Correction

The last paragraph in the first story on tenure appearing in Wednesday's DTH should have read: Adams noted that only six faculty members in the philosophy department have been denied tenure in the 29 years he has been at UNC. The DTH regrets the error.

"WHY DO THE HEATHEN RAGE?"

Psalms 2 and Acts 4:25

On more than one occasion it has been stated that the object of every article has been to pass on God's message to man, old and young, found in the last part of the Book of Ecclesiastes: "And further, by these, my son, be admonished: of making many books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh. Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: FEAR GOD AND KEEP HIS COMMANDMENTS: FOR THIS IS THE WHOLE DUTY OF MAN. For God shall bring every work into judgement with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil." "Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth ——" go ahead and do as you please, and walk in the way of your own heart and in the sight of your own eyes ——" BUT KNOW THOU, THAT FOR ALL THESE THINGS GOD WILL BRING THEE INTO JUDGEMENT ——" REMEMBER NOW THY CREATOR IN THE DAYS OF THY YOUTH ——"

Excepting the verse from which this Column gets its title, the above passage concerning "the whole duty of man" has been quoted as much, if not more than any other Scripture. And very often it has been followed up by quoting the 14th verse of the last chapter of the last Book in the Bible, Rev. 22:14: "Blessed are they which do His Commandments, that they may have a right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city."

Adam and Eve refused the Tree of Life in favor of the devil's advice, broke God's Commandment, and were driven out. You and me, their descendants, will never have the right to the Tree of Life and enter the gates of the city, unless we are, or come to be of those blessed ones who "keep His Commandments." "By Grace, through Faith," this can come about. By God's Grace Christ came down and lived thirty-three years here, kept God's Commandments perfectly, and offers to bestow His Righteousness to every soul that accepts it by Faith. Hebrews 11:1 says: "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." This tells us in plain language that "our faith is in what we want and hope for most of all. With the natural eye you can't see a "hope" or a "want," but you can surely see the evidence of what a man wants and hopes most for by looking at his acts, words, conduct, etc. John Wesley said: "All the enemies of Christianity are mere triflers in comparison with those who give you exemption from obeying God's Commandments!"

Sometime ago this column told the story of how Charles the First of England lost his head on the chop block. Doubtless his high position, his pride, and his ignorance, caused him to believe "The Almighty was such a one as he was," and he had "divine right" to do as he pleased. Puritans and other people who had "true fear of God" in their hearts withstood Charles, and God gave them a great victory, and the record says: "On Jan. 30th, 1649, King Charles was led out to Whitehall to die." (After quoting that last week the writer wondered if he should have explained that did not refer to our Atlanta Whitehall St. No, no, that did not happen in our fair city. The very thought of such a thing would surely offend all the great and small and others of our city who reject the commands of God Almighty to put to death murderers, adulterers, rapists, traitors, the anarchists and rebellious, etc.)

Jeremiah 8:9 says: "They have rejected the Word of God, what wisdom is in them? Surely the implication here is that those who reject God's Commandments are sadly deficient in intelligence, and not telling how many high and low might think this scribe said King Charles was beheaded on Whitehall St., Atlanta. I did not say that, though I will say that we have got a lot of folks who would be better off in time and eternity, and the city better off, if they got the same medicine that King Charles did. I will go further and say it would be better for me to have my head cut off rather than turn my back on God and His Commandments, and use my tongue profanely against Him! Did not Christ say it would be better for some if a millstone were hanged about their neck and drowned in the depth of the sea; and did not He say of one man: "Good were it for that man, if he had never been born!" "Forbear thee from meddling with God."
