

briefs

from the wires of United Press International.

Kissinger: US, USSR arms treaty likely by June

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger returned from Europe Sunday, convinced the United States and the Soviet Union could complete a strategic arms treaty by June at a Washington summit meeting with Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev.

A senior official aboard Kissinger's jetliner, which brought the secretary back from Madrid, said the United States was "within one or two decisions of getting an agreement by June."

The official also said there is a "fifty-fifty chance" President Ford will visit the Middle East during the second half of April to demonstrate that the United States is keeping its hand in the Middle East peace-keeping effort.

The official said prospects for a diplomatic settlement in Angola were fading, and it looked like military victory for the Cuban and Soviet-supported Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola.

Quinlan case comes to trial

TRENTON, N.J. — The case of Karen

Ann Quinlan, young woman who has been in a coma for nine months, comes up before the New Jersey Supreme Court Monday on appeal of a lower court's refusal to turn off the respirator which keeps her alive.

Upwards of 100 interested spectators are expected to crowd the courtroom when the seven-man panel reconvenes at 10 a.m. for oral arguments.

Miss Quinlan, 21, lies in a hospital in Denville, N.J., locked in a coma which has reduced her to a "persistent vegetative state."

Her parents, Joseph and Julia Quinlan of Roxbury, N.J., have asked for Karen Ann to be removed from the life-sustaining respirator so that she may die with "dignity."

However, Superior Court Judge Robert Muir Jr. ruled last October that Miss Quinlan is not legally dead. Muir wrote: "The single most important temporal quality Karen Ann Quinlan has is her life. This court will not authorize that life to be taken from her."

Syria reassures Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon — Syria has assured all parties that it would respect Lebanese sovereignty and withdraw Palestinian troops which had crossed into Lebanon from Syria as soon as the security situation allowed, government sources said Sunday.

The warring factions agreed to a 48-hour timetable to restore security but sniping and looting continued despite tough enforcement of the latest truce by Syrian army officers and Palestinian troops.

Scattered sniping and gun duels raised the weekend toll to at least 10 dead and 50 wounded and the estimated toll since the civil war erupted last April to more than 10,000 dead and 21,000 wounded.

But the three-day-old cease-fire, the 26th of the war, generally held and thousands of citizens left their homes for the first time in weeks to stroll in bright sunshine along the seafloor.

Campus Calendar

Today's Activities

Recreation majors and all interested persons: Pele Verhaven, research director for the NRPA, will speak on professionalism in recreation and parks services at 3:30 p.m. in Room 202 of the Union.

UNC Women's Soccer Club will meet at 4 p.m. on the intramural field by Woolfen, Gym. Newcomers are welcome.

The Baptist Student Union Council will meet at 5 p.m. at the Battle House.

The Order of the Grail will meet at 9:30 p.m. in the Frank Porter Graham Lounge of the Union.

Young Democrats will meet at 8 p.m. in Room 202 of the Union. The agenda will include elections of new officers, preparation for precinct caucuses, and final planning for ski weekend.

UNCCC Short Course, "Introduction to the CALL-OS Interactive System at UNCCC," at 3:30 p.m. in 228 Phillips. Familiarity with basic interactive concepts (e.g. how to use a terminal) is assumed. Familiarity with a programming language is also helpful.

Upcoming Events

UNCCC Short Course, "Introduction to the CALL-OS Interactive System at UNCCC," at 3 p.m. Tuesday in 228 Phillips. Familiarity with basic interactive concepts is assumed. Familiarity with a programming language is also helpful.

There will be a meeting of the Medical Technology Club at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Room 204 of the Union. All members are asked to attend and anyone interested is welcome.

There will be a free flick at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Carroll Hall. The movie will be Fred Zinnemann's "Behold a Pale Horse."

There will be a meeting of the Student Academic Affairs Committee at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Suite C of the Union.

There will be a meeting of the UNC Law Guild at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Haywood Room of the Law School.

CGC will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Room 217 of the Union. All interested students are urged to attend.

There will be a meeting of the Order of the Valkyries at 9 p.m. Wednesday in the Frank Porter Graham Lounge of the Union.

"Career Opportunities in Banking" will be the topic of an informal career seminar sponsored by the Career Planning & Placement Office at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday in 04 Hanes. Speaker is Mr. Harris Rainey, NCNB. Everyone is invited to come.

IRSS Short Course, SPSS (Statistical Package for the Social Sciences), Session 1, at 7:30 p.m. in 215 Murphy. No previous exposure to computers is assumed.

UNCCC Short Course, ASAP File Management System (Session 1), at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday in 228 Phillips. Some knowledge of file concepts (e.g. "fields," "backup") is assumed.

UNCCC Short Course, Introduction to TSO (Time Sharing Option) at TUCC, at 3 p.m. Wednesday in 228 Phillips. Familiarity with basic interactive concepts is assumed. Familiarity with a programming language is also helpful.

The Department of English and the American Studies Curriculum are sponsoring Dr. Leo Marx at 8 p.m. Wednesday in 111 Murphy Hall, speaking on "Henry David Thoreau and the arrested development of American Radicalism."

Items of Interest

Interested in being a campus-wide representative to the committee for the Fine Arts Festival in Spring 1977? One graduate and one undergraduate are needed. Two other positions are open to co-chair the committee. Interested persons need to be fully registered through Spring 77. Call Michele Patterson at 967-7117 or at the Art Library, 933-2397.

SALE OF QUALITY PAPER-BACKS

Regularly 35¢ to 95¢

This Week—only 29¢

The Old Book Corner

137 A East Rosemary Street
Chapel Hill, NC 27514

Jobs office holds seminar

by Teddy Goldman
Staff Writer

Over 100 people heard three state government employees discuss topics ranging from job security to political bureaucracy Thursday, in the first of 11 career seminars sponsored by the Career Planning and Placement Office.

The panel answered queries about job dislikes, recruiting procedures, merit tests and job openings for liberal arts majors in the North Carolina government.

Panel members were Angie Travis, intern coordinator for the N.C. Department of Human Resources, John Baker of the N.C. Office of State Personnel and Don McDaris of the N.C. Department of Revenue.

Baker said the benefits of a state government job included the fact that "you aren't subject to the whims of management quite like you are in private enterprise."

McDaris praised the job security and fringe benefits of a state job, and Baker acknowledged recent increases on state employees' pay.

"We've come a long way," he said. "I think I'm doing as well in state government as my friends in private industry."

One student asked the panel if "politicians ram things down your throat?"

"There is politics in state government, but you find politics in any job," Travis replied.

This week's job interviews

The following organizations will be recruiting on campus this week at the Career Planning and Placement Office, 211 Hanes Hall.

Monday: Moore County Schools, Xerox Corporation;

Tuesday: Xerox Corporation, North Carolina National Bank (NCNB), U.S. National Security Agency;

Wednesday: Xerox Corporation, NCNB, U.S. National Security Agency, Texfi Industries, Inc., FMC Corporation, Norfolk (Va.) Public Schools, the Mead Corporation, Carolina Power and Light Company;

Thursday: University of Texas at Austin, Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, N.A.

Information and assistance pertaining to summer and full-time employers not represented by on-campus visits is available at 211 Hanes Hall.

Check the DTH Classifieds

Original Print Sale!

"Large" edition originals by Miro, Braque, Chagall, others, at less than $35 each (some as low as $5!).

Free hardcover Book on original prints and print-making, just for the asking.

Start your collection with these fine, low-priced prints. Custom framing available, too!

Visit The Intimate Art Gallery

mezzanine level,
The Intimate Bookshop
University Mall
Chapel Hill

A new top executive in any field has to change some positions to make sure his policies are carried out, she said.

State jobs are divided into two categories—merit jobs, for which hiring is based on test results, and jobs for which the applicant is hired because of his qualifications.

Merit jobs are in departments that receive federal funding and account for approximately 25 per cent of state government jobs.

The tests generally require a specialized knowledge in business or science.

Also discussed were two summer internship programs available in state government.

The State Government Summer Internship Program, sponsored in part by the UNC Institute of Government, hires 24 N.C. resident student interns who work with state officials in Raleigh for 11 weeks.

Interns are paid $120 per week and must have completed three years of college. Competition for the 24 openings is usually extremely high, placement officials said.

Applications, which must be submitted by the end of this week, are available from Donald Hayman in the Institute of Government.

The Summer Internship Program in N.C. State Government is a much larger program, involving almost 350 students in all 17 branches of state government. Students work for 12 weeks at $3.12 an hour.

Applicants must either attend college in North Carolina or be a state resident.

Travis explained that internships are "designed to acquaint you with how the state government and bureaucracy works."

Interested persons should apply to Gail Kniernier, N.C. Youth Involvement Office, 401 N. Wilmington St., Raleigh, N.C. 27601. Applications must be made by March 15.

Hurray! You can count on The Feed Bag, 'cause

We Deliver!

the feedbag

In the Village Green (Behind the Zoom)

	Reg.	Lg.*
Roast Beef	1.30	1.60
Turkey	1.20	1.55
Ham	1.30
Ham & Swiss	1.35	1.65
Tuna	1.25
Liverwurst80	.95
Salami
& Provolone ...	1.20	1.50
Cheese	1.15
Provolone & Swiss & American
Corned Beef	1.30	1.65
Wedge	1.20	1.45
Salami, Provolone, Bologna, American
Ham & Turkey Club...	1.65

*Large is on same roll, more meat

- Sandwiches include any combination of mustard, mayo, lettuce, tomato, onion, pickle, hot peppers. Served on Sub Rolls, Kaiser rolls (whole wheat or white), or rye bread.
- Potato Salad .25 & .50.

Sunday-Thursday
5 p.m. - 1 a.m.

To all Buildings on Campus, Fraternities and Sororities!

FREE DELIVERY for minimum purchase of $4; otherwise, 40¢ service charge.

PHONE 967-7880

freddie hubbard

Thursday, Jan 29th... at 8pm.

JAZZ

MEMORIAL HALL

Tickets $4 / Available at Carolina Union Desk

A Carolina Union Presentation

John Bull woke me from my winter's nap to help present his latest offering, a

"Vacation from Hibernation"

.... HARDBACK

BOOK SALE

(Starting Monday, January 26)

My dear friends and bibliophiles, you will like these lovely hardbacks... many are

SCHOLARLY & ACADEMIC TYPES...

There are a wealth of FICTION & NONFICTION as well!

the Bull's Head Bookshop
Daniels Building STUDENT STORES

