'Space Saver' tires risky

Almost one million "Space Saver" tires are dangerous, and users run the risk of personal injury, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

The "Space Saver," manufactured by the B.F. Goodrich Tire Company of Akron, Ohio, was used as a standard or optional spare tire on many 1967 through 1973 model cars.

The administration advises all owners of the tires manufactured prior to 1973 to avoid inflating or using them until they have been checked, tested or replaced by authorized personnel.

The possible hazard is an "explosive separation of the tire from the rim during inflation or mounting," according to the administration. Sixteen serious injuries — including two fatalities — were sustained when the tires exploded while being inflated for emergency use.

The "Space Saver" is easily recognizable by its greatly reduced diameter and uninflated size. Users are supplied with a special pressurized canister which inflates the tire.

Condominium hearing tonight

A public hearing on a proposed condominium development south of Morgan Creek heads the agenda for the Chapel Hill Board of Aldermen tonight.

The complex, to be built by a group of South Carolina businessmen, will span 150 acres. Each of the 225 condominiums will sell for $75,000.

The aldermen will also consider a request from Granville Towers to permit construction of a driveway from Cameron Avenue to Granville parking lot. The Granville management said this driveway would relieve congestion on Franklin Street and separate the parking area from University Square.

In 1968, the board permitted only the Franklin Street access in order not to detract from the residential character of the Cameron and Mallette street area.

A resolution of intent to join with ECOS in a suit to block construction of Interstate 40 routes I and IA will be placed before the board. ECOS feels that present environmental impact statements concerning the proposed route do not consider alternatives to the road such as bus or train travel, highway planning and land use coordination, or the road's impact on Duke Forest.

At their last meeting the aldermen asked this resolution be drafted.

Extension of the bicycle licensing deadline from Sept. 30 to Dec. 1 will also be considered by the board. Alderman Gerry Cohen will introduce this motion since the police have indicated they will observe the later date anyway.

Residence court openings

The Residence Court has 24 openings. Petitions for the Court positions must be turned in before 5 p.m. today in Suite C. A twenty-five signature petition is required before a student's name can be placed on the ballot.

The Residence Court, as set up by the judicial reform bill, handles only residence hall violations. Three positions are open in each district.

North Campus districts are:

- District I: Granville West and Granville South.
- District II: Cobb, Aycock, Everett, Graham, Lewis, Stacy and Joyner.
- District III: Alexander, Connor, Winston, Grimes, Manly, Mangum, Ruffin, Old East and Old West.
- District IV: Carr, Alderman, Kenan, McIver, Spencer, Whitehead and Granville East.

South Campus districts are:

- District I: Ehringhaus and undergraduates at Craige.
- District II: James.
- District III: Morrison.
- District IV: Avery, Parker and Teague.

Correction

The DTH would like to correct misrepresentations of statements made by Yvonne Dew in last week's article on James dormitory.

Certain statements taken out of context made her seem more critical of James than she really is.

The DTH regrets the errors.

Discounts for dorms

A contract that would substantially decrease a dorm's expenses for party supplies was considered by the Dorm Trade Association Sept. 19.

Under the contract, proposed by Friar's Cellar manager Joe O'Connor, dorms could purchase beer from the beverage store for 12 per cent above (wholesale) cost and wine for 20 per cent above cost.

Dorms now purchase beer for 25 to 30 per cent above cost, O'Connor said. Wine is usually sold for 35 to 60 per cent above cost.

Similar reductions would be offered regarding other items such as cheeses and party meats which may be included in the contract.

"We are trying to consolidate the dorms' buying power," association president Bill Bates said. "It is important, if we are going to sign the contract, that all the dorms participate. The reason Friar's Cellar can give us such a discount is due to the volume all the dorms would generate."

O'Connor said, "We're trying to offer a full package so we can handle any type of party."

Friar's Cellar also has a contract with UNC-G that is similar to the one under association consideration.

If the dorms sign the contract, they are obligated to purchase the items included exclusively from Friar's Cellar. A final decision on the contract will be made at the next association meeting, to be held 7 p.m. Oct. 3 in Avery basement.

South pole of Mercury

This photo, taken Saturday by Mariner 10's TV camera, shows the south pole of the Planet Mercury. The pole is located inside the large crater in the picture's bottom center. The photo was taken 53,200 miles from the planet's surface during the Mariner probe's second flyby and transmitted to the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, Calif. Mercury is the smallest planet in the solar system and the closest to the sun.
