Israel, Arabs agree to resume peace talks from the wires of United Press International

UNITED NATIONS—Israel agreed today with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's proposal to resume the Geneva Middle East peace conference without participation of the Palestine Liberation Organization and then discuss PLO representation later.

Israeli Ambassador Chaim Herzog told a news conference this was made clear in the invitations from the United States and the Soviet Union—cochairpersons of the conference—to the original Geneva talks in 1973.

Remarks by Sadat in Cairo and by Egyptian Ambassador Ahmed Esmat Abdel Meguid in the Security Council here, in which the latter referred to reconvening the Geneva conference "on the previous basis," are "exactly what we have been saying all along," Herzog said.

Israel is boycotting the current Council debate, which Herzog said was designed by Syria to undermine the current Middle East negotiating machinery—namely the Geneva conference.

Moore receives life sentence

SAN FRANCISCO—A federal judge Thursday sentenced Sara Jane Moore to the maximum term of life in prison for attempting to assassinate President Ford and said she never would have tried it if she could have been sentenced to death.

The judge berated her as a product of a permissive society. "You wouldn't be standing before me if we had an effective capital punishment law," U.S. District Judge Samuel Conti told the 45-year-old ex-FBI informant. "The one thing people care about is their skin. If you had thought that the moment you pressed that trigger it would cost your life, you wouldn't have pressed it."

Before her sentencing, Miss Moore said she felt no remorse for having attempted to take Ford's life and added that she still considers assassination a "valid political tool." But she said she would not counsel anyone else to attempt an assassination.

Miss Moore pleaded guilty Dec. 16 to firing a shot at President Ford from across the street as he walked out of the St. Francis Hotel after giving a speech. The shot missed him by five feet, and Miss Moore was immediately taken into custody. It was the first shot fired at a President since John F. Kennedy was killed in Dallas 12 years ago.

Her sentence was the second life prison term handed down within a month to women in California who had tried to assassinate Ford. Last month Lynette Fromme, a follower of mass murderer Charles Manson, received the same sentence for pointing a gun at the President in Sacramento, Calif., on Sept. 5.

Miss Moore said she was asked by probation officers whether she felt sorry for trying to kill Ford, and she replied, "Yes and no."

Angolans to hire mercenaries

SILVA PORTO, Angola—Pro-Western Angolan leaders said Thursday they will begin large-scale recruitment of mercenaries to counter devastating losses at the hands of Soviet-backed forces.

The leaders said they would accept mercenaries from everywhere but the United States to avoid souring relations between Washington and the anti-Communist movements.

The recruiting plan was disclosed amid reports of a secret cable from Secretary of State Henry Kissinger saying one of the two U.S.-supported groups in the Angolan civil war has collapsed.

The cable, according to the Washington bureau of Scripps-Howard newspapers, said troops of the 20,000-member National Front for the Liberation of Angola are fleeing for their lives into neighboring Zaire.

"All FNIA resistance has collapsed," Kissinger's cable was quoted as saying.

In Washington, the State Department said the Scripps-Howard report did not correspond with the information it was getting. It said the situation is serious but fighting still is going on.

Officials of the pro-Western National Union for the Total Independence of Angola said there was no chance of compromise with the Soviet-backed Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola.

The officials admitted the National Union and its ally, the National Front, were short of both sophisticated weapons and men able to use them.

They indicated the weapons, long-range artillery and armored cars, might be available through the private arms market and said they would recruit mercenaries to help use them.

Assistance charge in effect

RALEIGH—A charge for directory assistance calls went into effect for Southern Bell customers in North Carolina at midnight Thursday night.

Each customer will be allowed five free calls a month, and blind customers will be exempted entirely from the charge under a ruling from the State Utilities Commission.

But all other customers will be required to pay 20 cents for each directory assistance call after the allotment of five free calls is used each month.

Southern Bell officials expect directory assistance requests to drop by at least 60 percent, saving the firm $2.6 million a year. The new charge is expected to produce $669,000 in annual revenue.

Requests have already dropped 25 percent since operators began requesting callers' phone numbers Dec. 29 as practice for the start of the charge.

The charge will apply only to requests for local numbers and numbers within the same area code. Directory assistance requests in other area codes will still be free.

Southern Bell also noted that on long distance directory requests, the charge will be cancelled if a call is made.

Psychiatrist testifies in court

SAN FRANCISCO—A government psychiatrist testified today that Patricia Hearst "had no more to do with getting herself kidnapped than you and I."

Dr. Harry Kozol, accused in court of driving the 21-year-old newspaper heiress to hysterics during an examination, took the stand to defend himself in the hearing over his right to continue sessions with her in jail.

Miss Hearst, whose trial on bank robbery charges as a member of the Symbionese Liberation Army begins Jan. 26, was present for the second straight day at the hearing in U.S. District Court, and stared intently at Kozol.

Asked by U.S. Attorney James L. Browning, the chief prosecutor, about a defense charge that Kozol implied Miss Hearst was party to her kidnaping, the gray-haired nattily-dressed Boston psychiatrist said, "Never."

Sorority celebrates Founder's Day

Delta Sigma Theta, one of two black sororities at UNC, is currently celebrating its Founders' Week.

Founded at Howard University on Jan. 13, 1913, the sorority now has over 85,000 chapters in the United States, Virgin Islands and the Republics of Haiti and Liberia, senior member Dawn Clayton said.

At UNC, Clayton said, Deltas are involved in many areas of campus life, including Student Government, the Black Student Movement, the Carolina Choir, the BSM Gospel Choir and the Tarheel Marching Band.

Deltas also participate in various student publications and in the N.C. student legislature, she added.

Since the Kappa Omicron chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority was founded as the first black sorority at UNC in 1973, Clayton noted, its members have worked with the aged at the Chapel Hill-Carrboro multi-purpose center, tutored Upward Bound students, aided needy families and assisted with the Special Olympics for handicapped children.

Prominent Deltas in the U.S. include Reps. Barbara Jordan, D-Tex., and Shirley Chisholm, D-N.Y., as well as entertainers Lena Horne, Nancy Wilson and Roberta Flack, Clayton said.

Co-op ends; cash available

The spring 1976 Alpha Phi Omega book co-op ends today, and book sellers can pick up their cash and unsold books in the Great Hall between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m., co-op chairperson Will Long said.

Students should bring their blue receipt slips issued when they turned in their books in order to pick up their money and books.

After today, sellers can pick up their property in the APO chambers in the Smith Building basement.

APO reserves 15 percent of all sales for a donation to the Financial Aid Office and operating expenses. The co-op earned approximately $2,000 for the scholarship funds this year, Long said.
