

Carolina leads ACC defenses

Carolina strengthened its grasp on the ACC defensive lead while Amos Lawrence moved to second in the conference in rushing following UNC's win Saturday over N.C. State.

The Tar Heels traded their ACC leadership in pass defense for the lead in rushing defense while remaining first in total defense and scoring defense. UNC is allowing 242.2 yards and 7.3 points a game. Clemson is second in total defense.

Wake Forest's James MacDougald still owns the rushing lead, but Lawrence replaced State's Ted Brown and Billy Ray Vickers for the second spot. Lawrence is averaging 94 yards a game.

Carolina moved into second in rushing offense with 227 yards a game behind State's 253.7 and is second in scoring offense with 22.8 points a game.

State still leads the league in total offense, followed by Maryland and Clemson. Wolfpack quarterback Johnny Evans is first in individual total offense, followed by Clemson's Steve Fuller.

Tar Heel placekicker Tom Biddle is fourth in the league in scoring with 5.5 points a game. He leads conference kickers with an average of one field goal per game, having connected on six of 12 attempts.

Blue Devil volleyballers claim 3-1 victory

The UNC women's volleyball team suffered a disappointing loss in Carmichael Auditorium to Duke Tuesday night in a best-of-five match, 10-15, 15-6, 14-16, 11-15.

UNC coach Beth Miller said her team's solid performance in the Florida Invitational last weekend might have hurt the Heels' performance Tuesday night.

"There may have been a letdown after Florida; I don't know if there was or not."

Duke, however, did not run away with the match. The four games were extremely hard fought as evidenced by the scores.

After losing the first game, the Tar Heels put together some strong team play for an easy win in the second game.

Game three was perhaps the most exciting of the match. The game seesawed back and forth and neither team ever built up more than a three-point lead. Duke pulled the win out after the game was tied at 8-8, 10-10, 12-12 and 14-14.

The fourth game was extremely tense for both teams, but the Tar Heels never seemed to be able to recover from their upsetting loss in the third game.

Miller said the team's sporadic play was a major factor in its loss. "We didn't play as consistently as we have been playing," Miller said. "We played in spurts. We'd make some really good plays and then... We were just inconsistent."

Miller said Duke played very well. But she also said she thought Carolina handled Leslie Lewis, Duke's main scoring punch, very well.

"Lewis was instrumental in the match but I don't think she was the sole reason they won," Miller said. "I think we did a good job of containing her. We blocked several of her spikes. But she's definitely a good player and an asset to Duke's team."

Foley said the team's injury situation also had an effect on the match Tuesday night.

"Because of our injuries we had a new combination tonight. We just had to get used to playing together and to having somebody different beside us," she said.

Mary Alice Abdalla, a starter, and Ruth Heruska, first off the bench, were both out of action for the match against Duke.

The Tar Heels will have a chance to redeem themselves in a tri-meet with Winthrop and Elon College Thursday night at Elon College.

JV netters win two

Carolina's undefeated junior varsity women's tennis team defeated two varsity squads in matches here earlier this week.

The UNC JVs edged East Carolina 5-4 Monday and came back Tuesday to rout UNC-Wilmington 9-0. The wins were Carolina's third and fourth of the season.

A Beat Dook program also will be available the week of the parade. It will provide information on the parade, its route and the history of the Carolina-Duke rivalry.

The Pikas also hope to broadcast the parade over WCHL, but plans are still incomplete.

Pika to sponsor Beat Dook parade

The 45th annual Beat Dook Parade, sponsored by the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, will be held Nov. 18.

Grand marshal for the parade will be Rick Dees, the Carolina graduate and Pika alum who recorded the songs "Disco Duck" and "Dis-Gorilla." He is currently a disc jockey for a Memphis radio station.

Beat Dook activities will include a Beat Dook Queen contest and a float contest. Any organization interested in entering a contestant or a float in the competition should contact R. L. Adams or Steve Brown at the Pika house at 106 Fraternity Court or call them at 968-9371 or 968-9024.

Tindall wins in CGC runoff

Bruce Tindall, outspoken opponent of student fee increases, won a runoff election for the Campus Governing Council District I seat Tuesday by a margin of nine votes. Tindall received 45 votes in the election, while his opponent, Paul Kade, polled 36.

Tindall, a first-year law student, is the founder of SAFE, Students Against Fee Excesses.

over 150 dishes to choose from

Good reasons to buy from Harvey:

Many brands.
In a product mix that runs the gamut from the realization of a beginner's dream to the wildest imaginations of the advanced audiophile, Harvey's offers the largest brand list around. Over 100 names to choose from!

Not just any brands.
Anybody could come up with a long list. Ours is a good list, including names like Harman Kardon, Tannoy, EPI, JVC, Sansui, Marantz, Pioneer, KLH, JBL, Maxwell, Fridge, Akai, Teac, Koss, Hitachi, Dual, Cerwin-Vega, BIC, Ortofon, Scott, Pickering... and lots more.

We're tough on our products.
Audio Search, the laboratory facility of Harvey's Warehouse, puts every component through a grueling series of tests. And, if something does not meet our high standards of performance, then we simply won't sell it.

We're easy on our customers.
Our credit plans include all the major credit plans, such as VISA, BANKAMERICARD, and MASTER CHARGE, as well as our own Instant credit programs. So, you get the equipment you want when you want it.

We've got the buying power.
Because Harvey's is the fastest growing audio chain today, with over 25 stores and more opening every day, we're able to obtain better buying discounts than the competition... and to pass those savings along to you.

We've got the sales force.
Our sales people are, frankly, tops. Every one is sent to audio school, so that when you ask about a particular component or an audio theory, he'll have the answer... or be able to get it for you quickly. Their knowledge of the audio art will assure you of getting the best possible equipment for your listening taste and for your money.

The warranty.
When you choose components from Harvey's, we've already made sure that that particular manufacturer is one who offers strong warranties on his equipment.

Our low prices.
Harvey's always offers you the sharpest prices around on the audio equipment you really want—often on components the others couldn't get you at any price.

Our high ethics.
When you're shopping for price, you need to know more than just what it costs today. Here is Harvey's consumer information pricing policy:
Our policy to publish the regular price, whether it be the manufacturer's suggested price, local market price, or our regular selling price as well as the current Harvey's special discount price, reflects our continuing effort to give consumers complete comparative information for use in making purchase decisions. We do not knowingly ever produce a comparative price which does not reflect the above policy.

We let you get close to your music.
Bring in your favorite record or tape. We'll let you listen to it on any component you like... till you're sure you're choosing the right way to listen, for you.

We let you get close to us.
With so many stores, in so many places, there's a Harvey's Warehouse near where you work, where you shop, or where you go to school. Each offers all the reasons we've already given you for shopping at Harvey's.

More reasons to shop Harvey's... THIS WEEK!
This week, and all the time, Harvey's offers you the sharpest prices, on the most exciting things in audio components. Come in soon for specials like these!
