

LOU BELLOWS

Predictions for this week by sportscaster Lou Bello

Editor's note: Lou had what Carolina fans consider a bad week—he missed the Carolina-State game. Lou picked the Tar Heels by one and the Wolfpack won. Overall, he was 2-1-1 last week, boosting his record to an impressive 28-6-3. But, more bad news for UNC fans. As Lou sees it, it's East Carolina over the Heels Saturday. Listen as Lou bellows:

I'm going well, if only I knew what my alma mater Duke is going to do. They're so unpredictable. And I was disappointed in Carolina in their play against State. I guess everybody else was, too. Having a good year, having a good year, but it's getting tougher each week.

Last week:
State 21, Carolina 13. Lou's pick: Carolina by one. I still thought Carolina was going to pull it out. I figured a score of 22-21, but a pass was dropped, an ineligible man downfield, the illegal procedure—put those altogether. State played very well. State outplayed Carolina. So, it didn't come out to 22-21 Carolina, and I don't even think it was as close as the final score. The question of the Carolina players cutting their hair came up at Coach Dooley's press conference. It goes back to the old baseball adage about the players making the sign of the cross before they hit, or basketball players before they shoot a free throw. The question is—does that help? Cutting their hair—does that help? Well, if you can play football it helps. If you can shoot free throws or hit the baseball it helps. I just didn't think there was that much emotion out there. Of course, from the press box, you don't get a good look; you don't get the feeling because it's all enclosed.

Maryland 17, Wake Forest 15. Lou's pick: Maryland. I was amazed at that. Again, Wake is the surprise of the league. They may not have the record to back it, but they'll be heard from here on out. Maryland is really banged up, but they're doing the things great teams are doing—they're playing enough to win. They're winning...they're winning. We've got to give credit to Wake, but to the victors belong the spoils and Maryland won.

Virginia Tech 14, Virginia 10. Lou's pick: VPI. Virginia is going to break that losing before long. They were leading this ball game and then Virginia Tech scored. Virginia is coming around. They're getting better; they're getting better. They're going to win before the year is out. I'm figuring they are going to win at least a couple of games.

Duke 18, Clemson 18. Lou's pick: Duke. Duke should have won the game. On normal days, that would have been enough to win—18 points. But they had to come back and kick a 57-yarder, a record-breaker to tie...to tie. Duke's so unpredictable. Up and down. Up one week and down the next. Up and down, up and down. So, I don't know what to do about my school. Can we take them off each week?

This week:
East Carolina at Carolina: This ball game, of course, is a sellout. They're expecting 50,000 people. East Carolina is the best team Carolina has played. It's the best team I've seen. I saw the East Carolina-State game and I saw the Maryland-State game. I was impressed with Maryland, but East Carolina is powerful. They do it all. They want to play and I personally believe they have a mission. They want to beat the ACC schools some kind of bad. They're pulling out of the Southern Conference; this is their last year in that conference. They'd like to get into the ACC here with the rest of the schools. For the first time in the history of the school they've broken into the Top 20; they're 20th in the AP poll. I'm picking East Carolina this week. I'm gonna go against the Tar Heels. I hope I'm wrong, I'll be honest with you. I hope I'm wrong. But I've got a job to do. East Carolina is out to win, wants to win and wants it bad. They won big last year. I'm going with East Carolina. I hope we're still friends.

Maryland at Duke. Everybody says this is going to be the upset and the conference championship. But I'm going with Maryland. We've got to stay with the champs until they're beat, and they're impressive. Great defense, great defense. And if Duke can't score a touchdown on Clemson, how are they going to score against Maryland? This ball game may be decided by the great kickers: Duke's Vince Fusco and Maryland's Mike Socho. I'm gonna go see this game. It's homecoming and I'm a Duke alum. Go over there with all the old grads. I'll be there with all the Dookies and rootin' for Duke, but I've got to go with Maryland.

Clemson at N.C. State. N.C. State all the way. I've seen State coming offensively since the Michigan State game when they scored 31. And Clemson's got some kind of problems. They must be heartbroken. There was no time remaining on the clock when Fusco kicked the field goal to tie. This game's at State in Raleigh and State's going to make a good season out of this now. State has come around. The Pack is back! N.C. STATE!

Virginia at Wake Forest. The game's at Wake Forest. They're both coming off tough losses, but Wake's playing good, solid football. They're giving all ball clubs a tough fight, even Michigan, the No. 1 team in the nation. Wake Forest will beat Virginia. This isn't Virginia's week to break the string.

Staff photo by David Dalton

Carolina defensemen Olaf Kampschmidt (6), Tom Cope (4) and Tim Fenton (3) defend against Virginia in action earlier this season.

Heel booters face mystery Paladins

by Dave Kirk
Staff Writer

A "mystery team" of sorts invades Fetzer Field at 4 p.m. today for a match against the 6-2 Carolina soccer team. Furman University, a team the Heels know very little about, comes to Chapel Hill with hopes of catching UNC a little off guard. If nothing else, Carolina can use its 7-0 whitewash of UNC-Charlotte last Friday to provide impetus to defeat the Paladins.

"We should go in with a certain amount of confidence," UNC Coach-designate Anson Dorrance said. "We expect to beat them, but not in a walkover like the Charlotte game." Before the UNC-C game, Carolina struggled to pull off a 2-1 victory over an ACC foe, Virginia. Both coaches criticized the Heels for sluggish play, but were relieved and happy to take the win.

Dorrance said that practices had been good since the UNC-C game and that it had come at an opportune time because the win over Virginia had not been very convincing. UNC Head Coach Marvin Allen has very little information about the Furman team, only that it lost to Clemson 12-0. But that means little, says Allen, because Clemson could beat anyone 12-0. Clemson recently defeated Howard University 2-0, a team that beat the Heels by the same score. UNC plays at Clemson on Nov. 9.

"We have to play it as an unknown," Allen said. "Furman hasn't got too good of a record, and it's the first time we've ever played them. Right now, I think we're in pretty good shape. We still have some of the picky, nagging injuries, but most of the fellas are in good shape."

Women golfers romp, complete undefeated fall

by Will Wilson
Staff Writer

The UNC women's golf team, seemingly peaking just in time for next week's state tournament, fired its lowest score of the season Thursday in defeating Duke, 325-353, at Finley Golf Course. The win gave Carolina a sweep of all four of its dual matches this fall.

Sally Austin led the Tar Heels with her second straight 79. Stephanie Kornegay and Susan Cary tied for second with 81s, and Mindy Moore, with an 84, was the other contributor to the team total.

In contrast, Duke shot its worst score in the past month. Blue Devil Coach Jane Lloyd said, "We just weren't prepared. We've been having midterms all week and just haven't had enough opportunity to play."

Debby Stewart, who shot a 77 against UNC in an earlier match, led the Blue Devils with an 84. Tied for second with 89s were Paula Hannaway and Gail Kiplinger, and Michelle Toagesser was fourth with a 91.

A slightly damp course aided the women considerably, according to UNC Coach Dot Gunnells. "Yesterday's rain really helped the greens to hold," she said.

The scores could have been even lower if the greens had not just been fertilized and watered, Gunnells said. "They all had makable putts all day, which was good, even though they were complaining about missing them," she added.

Austin, who complained about her approach shots after last week's 79, found herself within 10 feet of the pin on several holes. "I missed several short putts today," she said. "It was just a turnaround from last week—my approach shots were doing good, but my drives weren't."

Cary and Kornegay also complained about their putting, and Kiplinger, Moore's playing partner, said, "She must have lipped the cup on every hole on the back."

Other Tar Heel scores included Sheree Marsh's 89, Laura Strippel's 93, Janet Haire's 98 and Sue Ward's 103. Both Duke and Carolina, along with Appalachian State and Wake Forest, will play in the state tournament next Thursday and Friday to Finley. The Tar Heels will be out to avenge a disappointing showing last year, when they finished well behind champion Wake Forest.

Sports shorts

V-ballers in away tilts

The UNC women's volleyball team travels to Richmond tonight for an important triseries match with Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU) and Virginia Tech (VPI). The Heels will be attempting to tack two wins onto their present 6-7 record.

"We're definitely an offensive team," VCU Coach Judy Newcombe said of her 15-8 squad. We have two outstanding front-line players, 6-foot Mary Skinner and 5-foot-11 Nancy Carey and Ann Carter, a fine player in the middle."

UNC Coach Beth Miller said VCU is probably the best team in Virginia, but VPI is an unknown quantity.

So once again the Heels venture into a triseries match with a need to sweep both ends to reemerge on the better side of the win-loss column. Carolina would like to replace the mixed emotions of a split with the sweet taste of dual victories.

Cross country teams from many colleges and universities across North Carolina will assemble Saturday in Raleigh to participate in the state cross country championship.

According to UNC Coach Bill Lam, the state meet always provides difficult competition, but the results are relatively unimportant. The Atlantic Coast Conference regular season standings already have been determined, and the conference meet is two weeks away.

The women's cross country team will compete Saturday in the N.C. State Invitational at Raleigh. Sophomore Carol Jennings is expected to be Carolina's leading performer. She must run the three-mile course in less than 19 minutes to qualify for the nationals. Her best time so far was 19:12 last week at Wake Forest.

Judy Collins

in concert in CARMICHAEL AUDITORIUM

TONIGHT

A Carolina Union Presentation

tickets are on sale now to the general public at the carolina union information desk

DTH Classifieds

FOR SALE

1969 Volvo wagon for sale. Standard transmission, good condition—$1650 or best offer. Call Joan 929-7446.

FOR RENT

Female Granville South contract for sale. Good deal! Call 933-0335.

TWO-BEDROOM Royal Park Apartment for rent beginning about Nov. 15. $155 per month plus $100 deposit. Call 967-4687 or 929-2698 after 5 p.m.

HELP WANTED

Addressers wanted IMMEDIATELY! Work at home—no experience necessary—excellent pay. Write American Service, 6950 Wayzata Blvd., Suite 132, Minneapolis, Mn. 55426.

Part time help wanted: during lunch apply Carolina Union Snack Bar.

VW MECHANIC WANTED FOR PART-TIME WEEKEND WORK. MUST HAVE OWN TOOLS. 967-7414 EVES.

Position open for married couple desiring live-in house counselor positions in adolescent group home. Training and experience in adolescent development and residential treatment is essential. Send Vitae to: Dr. John Falterath, Tree House, Inc., P.O. Box 823, Chapel Hill, N.C. 27514.

UNC-CH student to work mornings 9:00-1:00, Monday through Friday at Circulation Desk, Health Sciences Library. Some typing. Call Oscar Kirby 966-4547 days, $2.20 per hour.

GUIDES—WHITWATER RAFTING. Train to be a guide on the New and Gauley Rivers this fall for the summer of 1977. Training sessions each weekend—we supply food and sleeping area. You must be 18 years old, have a standard first-aid certificate, be able to swim 25 yards, and have a good time. Wages negotiable, depending on time available for 1977 season—Writer: Mountain River Tours, Inc. c/o Paul W. Bruer, P.O. Box 886, Hico, West Va. 25854. Phone: 1-304-659-5817.

MISCELLANEOUS

Need to rent a dorm room or sell a stereo? Add $1.50 to the price and sell it tomorrow in the DTH classifieds for free.

R.R.E. has moved! Now more space! Same low-priced rental Whitewater and camping gear at low prices—soon rental camping gear. 383-2106, 3160 Hillsboro Rd., Durham. Peddle New River this fall!

Found: pair of prescription glasses and a pocket knife on corner of Franklin and Columbia on Tuesday. Call Maude 942-4531.

Colonial pre-school baby care available. Infants six weeks and older. Full and half day care available for older children. 942-8528.

Duke University's Latin Club sponsors a trip to the Golden Coast of Colombia, South America, Dec. 28 till Jan. 6. Airfare $155 from Miami hotel accommodations. 563 call after 10 p.m. 383-2228.

THANKSGIVING IN NEW YORK CITY FOR $82.50. Amtrak streamliner (reserved seat in private car), hotel (three nights private room), transportation between Chapel Hill and railroad stations, for $30 less than air fare alone. Only 45 seats available. Small World Travel Agency, 131 East Franklin Street, or call 942-8534 (Call Ralph, 929-1736 weekends).

Build your own banjo. Free catalog. Stewart-MacDonald Mfg., Box 90031, Athens, Ohio 45701.

Diamonds—a girl's best friend and a man's best investment. Our gems priced 40 per cent below retail and graded by American Gem Society. Call 781-0391 after 5 p.m., Raleigh.

Male volunteers wanted for psychology experiment involving treatment for single men who feel uncomfortable in social situations with women. Call Psych. Dept., 9-5, 853-4593 or 933-2953.

ACADEMIC RESEARCH PAPERS. Thousands on file. Send $1.00 for your 192-page, mail order catalog. 11322 Idaho Ave., #206H, Los Angeles, Calif. 90055. (213) 477-8474.

OVERSEAS JOBS—summer/year-round. Europe, S. America, Australia, Asia, etc. All fields. $500-$1200 monthly. Expenses paid, sightseeing. Free Inform-Write: International Job Center, Dept. NL, Box 4490, Berkeley, CA 94704.

Please help! A local resident lost all personal belongings in a house fire on October 18. Desperately needed are: clothes for an average size 4 year old girl; toys ladies clothes 7 (Dhouse size 34); all types of kitchen items; linens, etc. Please bring donations by Chapel Hill D.S.S. Office in Donnor Drive, Professional Building, or call Cathy at 968-0461 if pick-up is needed.

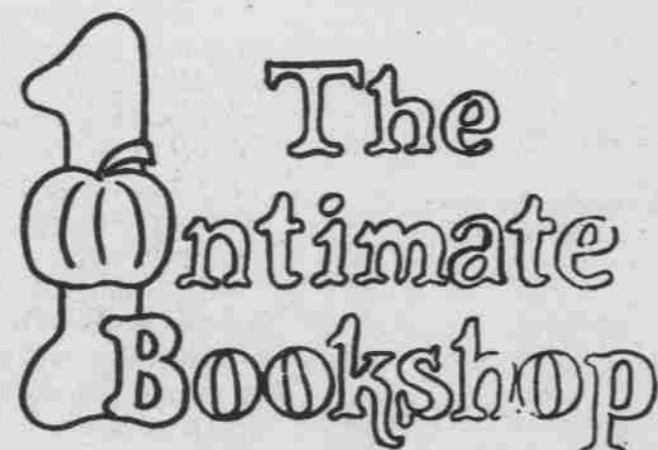

LOST: Large Orange cat, male, vicinity Gingham and Country Club, Saturday, Oct. 9. Answers to "Norman." Call if seen or found. 967-5855.

Virginia State needs your help! Support her campaign for decency in Congress. Send 4.95 for special campaign tee shirt, poster and bumper strip—use order blank in today's DTH.

"Tootle-oo Dooley!" bumper stickers $1 each or $7.50 for ten. THUMBS-PRINTS, Box 461, Carrboro 27510. Add 25¢ for postage with total order.

Rounds 5 & 6: Children's Books & Records (part 2)

Downtown Chapel Hill & University Mall open 'til 10 p.m.

FUTURE ROUNDS—Gift book bargains; low-priced imports and reprints; cards; paperbacks and more—watch for starting dates!

OPENING TODAY

Gryphon

Featuring
ADELE FOSTER & HER TRIO

Fri. & Sat. Cover $2.00
 Sometimes BLUEGRASS
 Sunday 1.00
 QUARTERLY MEMBERSHIPS
 $2.50

3 miles South of the Villages on 15-501 968-9161

All ABC Permits Bartender on duty

