

Volleyball team opens state play opposite UNC-G

By DINITA JAMES
Staff Writer

The regular season is over for the UNC women's volleyball team. They begin state tournament play at 11:30 a.m. today in Durham.

The first team the Tar Heels will face is UNC-Greensboro — a team they defeated Tuesday night, 15-9, 15-6.

Tix on sale Monday

Student tickets for Carolina's Nov. 26 basketball game against Oregon State in Charlotte and the Heels' Dec. 17 game with nationally ranked Cincinnati in Greensboro will go on sale at 8:30 a.m. Monday in the ticket office in Carmichael Auditorium.

Students with a valid ID card and athletic pass may purchase one ticket for $3 and one date ticket for $6.

looked to the game Tuesday night as a preview of what the Tar Heels might expect today.

"I thought we played pretty well against them. They're a hustling team, and they played good defense and picked up a lot of shots, Miller said.

Miller said she also feels they will be prepared mentally.

"I think they'll be ready, since we just beat them (Tuesday) night," she said. "I don't think they'll have a real psychological advantage, though. All the teams will be really psyched up for the state tournament," she said.

The Tar Heels also defeated Division II team High Point College, 16-14, 3-15, 15-8 Tuesday. Miller said playing a team that the Tar Heels will not have to face in the state tournament was an advantage for the team. "I'm glad we got to play High Point," she said. "We played really well, but we had a mental lapse in the second game. That showed us what we shouldn't do in the state."

The state tournament — the District I North Carolina Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women State Tournament — comprises N.C. State, East Carolina University, Appalachian State University, UNC-Greensboro, Duke and UNC. The tournament has a double-elimination format.

Because of this format, the teams know who they will play one game in advance. If the Tar Heels beat UNC-G, they will play Duke at 4:30 p.m.

Duke has been a problem for Carolina in the past. Duke won on Oct. 18 in Chapel Hill, 10-15, 15-6, 14-16, 11-15. The Tar Heels also lost to the Blue Devils in the Hurricane Volleyball Classic Oct. 22 in Louisburg, 15-1, 15-11, 15-10.

Despite Duke's presence in the tournament, Miller said she is optimistic about the Tar Heels' chances of winning. "We've had a good season, and that will positively affect us. It doesn't matter what our record is against Duke or anybody now that we're in the state," Miller said.

In preparing for the state tournament, Miller said that she has not been stressing any one thing in particular. "We've practiced like we've been practicing for a month, Miller said. "We spent a lot of time on defense and overall team play."

From the state tournament, two teams go on to the five-state regional tournament. "It's just like always," she said. "If we play well, we have a good chance of winning."

Pi Kaps take IM grid title

Pi Kappa Phi, led by Steve Briganti's 53-yard field goal and the running of quarterback Kevin Caddell, blanked the Granville 69ers, 42-0, to win the All-Campus tag football championship Tuesday.

Briganti's kick helped the Pi Kaps take a 10-0 lead at the half. In the second half, buoyed by the running of Caddell, the Pi Kaps cruised to the victory.

Pi Kappa Phi defeated the graduate-independent champion, Slack Pack, 26-25 in the semi-finals, while Granville, through a random drawing by the intramural office, drew a bye.

"The game was a letdown, really," said Dick Moore, a member of the victorious Pi Kaps. "We had come to play, and it was not that exciting a game."

DON'T BUY A TURKEY

Let's face it. Turkeys don't sound very good. Some stereos don't sound very good either. That's because they're turkeys. The problem is that many stereo turkeys look a lot like the real thing. So you get stuck with electronic poultry when you shop for good audio.

At Atlantis Sound, that isn't possible. We don't stock turkeys, no matter how hungry we are. We sell only the finest audio products, and give you a boggling selection to choose from. Here's just a sample:

- | | | |
|-----------------|-------------------|--------------------|
| SPEAKERS | TURNTABLES | ELECTRONICS |
| Advent | B-I-C | Onkyo |
| Altec Lansing | Technics | Kenwood |
| AR | Philips | Pioneer |
| Bolivar | Accutrac | Phase Linear |
| ESS | Kenwood | Sherwood |
| Philips | | Philips |

If your taste in sound is matched by your thrift, you'll find our prices very easy to swallow. And there's no indigestion after the sale. Our guarantees are the best in the business.

So when you shop for turkeys this season, buy the kind you can eat. And when you shop for a good stereo, give thanks for Atlantis Sound.

We don't sell turkeys. Even if they look like stereos.
