Men edge Pittsburgh after dual meet loss

By KEN ROBERTS

Going into the last event of the UNC-Pittsburgh swim meet Thursday, the score was 54-52 in favor of Pitt. The seven points a relay win would give would be enough for either team to pull out a victory in a meet that had been close from the start.

When the 400-yard free relay was over, the Panthers had escaped with a narrow 61-52 win. They had won the relay by .03 of a second, according to the electronic timing devices.

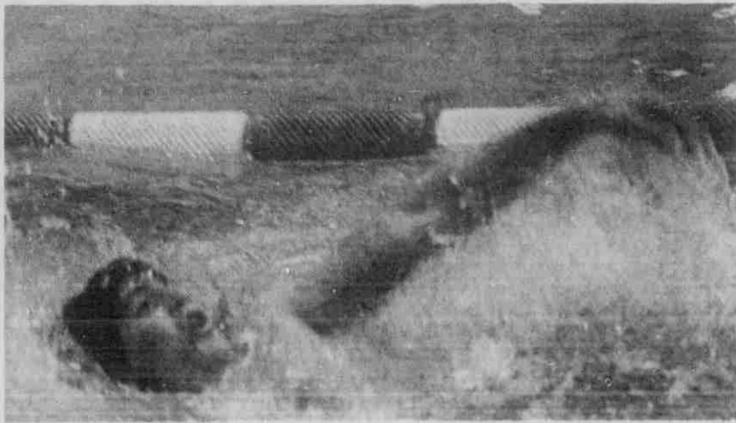

"The machine makes the decision but the judges picked Carolina... the human eye picked Carolina," Carolina coach Frank Comfort said.

Comfort was not questioning the reliability of the machine. "That's why machines are great; they eliminate human error," he said.

"It was just a fantastic, fantastic meet. The times we swam were incredible," Comfort said. "It's the best dual meet Carolina has swum in six years."

UNC took the 400-yard medley, setting a pool record; freshman Ken Ireland won the 200-yard free; co-captain Rich DeSelm sliced another record enroute to his win in the 200-yard individual medley, knocking four seconds off his best time in the event; Fritz Homans captured the 200-yard fly; and Tim Balderston finished first in the 100-yard free.

In the 200-yard back Mark List made an impressive showing. Not only did he win, he topped Stewart Swanson, who is now in East Germany representing the United States in its meet with the East German team. The Heels were hurt in the diving competition where Rich DeSelm's performance in the 200-yard individual medley was one of several record-breaking swims in Carolina's dual meet loss to Pittsburgh Friday. The Heels came back over the weekend to edge the Panthers in the Penn State Relays.

Pitt took the top two spots in both the one and three-meter competition.

"They are the best in the East (in diving) bar none. So we weren't shocked," Comfort said.

Saturday Carolina and Pitt were at it again in the Penn State Relays. While the story was the same, the ending was changed.

The Carolina swimmers dominated the meet from the onset with Pitt right on their heels.

"All we were concerned about was where we stood in relation to Pitt. You don't worry about the score, you worry about how many points you're ahead," Comfort said.

UNC finished first with 312 points; Pitt was second with 282. Defending champion Maryland was third with 218, and East Carolina University and Maine tied for fourth at 192 points.

Carolina swept eight of the 10 swimming events, setting pool records in all eight.

"I've never seen a team dominate a competition like we did," Comfort said.

An injury to Tim Lucido in the one-meter diving threw a scare into the Heels as the meet continued to be close despite the first-place muscle Carolina was showing.

"The races where Pitt couldn't stay with us is where we made up for the diving," Comfort said.

The Tar Heels took the 400-yard butterfly relay, free relay, back relay, breast relay, medley relay and individual relay. They also swam to blues in the 200-yard free and medley relays.

Brown, Marshall lead women's victory rally

Assistant Swim Coach Alan Toll said, "It has to be the most incredible comeback I have ever seen."

The UNC women's swim team, down by 64 points to rival N.C. State after the first of two days of swimming in the North Carolina AIAW Championships in Raleigh came from behind to topple the Pack by one point, 797-796.

"I know State thought they had it in the bag," Toll said. "It was beautiful."

Duke finished third with 577 points; Appalachian State was fourth at 148 and East Carolina finished with 102 points.

Co-captain Bonnie Brown and Ann Marshall led the way for the Heels. Brown won the 100-yard free and the 100- and 200-yard individual medleys. She was also second in the 100-yard back and fourth in the 200-yard free.

Marshall won the 100-yard back and the 200- and 500-yard free. She was second in the 50-yard back and fourth in the 100-yard free.

Event No. 13 proved to be the lucky event for Carolina.

"We were behind in the meet from the beginning to the 500-frees. That was our big event," Toll said.

Realizing the race was a crucial one to their chances in the 16-event meet, the swimmers coralled 9 of the 16 places in the event. Going into it they were down 621-581. Outscoring the Pack 101-30, Carolina jumped into the lead for the first time at 682-651.

Soccer fails in state title

Carolina's junior varsity soccer team narrowly lost in its bid to be champion of the North Carolina Soccer League Sunday in Greensboro, losing 3-2 to the Pressbox Soccer Club of Charlotte.

"It was the best championship game I've seen since I've been connected with the North Carolina Soccer League," Carolina's jayvee coach Tim Morse said.

Carolina scored first on an unassisted goal by Christ Brown 10 minutes into the match. Pressbox scored 10 minutes later on a penalty kick and again before the half to lead 2-1.

Phil Shellman scored an unassisted goal for Carolina in the second half to tie the game until a Pressbox player drilled a shot in with 10 minutes left in the match.

Carolina could have tied the score, but a penalty kick by the team failed.

Women suffer 1st cage loss

BOONE — The Carolina women's basketball team, plagued by a slow first half, 41 errors and a poor appearance at the free-throw line, suffered its first defeat Friday as Appalachian State beat the Tar Heels, 93-84.

Carolina's defense faltered somewhat in the first half, allowing ASU to score on several fastbreaks and build a 46-36 halftime lead. Carolina switched to man-to-man defense in the second half, forced several turnovers and cut the lead to 52-49 at 15:37.

ASU then built a nine-point lead that UNC's Rochelle Small helped chop to 66-63, but the Lady Apps opened it back to 11 at 77-66 with 6:33 to play.

Carolina fouled often in the last few minutes trying to catch up, but ASU's deadly free throw shooting kept the Lady Apps ahead.

UNC coach Jennifer Alley cited the team's poor first half as a big factor in the loss. "We had a slow sluggish start. Our first half hurt, but I was very proud of the second half," Alley said.

She also noted the free shooting of her team as a whole and of ASU's outstanding freshman, Donna Elrod. UNC shot only 14 of 25 from the line. Elrod had 13 of her 21 points from her attempts at the line.

ASU coach Judy Clark also cited Elrod's free throws, but felt the leadership of junior Carol Almond was one of the keys to their win.

Alley, who noted that the Tar Heels "showed sparks of a fine team," said the team would now look to Tuesday night's game with nationally ranked Old Dominion.

High scorers for the Tar Heels were Bernadette McGlade and Rochelle Small with 13 each. Aprille Shaffer, a High Point freshman, added 10 points.

THE DEAN OF BEER'S FINAL EXAM.

(Or, was yeast really responsible for the fall of the Roman Empire?)

As your Dean of Beer, it is my scholarly opinion that just knowing the one word for beer is not enough. You must also know the reasons why. Because only then will I, Siglinda Steinfüller, be satisfied that you have graduated from Remedial Beer Drinking.

QUESTIONS:

Q: 1. The best water for beer comes from:

- a) Big Duck Mountain.
- b) Underground from Tijuana.
- c) A small store in Macon, Ga.
- d) None of the above

A: (d) No matter what you hear about "naturally pure" waters, virtually all brewers filter and further purify their water. But Schlitz doesn't stop there. They filter their water and then filter it again. So when they're through, it's purer than the purest springwater.

Q: 2. Klages and Firlbeck III are:

- a) Composers of famous beer drinking songs like "I Left My Shoes in Heidelberg."
- b) Owners of the world's largest unknown brewery.
- c) Serving time in Sonoma, Calif., for impersonating Arnold the Wonder Seal.
- d) More expensive barleys.

A: (d) Schlitz blends Klages and Firlbeck III barleys with the standard variety most brewers use because they believe it gives their beer superior flavor.

Q: 3. Hops are notorious for:

- a) Their lack of intelligence.
- b) Always getting to work late.
- c) Losing their keys.
- d) Being difficult to keep fresh.

A: (d) The freshest hops make the best beer. That's why Schlitz vacuum-packs and refrigerates their hops. So they're as fresh at brewing time as they are at harvest time.

Q: 4. The best adjunct to beer is:

- a) Rice.
- b) Corn.
- c) Either rice or corn.
- d) What's an adjunct?

A: (c) Every American brewer uses rice or corn to lighten the flavor of their beer. This is called an adjunct. But Schlitz knows how to use either grain interchangeably. So they're never at the mercy of an unfavorable crop. And neither is the taste of their beer.

Q: 5. The biggest misconception about yeast is:

- a) Carrying some in your pocket is good luck.
- b) It is good for hernias.
- c) It was responsible for the fall of the Roman Empire.
- d) To ferment beer, all you have to do is drop it in the vat.

A: (d) To make beer taste right consistently, Schlitz believes the yeast has to be evenly distributed during fermentation. That's why Schlitz gently stirs in their yeast. It's part of their Balanced Fermentation process. And they're the only American brewer who does it.

Q: 6. Chill-Lagering is:

- a) A popular German country and western singer.
- b) A Scandinavian winter sport played without clothes.
- c) A new ethnic TV comedy about the owner of an ice cube factory.
- d) The right way to age beer.

A: (d) When Schlitz ages beer, they age it cold—very cold—down to 29.5 degrees. It's called Chill-Lagering. And it's what makes Schlitz crisp, clean and bright.

Q: 7. A mini-brewery is:

- a) Hidden in a basement somewhere in Greentown.
- b) The result of trying to make Broken Toe, Idaho, the beer capital of the world.
- c) The right way to pretest beer ingredients.
- d) Both (a) and (c)

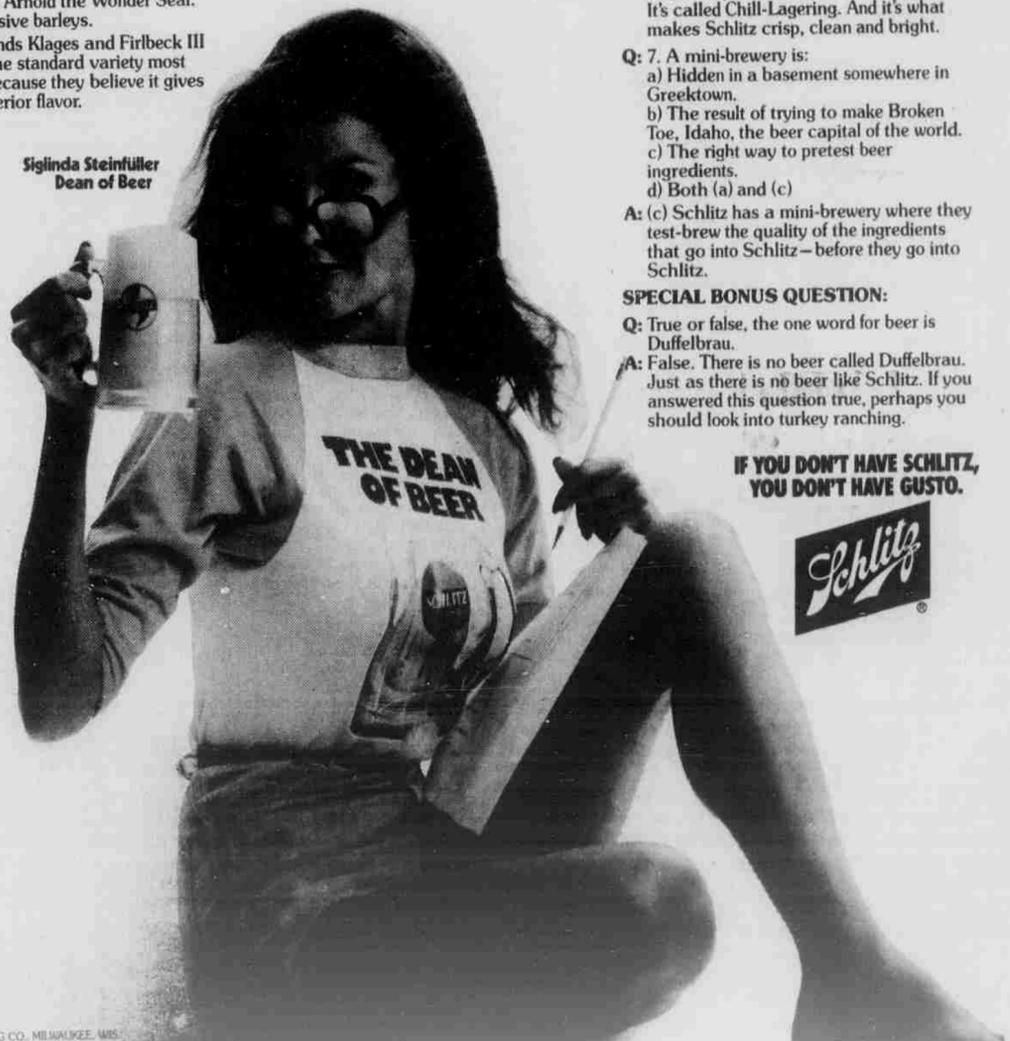

A: (c) Schlitz has a mini-brewery where they test-brew the quality of the ingredients that go into Schlitz—before they go into Schlitz.

SPECIAL BONUS QUESTION:

Q: True or false, the one word for beer is Duffelbrau.

A: False. There is no beer called Duffelbrau. Just as there is no beer like Schlitz. If you answered this question true, perhaps you should look into turkey ranching.
