

Big Four tix on sale today

Student tickets for the Big Four Basketball Tournament, set Dec. 2-3 in Greensboro, go on sale at 5 p.m. today in the Athletic Ticket Office in Carmichael Auditorium. Students may purchase one ticket. The supply is limited. Student may pick tickets up at 5 p.m. Tuesday for Carolina's Nov. 22 game with the Czechoslovakian National Team. A limited supply of student-spouse basketball tickets will be sold Wednesday and, if any remain, Thursday.

TOWN & COUNTRY HAIRSTYLING

We use and recommend REDKEN
Suite No. 891 Willow Dr.
Opp. University Mall
Chapel Hill, N.C.
Ph. 942-2950
942-6980
SUPER CUTS FOR GUYS & GALS
Owner: Nancy Tempesta

3rd Great Week!
3:00
5:00
7:00
9:00
Buck Rogers Style
3:15
5:15
7:15
9:15
From WDBS
3:30
5:30
7:30
9:30
RAM TRIPLE
CHAPEL HILL, N.C.

"Oh, God!"
GEORGE BURNS
JOHN DENVER
1968
COLOR

STAR PILOT
A MONARCH RELEASE in COLOR

FM-107 "Bogle" Series
Humphrey Bogart,
Lloyd Bridges in
"SAHARA"

1:30
4:00
6:30
9:00
Ends Thurs.
D. H. LAWRENCE'S "WOMEN IN LOVE"
United Artists

2:30
4:45
7:00
9:25
Ends Thurs.
Carolina Twin
EAST FRANKLIN STREET

CASABLANCA
Humphrey Bogart
Ingrid Bergman
Don't Miss This One!

"Big Sleep"
Starting Friday
Bogart
Bacall

"La Grande Bourgeoise"
Ginacolo Glannini
Catherine Deneuve

PHONE 967-4717
Plaza 1
NOW SHOWING
11007 RD. A1 E. FRANKLIN

SHOWS
2:30
4:50
7:10
9:30

Bobby Deverfield

STARRING — AL PACINO

PHONE 967-4737
Plaza 2
NOW SHOWING
11007 RD. A1 E. FRANKLIN

SHOWS
2:15
4:00
5:45
7:30
9:15

WALT DISNEY'S
Darby O'Gill and the Little People

PHONE 967-4737
Plaza 3
HELD OVER
3rd BIG WEEK
11007 RD. A1 E. FRANKLIN

SHOWS
2:00
4:30
7:00
9:30

ROBERT POTTER
MEL COSBY
A PIECE OF THE ACTION

PHONE 967-3651
Varsity
HELD OVER
NOW IN ITS 19th WEEK
11 E. FRANKLIN ST.

SHOWS
2:30
4:45
7:00
9:15

STAR WARS

Tar Heels, Tigers smooch to 13-13 tie

Continued from page 1.

With just over a minute to go in the game, trailing 13-10, the ball lying on the Clemson 13-yard line and fourth down and five yards to go for the first down, UNC coach Bill Dooley had a decision to make. His Tar Heels could risk going for the first down and the win or, if the first down was missed, the loss. Instead, he chose to send in placekicker Tom Biddle for the 30-yard field goal attempt, confident of securing at least a tie in the conference. The conference title, rather than a win or loss, was riding in the balance.

"There was never any question about what to do," Dooley said. "The conference standings like they are dictated what we did. On fourth and short, it might have been different. But on fourth and five, we had to go for the field goal."

Clyde Christensen substituted for Kupec, who was injured on a sack early in the second half, and directed the team to within field goal range. The drive included two big plays — an 11-yard spring by game-leading rusher Amos Lawrence and a 24-yard gallop by Bob Loomis. But the offense stalled on the 13-

"I'm disappointed we couldn't win," Dooley said. "Our players are disappointed. But we're not out of the ACC race. We have two big rungs (Virginia and Duke) left on the ladder."

Both teams apparently were aware of the importance of the game, and paid for their anxiety with early offsidings and delay of game penalties. One penalty against Clemson at the end of the first half for fighting was assessed at the beginning of the second half and Nigerian Obed Ariri, who stunned the crowd in pregame warmups by kicking 61-yard field goals, was forced to kickoff from his own 25-yard line.

Ariri got a chance to test his field goal skills against the Tar Heels on a 63-yard attempt, but the try was short. Ariri had kicked every point-after-touchdown he attempted this season — 17 — but missed the one after Clemson's second touchdown of the afternoon, enabling Carolina to struggle to the tie.

The game was, as billed, a defensive battle. Carolina's first score was a field goal by Biddle in the first quarter. Clemson had stopped a Carolina drive and a 44-yard field goal attempt was short, but the Carolina defense stopped an effort by Clemson and trapped the Tigers deep in their own territory when punter Tony Masone dropped the ball and Carolina's Lawrence Taylor recovered it on the Tiger five-yard line. Biddle's kick came five plays later when the Tar Heel offense moved the ball nowhere.

Clemson countered with a touchdown on its second possession of the second quarter with a quick 84-yard drive.

Carolina struck back like lightning when tailback Lawrence streaked down the right sidelines 59 yards for a touchdown.

A potentially game-winning run by Lawrence down to the Clemson 10-yard line in the third period was called back by officials who spotted a Carolina lineman holding.

Clemson scored early in the fourth quarter, Ariri missed the extra point and the score was tied by Biddle near the end of the game.

"In no way am I going to say they had a better team than we do or that they outplayed us," Dooley said after the second tie of his head coaching career.

Carolina quarterback Matt Kupec hands the ball off to tailback Amos Lawrence during action in the UNC-Clemson game Saturday. Kupec suffered a severely bruised shoulder in the game, and Lawrence rushed for 150 yards to lead the game in rushing. Staff photo by Allen Jernigan.

FILMS OF WAR AND PEACE

sponsored by

Curriculum in Peace, War, and Defense

November 7 100 Hamilton Hall

The Battle of Britain

3 p.m. * The Battle of Britain (1968). One of Frank Capra's Why We Fight Series. British determination thwarts Hitler's air attack. Animated sequences by Walt Disney.

4 p.m. * It Happened Here (1966). Kevin Brownlow's fictional film showing Hitler's successful invasion of Britain in 1940. Questions the assumed patriotic tenor of Capra's film.

The Classic Antiwar Film

8 p.m. * The Grand Illusion (1937). Renoir's subtle treatment of World War I's futility. Documents widespread support for pacifism in Europe during the 1930's.

Injuries to first-stringers give reserves a chance

Continued from page 1

"I was frightened a little," the lean 5-11½, 160 pounder said. "I had it in my mind all week to be calm my first play, but it just didn't happen."

It was Streater's side of the field that the big Steve Fuller to Warren Ratchford 21-yard play went on Clemson's go-ahead touchdown drive in the fourth quarter. The play put the ball on the Carolina two-yard line, from which the Tigers scored three plays later.

"We were playing a zone, and I backed up," he said. "They hit the opening. It was just a good play."

Christensen's situation had a different twist to it — he did not go in when starter Kupec was hurt, but only after P. J. Gay was ineffective throughout the third quarter and the first half of the fourth.

"When they played P. J., I was hurt," he said, quietly while sitting on a lockerroom bench after the game. "I was ready to go in on the second series (after Kupec was injured), since we (Gay and Christensen) had been alternating all week."

He didn't play the second series, or the third either. When he finally got his chance with 6:12 to play, he took the team from the Carolina 18 to the Clemson 13 before Tom Biddle kicked the tying field goal.

"I wasn't in the frame of mind to take the team all the way," he said. "The coaches didn't tell me anything special, just 'go in.' I was in there as a last resort, it seemed. It really took the pressure off me."

Christensen, who transferred her last year from Fresno (Calif.) City Junior College but sat out the season as a redshirt, indicated he had been having second thoughts about coming.

"I've been so discouraged," he said. "I just want to contribute to the team. I only played one play at State, one series against Wake, one play against South Carolina and none last week.

"Sure, I'm human. I've second-guessed my decision a little bit."

He was asked if he'd rather have gone to a smaller school where he might have played more.

"I don't know about a smaller school," he answered, "but maybe a different school."

For now, however, Christensen, like Streater, wants to help Carolina to the ACC championship. The next step comes this week at Virginia.

"I'm not going to expect anything," Christensen said with regard to a possible starting opportunity. "Sure, I'm going to become anxious, and I want to start."

Streater's attitude is simple enough: "If Alan doesn't play, I'll be looking forward to the chance."

elect
Bill Thorpe
alderman

Bill Thorpe's interest in the UNC student population is obvious to all who know him. His attendance and participation in student meetings concerning Chapel Hill began long before his campaign. Bill Thorpe is committed to make the town government of Chapel Hill more open and accessible to students. The student community is fortunate to have Bill Thorpe's brand of enthusiasm and concern.

VOTE NOV. 8 David Parker
Paid For By Friends of Bill Thorpe Law Student

Parents, Graduates Alumnae subscribe to The Daily Tar Heel.

Keep in touch with everything that's happening at UNC and in Chapel Hill... at the same time you can enjoy excellent news coverage and editorial comment on national events as well... and our sports department follows the Carolina teams and games at home and away like nobody else in the business.

YES! I would like to subscribe to The Daily Tar Heel.

1st Class Delivery	3rd Class Mail Delivery
<input type="checkbox"/> 30.00 per semester	<input type="checkbox"/> 12.50 per semester
<input type="checkbox"/> 5.00 summer only	<input type="checkbox"/> 5.00 summer only
<input type="checkbox"/> 60.00 two semesters	<input type="checkbox"/> 25.00 two semesters
<input type="checkbox"/> 65.00 full year	<input type="checkbox"/> 30.00 full year

NAME _____
ADDRESS TO RECEIVE THE TAR HEEL _____
CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

If sent as a gift please give your name and address on a separate paper for enclosure with first issue sent.

Please include a check or money order made payable to The Daily Tar Heel. Send to The Daily Tar Heel, Carolina Union, UNC, Chapel Hill, NC 27514 carolina union

FALL IS HERE
and the pins are falling at the Carolina Union Bowling Lanes

Where you can bowl
3 games for the price of 2
all week long.
Today thru Sunday, Nov. 13.

Chapel Hill's needs have changed in the past several years; many services we once took for granted have become problems: water, transportation, balanced growth.

City government must, through proper planning, find solutions.

I believe that, with your help, I can provide the necessary leadership to solve these problems.

Bev Kawalec
for Alderman paid for by the Bev Kawalec for Alderman Committee

B golf team collects win

The UNC B-team golfers came from seven shots back to win the Methodist College B Tournament in Fayetteville, Thursday and Friday.

Freddie Palmer led the final-day charge, in which the Heels shot four under as a team. Palmer had a 69, followed by Matt Sughrue at 71 and Phil Bland and Mark Helffrich with rounds of 72.

Carolina won the tourney with a two-day total of 588. Duke and Elon finished two strokes back at 590, and N.C. State placed fourth at 595. Fifteen teams competed in the tournament.

Bland was low man in the tournament for the Heels with a two-day total of 148. Jerry Stanislaw and Sughrue both had 149 scores, and Jim Taylor, Palmer and Helffrich each had 150 totals. UNC golf coach Devon Brouse was pleased with the Heels play in the final match of the fall season.

"We did not play that well the first day," Brouse said, "and we were seven shots behind the leader. But the second day, we shot four under and were able to win it. We had a real good finish, and I am real proud of the guys' performance."

— DAVID McNEILL

VOTE!

THORPE SILVER COHEN

Candidates FOR

Better Government
Better Fire Protection

For Transportation to the Polls, Call: 942-2509 / 967-6180

Furnished By Southern Orange Black Caucus and the Chapel Hill Fire Fighters Assoc.

Paid For By The Chapel Hill Fire Fighters Association