

Carolina field hockey players Holly Nisbet and Kathy Burwell scrap with UNC-Greensboro goalie in the second and third games, but overall we didn't play as well as we're capable of playing.

Against Duke in home opener Hockey seeks first win

The UNC women's field hockey team attempts to halt a two-game skid when it entertains Duke at 3 p.m. today on Hinton-James field. It is Carolina's first home match of the year.

The Heels opened the season last week with a pair of 2-1 setbacks, against Appalachian State Tuesday and UNC-Greensboro Thursday.

Coach Ann Gregory has changed the on-field alignment for the second time this season, reverting back to the traditional 5-3-2-1 set-up, after trying a new, potentially more versatile system in the first two games.

Gregory said the team was not using the system to its fullest advantage, and reverted to the 5-3-2-1 alignment at times during the games.

Against Appalachian, Gregory, who was not pleased with the movement of her players, complained, "We were too rigid in our positions." Several team members agreed. "We just got beat to the ball," said forward Vicky Greenwood.

Gregory noted a lack of time to work on the opening game mistakes before traveling to Greensboro two days later, where again a lack of movement prevented the Heels from mounting many sustained offensive charges. UNC did not score until the final six minutes.

Gregory said she hopes the change to the familiar system and a week of practices will give the Heels a good shot at the visitors from Durham today.

However, she said she does not know exactly what to expect from the Blue Devil team. "They have a high turnover of players," she said. "Last year's team was nothing like the one the year before that. But they are usually good since they have a lot of people from the north."

Duke, a 3-2 victor over the Heels last year, is coached by Dottie Williams and assisted by James Barnes, an undergraduate at UNC. Barnes worked out with the Tar Heels last year but was prevented from playing by the UNC Athletic Department because of his sex. He was approached by the Duke officials last May about the job as assistant coach.

The Devils have a 1-1-1 record so far this year, after going 8-1 last season. The top returnees are forwards Cathy Strachan and Muff Roukoc and halfback Buff Dobbin.

That threesome will lead Duke against a UNC lineup of forwards Holly Nisbet, Vicky Greenwood, Kathy Burwell, Bashi Buba and Laurie Ginter; halfbacks JoAnn Frawowicz, Laurie Woodward and Susan McCandless; fullbacks Lucy Sherman and Laura Brown and goalie Patty Williams.

Volleyballers split; home tonight

by Ed Rankin
Staff Writer

The Carolina women's volleyball team lost a disappointing match to Winthrop College but bounced back to defeat Elon College in a tri-match at Elon Tuesday. Carolina now stands 6-2 for the season.

The Tar Heels could not generate any momentum in the first game of the match with Winthrop and lost 15-7. Carolina evened the match when they won the second game 15-7. Strong serving by sophomore Donna Gutterman, who served five straight points, and a rejuvenated offense were keys to the Tar Heel win. UNC roared to a 10-4 lead in the rubber game of the match, but Winthrop fought back to tie the score at 14-14. Winthrop then scored the next two points to win 16-14.

"We were pretty flat for the whole match," said UNC Head Coach Beth Miller. "We showed some improvement in the second and third games, but overall we didn't play as well as we're capable of playing."

The Tar Heels broke out of their slump in the second match by romping over Elon, last year's runner-up in the state tournament. Co-captain Annmarie Wagstaff contributed to the first win of the match by opening the game with ten straight serves. An aggressive UNC defense contained Elon's offense as the Tar Heels won easily, 15-1.

their strong play in the second game of the match behind the strong serving of sophomore Mary Alice Abdalla, defeating Elon 15-5.

Carolina faces Catawba College and UNC-Greensboro, last year's state champions, in an important match here today. "UNC-G is a big match for us, but we've got to play better against them than we did Tuesday to win," remarked Miller.

Club sports unbeaten

Tennis results

In Wednesday's DTH, scores of the Duke-Carolina women's tennis match in Durham Tuesday were omitted because of space. The Blue Devils won the match 6-2. In the second court doubles match, UNC's Linda Matthews and Jean Scott and Duke's Cindy Johnson and Emily Waugh agreed to halt play because of darkness with the score 4-4 in the second set. The Duke team won the first set, 6-4.

Scores in Tuesday's Duke-Carolina women's tennis match: singles: Cindy Johnson (D) d. Camey Timberlake 6-3, 3-6, 7-6; Susie Black (C) d. Patty Mays 6-2, 6-0; Emily Waugh (D) d. Suzanne Bowron 6-2, 6-3; Nina Cloaninger (C) d. Margaret Duncan 6-1, 6-4; Theresa Donahue (D) d. Rebecca Garcia 6-3, 6-4; and Erin Wolf (D) d. Linda Matthews 6-4, 6-4.

Doubles: Donahue-Mays (D) d. Cloaninger-Garcia 6-4, 6-4; Wolf-Matthews (D) d. Sites-Dodson 6-4, 2-6, 6-3. The second court doubles match was not completed.

Davidson 22-6 on the Astro-Turf, before a crowd of over 450. The Heels were led by co-captains Harvey Pons and John Roberts, who combined to rush for over 200 yards. Also outstanding in the win were offensive linemen Bob Berger and Bill Herndon, defensive tackles Ron Williams and Billy Murphy, and safety Paul Sanger.

Lou Guigou, who has kicked field goals of 47, 42, and 38 yards the last two seasons, missed attempts of 55 and 38 yards, the 55-yard try falling short and the other sailing wide.

Last week the club was scheduled to play American University (AU) in Washington, D.C. AU forfeited the game, however, because of administrative and student government problems.

Soccer

The Chapel Hill Soccer Club, one of two such soccer teams in Chapel Hill, is hoping its 4-0 record indicates strong chances in the state championships set for early December.

A highlight of the season will be a Thanksgiving invitational tournament hosted by both Chapel Hill clubs. All 10 conference teams will be invited, as well as one team from both Vermont and New Jersey.

All games are played on Fetzer Field unless poor field conditions force play to the Astro-Turf.

The club hosts Duke this Sunday at 2 p.m.

"WHY DO THE HEATHEN RAGE?"

Second Psalms and Acts 4:25

(NOTE: This column first appeared in newspaper circles over 13 years ago. Through the blessing of God, 42 city dailies and 12 prominent college papers are presently publishing the column. Partial list of cities include Providence, Tacoma, Sacramento, Phoenix, Tallahassee, Atlanta and Washington, D.C. College papers are: Princeton, Yale, Vassar, State Universities of Georgia, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Florida, California at Berkeley, California at Los Angeles, Texas at Austin, Ohio State University, Kansas, Washington, Delaware, Denver, Maryland, and now the University of North Carolina.)

Schools and colleges open their doors, their arms to embrace, and their "mouths to swallow up" myriads of millions of children and young people.

"WHAT MANNER OF CHILD SHALL THIS BE!" So said the people throughout all the hill country of Judea when John the Baptist was born. John's father had been dumb and unable to speak for nine months—"So the curse causeless shall not come!" Proverbs 26:2—the more this verse comes to mind in such a time as this, the more we ought to think of it day and night! The cause of the curse of dumbness that struck John's father was the sin of "unbelief"—he questioned the message God sent to him by the Angel Gabriel! Dumbness in testifying as we ought to do as Christians is responsible for no telling how much of "the curse" upon us as individuals, families, cities, states, and our nation—DUMBNESS AND DISBELIEF! Read and meditate upon the experience of John the Baptist's father in the first chapter of Luke's Gospel. Note the "Faith" of the Virgin Mary when The Angel brought her the message from God.

What manner of people will these myriads of millions of young people now entering schools turn out to be? "And Jesus called a little child unto Him, and sat him in the midst of them, and said, Verily, I say unto you, except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.—But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in Me, IT WERE BETTER FOR HIM THAT A MILL STONE WERE HANGED ABOUT HIS NECK, AND THAT HE WERE DROWNED IN THE DEPTH OF THE SEA!"—Matthew 18:2.

Over fifty years ago a young man sat in a class at a university and heard an eminent Doctor Professor say regarding the first part of Genesis: "IT IS MYTH!" About the same time another professor said to his class: "All thinking people have gotten over the idea that the Bible is inspired." Having been raised in the atmosphere and climate of "faith" that "The Scriptures of The Old and The New Testaments were the only infallible rule of faith and practice whereby to glorify God," such statements troubled this young man, for he considered that these men had more sense than he did and that they probably were better educated than his former teachers. However, though just a boy, as he now looks back he is thankful for one reaction he immediately had towards the prominent doctor, for the boy seemed to "smell a rat," or the odor of hypocrisy and asked himself: "What is he doing in the church, and a prominent officer in his denomination? Why don't he get out?" Whether the other bird was a church member or not is not definitely known, but think he was. If either of these men had honesty and integrity enough to realize they were breaking solemn vows made to God, in His house, in the presence of His people as witnesses, doubtless their pride, presumption and self-conceit had choked to death at birth any such sentiments, or very soon thereafter! For a time this boy shared some of these men's unbelief, but after "searching the scriptures" in order to determine whether to get out or stay in the church, he was fully persuaded to more and more and further and further to "get in." He also soon "got the number" of these learned men when he found that "in the wisdom of God, the world by its wisdom know not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe." 1st Corinthians 1:21.

For his own profit, and for that of any he might have the opportunity to influence, later on he undertook to make an analysis of these two men. You can make it of yourself or another by knowing or guessing at their age. Make it especially of "unbelievers" whether in or out of the church, and those who attack the Word of God, and today their name is "many legions;" some are even in our churches passing themselves off as Christians and "called of God to preach!"

This analysis was suggested by a question God asked Job—Job 38:4, etc.: "Where were you when I laid the foundations of the world—when the morning stars sang together—and all the sons of God shouted for joy?" The younger of these two men was probably in his late twenties: so, where was he just about thirty years ago? He was in his father's loins—rather difficult to imagine what he looked like then! 29 years ago he was in his mother's womb. 28 years ago he was a helpless little baby, unconscious of being alive, and unable to utter intelligent speech. About 27 years ago he was still a helpless infant but beginning to say: "What's this? what's that? why this? why that? etc." Marvel of marvels, however, for in a little more than a score of years, he is sitting in a Professor's Chair in a University passing out the information that The Bible, the Word of God Almighty is not inspired!

THE BIBLE BOOK OF BOOKS, which has endured through the centuries, and has born the heat and burden of battles with kings, rulers, worldly wise, men and devils, ever since "the snake in the Garden" (Genesis chapter three) lifted up its voice against it. Yet it has come forth victorious over all and still stands.

Its enemies have fought it with fire and sword, gibbets, crosses, and every sort of torture men and devils could devise! Still it stands to bless, or curse, "The Savior of life unto life, or death unto death. The Word of God is quick and powerful—Hebrews 4:12. You just ought to read and get familiar with it! Don't try to appraise it, but rather aim at seeing how it appraises you, yourself! It is your duty if you have taken vows to God in joining some Evangelical Protestant Christian Church. God has given us one day in seven especially for this purpose.

From Martin Luther's Table Talk: "That The Bible is God's Word and book I prove thus: All things that have been, and are, in the world, and the manner of their being, are described in the first book of Moses on the creation; even as God made and shaped the world, so does it stand to this day. Infinite potentates have raged against this Book, and sought to destroy and uproot it—king Alexander the Great, the princes of Egypt and Babylon, the monarchs of Persia, of Greece and Rome, the emperors Julius and Augustus—but they prevailed nothing; they are all gone and vanished, while the Book remains, and will remain for ever and ever, perfect and entire, as it was declared at the first. Who has helped it—who has protected it against such mighty forces? No one, surely, but God Himself, who is Master of all things. And 'tis no small miracle how God has so long preserved and protected this Book: for the devil and the world are sore foes to it.—God, with singular strength, has upheld these things.—Homer, Virgil, and other noble, fine, and profitable writers have left us books of great antiquity, but they are naught to The Bible!"
