizen said, an officer began by assessing the bike's seat as "one" and wheels as "two."

Registration stations at the town and campus police departments and the three town fire departments will provide bicyclists with bike safety manuals and town decals for their vehicles. Bikes will be inspected for proper equipment, and a charge of 50 cents per bike will be collected. Each vehicle will be identified for police files by serial, model and frame number.

After Dec. 1, violators will be given a warning and seven days to register. If they fail to do so, they may then be fined up to 10 dollars. Those purchasing bikes or moving them to town after Dec. 1 will have 30 days in which to register. Although non-residents may ride unregistered bikes on Chapel Hill streets, the Carrboro Board of Aldermen is expected to vote on a similar registration ordinance later this week.

The main objective of bike registration is to enable police to identify the owners of stolen bikes they recover. Bike theft has become an increasingly serious problem in the Chapel Hill area, Lt. Charles Maurer said. He said $21,000 worth of bicycles was lost this year from February through June.

Registration stations will offer bicyclists an additional, non-mandatory means of identifying bikes. Each registrant may have his driver's license number, or that of a parent, stamped onto the underside of the bike frame.

Registration will be conducted Monday through Friday at the fire departments from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and at the Chapel Hill Police Department from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The campus police will open a station and set hours later this week.

Campus Calendar

Today's Activities

There will be a meeting of the Student Academic Affairs Committee and of the Student Academic Advisors tonight at 7:30 in Suite C of the Union. Please be prompt.

All members of the Attorney General's staff should come by the office to sign up for this year's staff. Interviews for the Attorney General's staff will be held Monday through Thursday in the office. Students should come by and sign up.

The first official rush party of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Society will be held Monday night, from 7:30 until 8:30 in the first floor lounge of James. All non-Greek women are invited to attend.

There will be a meeting for all persons interested in selling programs at the football games this season at 7:30 Monday night in 304 Woolan Gym.

Need last minute help in applying to medical school for next fall? Come to the Information Library of the Guidance and Testing Center, Nash Hall at 8 p.m. Monday evening.

Items of Interest

North Carolina Prospective Teacher Scholarship/Learn funds for fall semester are now available in the Student Aid Office any day Monday through Friday from 9-5. Jim Spaight, program representative for the scholarship division will meet with all North Carolina Prospective Teacher Scholarship/Learn recipients at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Carvel Hall Auditorium. It is most important that recipients attend this meeting. If for some reason anyone is unable to attend it may mean you will have to make a special trip to Raleigh to talk with a representative of this program. A second meeting will be held at 3 p.m. for those who cannot attend the first one.

Problems related to any aspect of sexuality? The Human Sexuality Information and Counseling Service may be able to help you find the answers. To find out, drop by Room 256, Suite B of the Union, at any of the following hours: 1-5, 7:30-9:30 p.m., Monday through Wednesday and 7:30-9:30 p.m. on Thursday. Call 933-9955 any time.

Carolyn Prescott and Helen Smith will have a show of paintings, prints and drawings at the Wesley Center from Sept. 9-27.

Computation Short Course. Overview of Interactive and Remote Batch Computing. Learn more about those techniques in your department or dorm. Call Brandon Futrell, 933-9501, to register. Phillips 228, 3 p.m.

Law School Admission Test: Registration forms for the Oct. 12 testing are available in the Guidance and Testing Center, Nash Hall. These must be postmarked no later than Sept. 12. The fee is $13. An additional late fee of $4 will be charged for forms postmarked between Sept. 13 and Sept. 19.

UNC-Duke joint Physics Collection: Professor F. Hoveis of Phillips-Underhill Marburg will speak on "The Molecules Transition in Expanded Fluid Matter" at 4 p.m. Tuesday in Room 265 Phillips.

There will be a CGC meeting Tuesday at 7:30 in the AVERY SOCIAL ROOM, in the basement of Avery Dorm.

An orientation meeting for Murdoch Center volunteers will be held at 7:15 Thursday in Room 213 of the Union. A film on mental retardation will be shown. All interested persons please attend.

North Carolina Student Legislation is accepting applications at the Union Information desk through Sept. 12. Graduate School Foreign Language Test. For the Oct. 12 testing sign up by Sept. 13, 3 p.m. in 101 Nash Hall. $13 check payable to UNC. New sign-up procedure for this year.

Computation Short Course. Job Control Language. Four sessions, Sept. 16, 17, 18 (Tuesday, Thursday). Call Brandon Futrell, 933-9501, to register. Phillips 228, 3:30 p.m.

The Campus Young Democrats will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 217 of the Union. Everyone is cordially invited.

Styding? The UNC Parachute Club will hold its first class of the semester Sept. 10, 11 and 12, your first jump to be made the weekend following. For more information call Tony Cookrell at 933-9537.

Anyone interested in bowling for the UNC Bowling Team please contact Jeff Stillwagon at the Union Bowling Lanes between 1-5 p.m. Tuesday.

Cesar Chavez, president of the United Farm Workers Union will speak on campus Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall. Chavez, the most recent winner of the Martin Luther King Jr. Non-Violent Peace Prize, is internationally renowned as a spokesman for social justice for all peoples. Admission is free; donations for the UFW strikes and boycott will be accepted.

The Dialectic and Philanthropic Literary Societies invite you to an evening with Thomas Wolfe, William Faulkner, Michael McCure, T.S. Eliot and John Randolph of Roanoke, in a program of public readings and addresses in poetry and prose. At 8 p.m. Thursday in the DI Chambers, Third Floor, New West.

The GPF Senate will meet Thursday, September 12th, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 217 of the Carolina Union. This is an open meeting; all graduate and professional students are encouraged to attend.

Campus Calendar runs announcements for any campus event during the week the event is scheduled. For Monday announcements will be run the preceding Friday. To get an announcement in, drop a note in the Campus Calendar desk in the DTW office, including the time, place and nature of the event.

Evidence

Continued from page 1

land" by misuse of such agencies as the Internal Revenue Service to harass his political enemies.

It did not deal with a host of other issues—all under investigation by Jaworski—such as the Ellsberg break-in, ITT, possible tax fraud, improper campaign funding, bribery and misuse of political funds.

From what is on the public record, it appears a Watergate case against Nixon might have included these elements:

- As early as June 20, 1972, just three days after the Watergate bugging arrests, Nixon held a long discussion with chief aide H.R. Haldeman. The resulting rape is marred by an 18½ minute gap although Nixon has said the tape was under his "sole personal control."

- On June 23, 1972, Nixon ordered Haldeman to have the CIA block the FBI's Watergate probe.

- In July 1972, and again in January 1973, Nixon discussed the possibility of executive clemency for the Watergate burglars with aide Charles W. Colson; in April 1973, he directed that assurances of clemency be extended to three key White House and campaign aides.

- In March 1973, Nixon named his deputy campaign director, Jeb Stuart Magruder, to a high government job after Magruder had perjured himself at the Watergate trial and before the grand jury at a time Magruder was beginning to waver on the cover-up.

- On March 21, 1973, Nixon endorsed payment of additional "hush money" to Watergate burglar E. Howard Hunt Jr. saying that "should buy time."

- In the spring of 1973, Nixon passed on to prime cover-up suspects on his staff information on the progress of the grand jury investigation given him in confidence by Assistant Attorney General Henry E. Petersen.

The Judiciary Committee charged that Nixon also refused to cooperate with authorities pursuing the case and had released as "accurate" tape transcripts that were marred by "omissions of words and passages, misattributions of statements, additions, paraphrases, distortions, non-sequiturs and deletions of sections" of crucial importance.

The indictment of six former White House and campaign aides who go to trial for the cover-up Sept. 30 does not mention Nixon by name. But one of the overt acts charged in furtherance of the conspiracy is "a meeting at the White House" on March 21 last year at which Hunt's money demands were discussed.

That tape revealed Nixon saying that meeting the demand was "something you damn well better get done." According to the indictment, $75,000 was delivered to Hunt that night.

Through it all, Nixon repeatedly denied wrong-doing. Even in making public the most damaging evidence against himself on Aug. 5, he referred only to "whatever mistakes" he had made.

In accepting pardon Sunday, Nixon again admitted no guilt.

"I know that many fair-minded people believe my motivations in the Watergate affair were intentionally self-serving and illegal," he said. "I now understand how my own mistakes and misjudgments have contributed to that belief and seemed to support it. This burden is the heaviest one of all to bear."

The case of Richard M. Nixon was thus closed without a legal determination.

College students have enough expenses already!

That's why The Northwestern Bank wants every college student in Chapel Hill to have a free checking account. Just stop by our office at the corner of Franklin Street and Elliot Road and open yours. No service charge. No minimum balance required. Few things in college are free! This is!

THE NORTHWESTERN BANK
Member FDIC

Corner of Franklin Street and Elliot Road
Chapel Hill, North Carolina

Man wounded in shooting listed in good condition

A Chapel Hill man shot late Saturday night was listed in good condition at N.C. Memorial Hospital Sunday afternoon.

Kurt Harris, of Greenway Trailer Park, was admitted to the hospital at 12:45 a.m. Sunday with two .22 calibre wounds in his left side.

Chapel Hill police say an argument between Harris and Charles Poole resulted in the shooting. Poole, of Sykes St. in Chapel Hill, has been charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Harris, who is in his early twenties, is scheduled to be removed from the intensive care unit this morning.

Enjoy Coca-Cola. The soft drink for people looking for the fun things in life. It's the real thing. Coke. Durham Coca-Cola Bottling Co.

An artist's wonderland — that's your on-campus art department...

The most complete center in the Triangle for the professional, amateur, and student artist. Literally thousands of first-quality items for painting, graphic arts, sculpture, printmaking, drafting and other art media.

A partial listing of our art materials:

- Oils
- Acrylics
- Watercolors
- Tempera
- Brushes
- Besso
- Charcoal
- Pallet Knives
- Artist & Technical Pens & Pencils
- Fixatives
- Sketch Pads
- Easels
- Stretched Canvas
- Unretreated Canvas
- Dry-transfer Letters, Screens, Patterns
- Silk Screen
- Sculpture tools
- Clay
- Linoleum cutters & block
- Stencils
- Balsa wood
- Knives
- Papers of all kinds & grades
- Mat board
- Poster board
- Canvas board
- Duo-Mats
- Engineering Supplies

By these manufacturers:

- Speedball
- Naz-Dar
- Shive
- Sculpture House
- Letraset
- Zip-a-Line
- Para-Tone
- Krylon
- 3M
- Blair
- Staedtler
- Dri-Mark
- Eagle
- Koh-i-noor
- Eberhard Faber
- Morilla
- Ampad
- X-acto
- Rapidograph
- Grumbacher
- Liquitex
- Hyplar
- Fidelis
- Vanguard
- Permanent Pigments
- Dana
- Aquatone
- Winsor-Newton
- Pelikan
- Speedball
- Delta
- Robert Simmons
- Bienfang
- K&E Albanene

WELCOME BACK SPECIALS!

BIENFANG Rough Newsprint Pads 5¢ 2¢	Vanguard ACRYLICS 10% Off	MAT BOARD $1.15	RAW CANVAS 1.79 yd.
--	--	--------------------------------	-----------------------------------

STUDENT STORES
on campus.

OPENS 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Mon.-Fri. 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Sat. Football Saturdays 9 a.m.-6 p.m.

Special Showing of

Maps and Prints to make your Rooms Refreshed.

The Old Book Corner
137 A East Rosemary Street
Opposite NCNB Plaza
Chapel Hill, N.C. 27514

The Daily Tar Heel is published by the University of North Carolina Student Publications Board, daily except Sunday, exam periods, vacation, and summer periods. No Sunday issue. The following dates are to be the only Saturday issues: September 14, October 5 & 19, and November 2, 16 & 23.

Offices are at the Student Union building, Univ. of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N.C. 27514. Telephone numbers: News, Sports — 933-1011; 933-1012; Business, Circulation, Advertising — 933-1163. Subscription rates: $20.00 per year; $10.00 per semester.

Second class postage paid at U.S. Post Office in Chapel Hill, N.C.

The Campus Governing Council shall have powers to determine the Student Activities Fee and to appropriate all revenue derived from the Student Activities Fee (1.1.14 of the Student Constitution).

The Daily Tar Heel reserves the right to regulate the typographical tone of all advertisements and to revise or turn away copy if considered objectionable.

The Daily Tar Heel will not consider adjustments or payments for any typographical errors or erroneous insertion unless notice is given to the Business Manager within (1) one day after the advertisement appears, or within one day of the resending of last sheets or subscription of the paper. The Daily Tar Heel will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of an advertisement scheduled to run several times. Notice for such correction must be given before the next insertion.

Murray Pool Business Mgr.