are good, and North Carolina schools will certainly try to keep these two in-state.

Wilkins played in the shadow of Alvis Rogers (now at Wake Forest) as a junior, and should be ready to explode his senior year. With Rogers starring on the Washington High team, Wilkins still managed to average over 23 points per Worthy was a high school All-

America as a junior, and is noted for his smoothness on the court, his ball control and unselfishness. As a junior, he averaged 20 points, 10 rebounds and five assists a game. UNC is high on his list of possible colleges.

Cleveland's Clark Kellogg, 6-8, 220 pounds, is recognized as one of the best in the Midwest. His scoring average has gone up steadily each of his three years on the varsity, and he averaged 28 points a game last season.
