Town asks UNC to increase bus payment

The Chapel Hill Transportation Board voted unanimously last week to ask for a representative from the University administration to act as a non-voting member of the board.

According to Paul Arne, transportation board member and Student Government director of transportation, the move was made "in recognition of the fact that the University puts a heck of a lot of money into the bus system and its actions have an impact on the bus and parking situations."

The motion, made by Gorman Gilbert, requires that the Board of Aldermen ask Chancellor Ferebee Taylor to appoint a representative of the University to the transportation board.

If the aldermen agree, Arne said Tuesday, the most likely candidates for the position would be Vice Chancellor Dr. Claiborne S. Jones or John L.

Temple, assistant vice Chancellor. Both served on the original committee to study the feasibility of a town bus system several years ago.

According to Arne, the University representative would be ex-officio because of the possible conflict of interest between the University as a buyer of the system and the town as the owner of the bus system.

"At times we've regretted not having a University administrator on the board," Arne said.

Nickers Audio We can introduce you to....

First, there is a man's dream — a bold new idea, or an old concept, reapplied in a new, daring manner. Sometimes, the man can sell his dream to another company....sometimes the man can create his dream himself. If the dream is a true advancement in state-of-the-art sound reproduction, the dream becomes a reality....Reality is now at Vicker's Audio....

One such dreamer is Dr. Sidney Harman, of harman/kardon. Here is a company that makes the best of everything in electronics. harman/kardon makes only three receivers, yet each one is considered to be the most musically accurate receiver on the market within its respective price range. The models 430 & 730 stereo receivers use such innovative design concepts as separate dual power supplies, and the 730 stereo receiver has a patented "quieting" meter for tuning in FM broadcasts more accurately than any other tuning meter system on the market. The harman/kardon HK 2000 cassette deck has such phenomenally accurate frequency response that a subsonic filter had to be built into the machine so as to filter out turntable rumble from less than accurate turntables. The harman/kardon turntables have tangential tracking tonearms, so your records receive equal wear in both grooves, and your phono cartridge stylus receives equal wear on both sides of the diamond. These turntables are so advanced in their design that they have been granted patents by the U.S. Patent Office.
