DTH needs writers

There will be a meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in the Daily Tar Heel office for all people interested in being entertainment writers for the DTH. Experience is advantageous but not essential. People interested in visual art, books, dance and theater are especially encouraged to come, but writers are needed in every field of the arts.

Wallace says second okay

Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace said Wednesday he was satisfied with a second-place finish to former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter but thinks he might have spent his time better in North Carolina.

Wallace, meeting Carter for the second time in a Southern primary and trailing Carter in a statewide newspaper poll by the Raleigh News and Observer, said he thinks he has a "good chance" to finish first in North Carolina "before it's over with."

In Washington, the White House announced that President Ford would return Saturday to campaign in four N.C. cities against former California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Reagan, who contends much of his strength is in the South and East, opens his North Carolina effort Thursday morning and will campaign across the state through next Monday afternoon.

Hurricane Carter to get new trial

TRENTON, N.J.—Former middleweight boxing contender Rubin "Hurricane" Carter, convicted nine years ago on three counts of murder in a barroom shooting, was granted a new trial Wednesday by New Jersey's highest court.

Burrell Ives Humphreys, the Passaic County Prosecutor, said he was ready to retry Carter and co-defendant, John Artis, for the slayings June 17, 1966, while racial tensions were running high in Paterson, N.J.

The two have maintained their innocence and their cause was taken up by such celebrities as heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali, heavyweight contender Joe Frazier, singer Bob Dylan and writer Jimmy Breslin. Dylan wrote a song, entitled "Hurricane," proclaiming Carter's innocence.

Bill will set new fishing limits

WASHINGTON—House and Senate negotiators reached agreement Wednesday on legislation requiring foreign fishermen to get U.S. permits to fish within 200 miles of American shores beginning March 1, 1977.

The compromise measure is expected to win quick final approval by Congress next week and President Ford has already said he will sign it even though it was opposed by the State Department and the Pentagon.

The legislation would not change the existing U.S. three-mile territorial boundary and its sponsors say it is intended only to protect offshore fisheries until action is taken on the international treaty.
