

Squires names 'Ink' co-editors

James Alexander and Theresa Williams have been chosen co-editors of Black Ink for 1979-80 by present editor David Squires. Alexander said he already has made plans for the paper. "We would like to do more features on what's happening in the area and work on our calendar," Alexander said. "We would also like to start academic features on majors and look into what kind of courses people might want to take to complete a major. "I would assign a different major to a person every week, and I think everyone would benefit from the program," he said. "We want the paper to be as much of a service to our readers as possible."

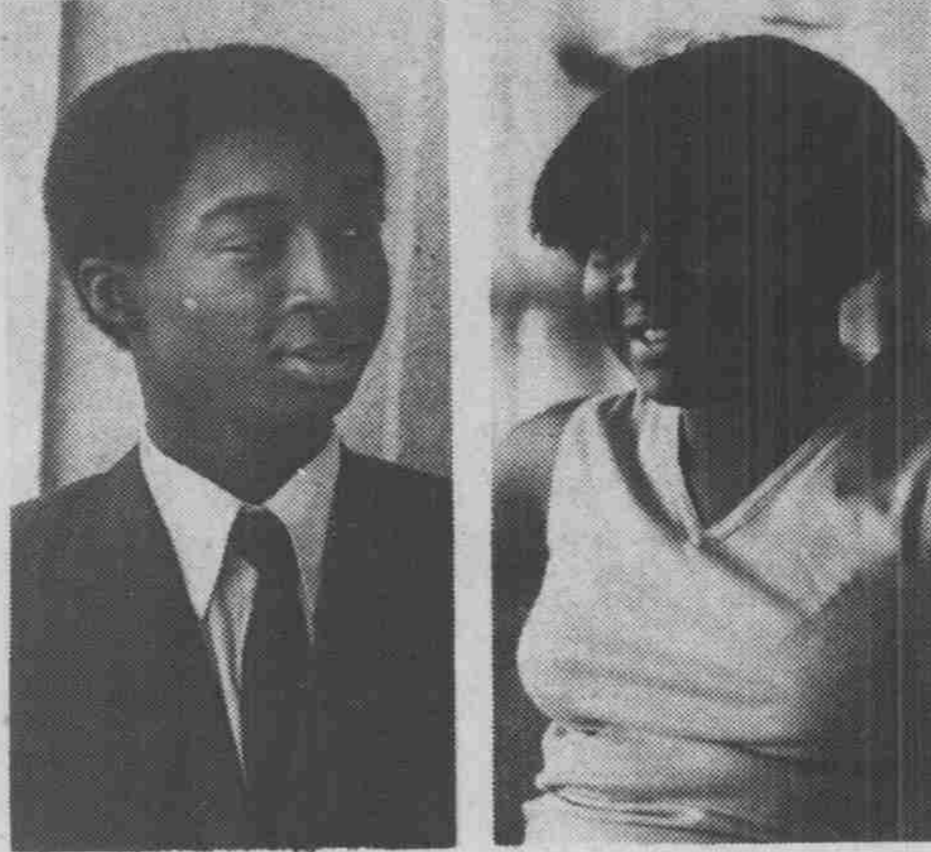

Alexander said they also will be looking into the distribution of the paper. "I think we have a lot of things people want to read about, and we want to make it so everyone can get a copy," he said.

Black Ink distribution boxes will be placed in the Union, and at some of the South Campus bus stops and dorms, Alexander said.

Williams said they also are interested in increasing production. "Each year the new editors have kind of a contest to see if they can print more issues than the previous editors," Williams said. "We would like to print an issue every week if we are able to and have the money. It would be good to have an issue come out every Friday," she said.

Williams said she already has chosen the other editors for next year's Black Ink. She also said she would like to see the paper's campus calendar include off-campus events.

—THOMAS JESSIMAN

James Alexander and Theresa Williams
...co-editors already have plans

Workshop to discuss effects of Bakke

Effects of the Bakke case on the black press will be the topic of a panel discussion at a workshop to be held Saturday at the Governor's Inn in Raleigh.

The discussion topic will be "Can the Black Press Defeat the S.O.B.—'Sons of Bakke'?" Carolyn Stroman of the African and Afro-American studies curriculum said the "Sons of Bakke" were cases resulting from the U.S. Supreme Court decision that Alan Bakke, a white male, had been discriminated against because of race by the University of California at Davis medical school.

Panel participants will include Vivian Edmonds, editor of the Carolina Times; Paul Brock, NAACP associate director for public information; Robert Hill, special assistant to the chancellor for affirmative action at Syracuse University; and Ralph Smith, assistant professor of law at the University of Pennsylvania.

The workshop is sponsored by the Southeastern Black Press Institute, a demonstration project of the UNC African and Afro-American studies curriculum.

"The Southeastern Black Press Institute has set a goal of offering technical assistance to black editors and publishers," Stroman said. "That is the goal of this workshop."

"The workshop is also a celebration of the 152nd anniversary of the Black Press Institute," she said.

The workshop will be held from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Registration fee is $30, and $15 for students. Newspaper publishers, editors and staff, community leaders, students and other interested persons may attend.

For more information, call Stroman at 966-5496.

—RAMONA JONES

Campus Calendar

Public service announcements must be turned in at the box outside the DTJ offices in the Carolina Union by 1 p.m. if they are to run the next day. Each item will be run at least twice.

FINE ARTS FESTIVAL

Howard Stein Lecturing on "The Future of Dramatic Training Programs in the U.S." at 3 p.m. today in Graham Memorial Lounge.

Cedric Messina Producer of BBC's Shakespeare Plays series will present a lecture and videotape at 8 p.m. today in 101 Greenlaw.

Ladyhouse Blues Final performances of the Carolina Union production of Kevin O'Morrison's play, set in early 20th century St. Louis, will be at 8 p.m. today and Saturday.

Touch The mime troupe of the Carrboro Art School will present two performances in Memorial Hall this weekend: for children, at 11 a.m. Saturday; and for adults, at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Hans Haacke The artist will give a lecture and slide presentation at 2 p.m. Saturday in 115 Ackland.

Nozack Shange The poet and playwright will lecture on "Black Theatre: Tradition and Future" at 4 p.m. Saturday in Graham Memorial Lounge and will give a reading from her works at 8 p.m. Sunday in the Paul Green Theatre.

Blues Evening Seven local musicians will sing and play the blues in a relaxed concert at 8 p.m. Saturday in Gerrard Hall.

Children's Literature Read by Daphne Athas, Max Steele and others at 2 p.m. Sunday by the Old Well. (Rain place: Gerrard Hall) Children are encouraged to bring their stories and poems, and share in the reading.

ACTIVITIES TODAY

The UNC Club Football team opens its season tonight at 8 p.m. on the Astroturf field against UNC-W. Everyone is invited, no admission is charged.

South and Granville Off-Campus Chapters of Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship are having a Bible Dig-In in the book of 1 John. The study, which will be led by staff worker Jimmy Long, will be held at 7:30 p.m. tonight and Saturday in 213 Carolina Union. Everyone is welcome.

There will be a slide show and discussion with audience participation on recent events in the People's Republic of China at 8:30 p.m. in classroom two. UNC law school Professor Chi Hsi-sheng and Professor Lawrence Kesler will give brief presentations on recent events between China and Vietnam, and the U.S. and China, respectively. Admission is free and the public is invited.

Hung-Sheng Tsao of Rockefeller University will be speaking on "Quantum Gravity" at 2 p.m. in 265 Phillips Hall. Refreshments will be served at 3 p.m. following the talk in 277 Phillips Hall.

The Muslim Students Association will have its regular Juma'a meeting from 1 to 2 p.m. in 217 Carolina Union.

The Campus Y Dinner Discussion features Dr. Landsberger speaking on Dilemma: Revolutions vs. Repressions at 5:30 p.m. Sign up in 102 Campus Y Building.

UPCOMING EVENTS

The date has been set and is rapidly approaching! The Campus Y's annual Walk for Humanity is going to be held Saturday! Pick up your walk cards at the Campus Y, get your sponsors and walk for humanity. There will be prizes for the largest single and group collection.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Alpha Epsilon Delta and the Preprofessional Health Society of UNC will co-sponsor sickle cell information and screening sessions from 7-9 p.m. April 2 in 209 Carolina

Union, and at 9 and 11-30 a.m. and 2 p.m. April 14 at the First Baptist Church just off W. Franklin St. The sessions will feature films and a lecture on sickle cell anemia and the sickle cell trait. A voluntary screening will follow, all will be informed of their test results. For more information call 933-7442 or 933-7037.

O.A. (Overeaters Anonymous) is a non-profit fellowship based on the concept of Alcoholics Anonymous. No dues or fees are required for membership—all that is necessary is a desire to stop compulsive eating. Meetings are held weekly at 7 p.m. Mondays at the Chapel Hill University Baptist Church.

Any woman who wants to play rugby this spring or summer should call Juliana at 928-7614 after 6 p.m. Even if you've called—please call again. I lost the list.

Ushers are needed for the Carolina Union production of Ladyhouse Blues. Performances are March 21-24 in the Great Hall. Anyone interested in ushering and seeing the show free should contact Gina Steed, Union Activities Board at 933-1157 today!

The bloodmobile will be located in Morrison lounge from 10:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. March 21-26. RHA will be recruiting blood donors.

The DAT (Dental Admission Test) is scheduled for April 28. Applications must be received in Chicago, Ill. by April 2—allow a week for mailing the $20 fee. Pick up test application and information sheet about the admission process in the Pre-Admission Advising Office, 311 South Bldg., or University Counseling Center 101 Nash Hall.

Applications for working in pre-Admission Advising are available in 310 South Bldg. Rising seniors who want to volunteer four hours a week starting this spring to advise students interested in medicine and dentistry should file applications and set up an appointment to talk with Dr. H. Dearman.

Marshall applications for the 1979 commencement will be available at the Carolina Union desk from March 21-30. Applications are open to all members of the UNC-CBI junior class. A variety of individuals are being sought to represent a diverse senior class.

Applications are currently being accepted for members of the attorney general's staff. Any interested person is encouraged to apply. Applications are available in Suite C, Carolina Union and the deadline is April 2.

Any student interested in contributing a soul food dish to the Black Arts Festival Food Fair please contact Rochelle Riley at 933-4782 or Wanda Montgomery at 942-7115. For more information on the Black Arts Festival please contact Denise Phillips or Greg Pennington in Suite B, Carolina Union.

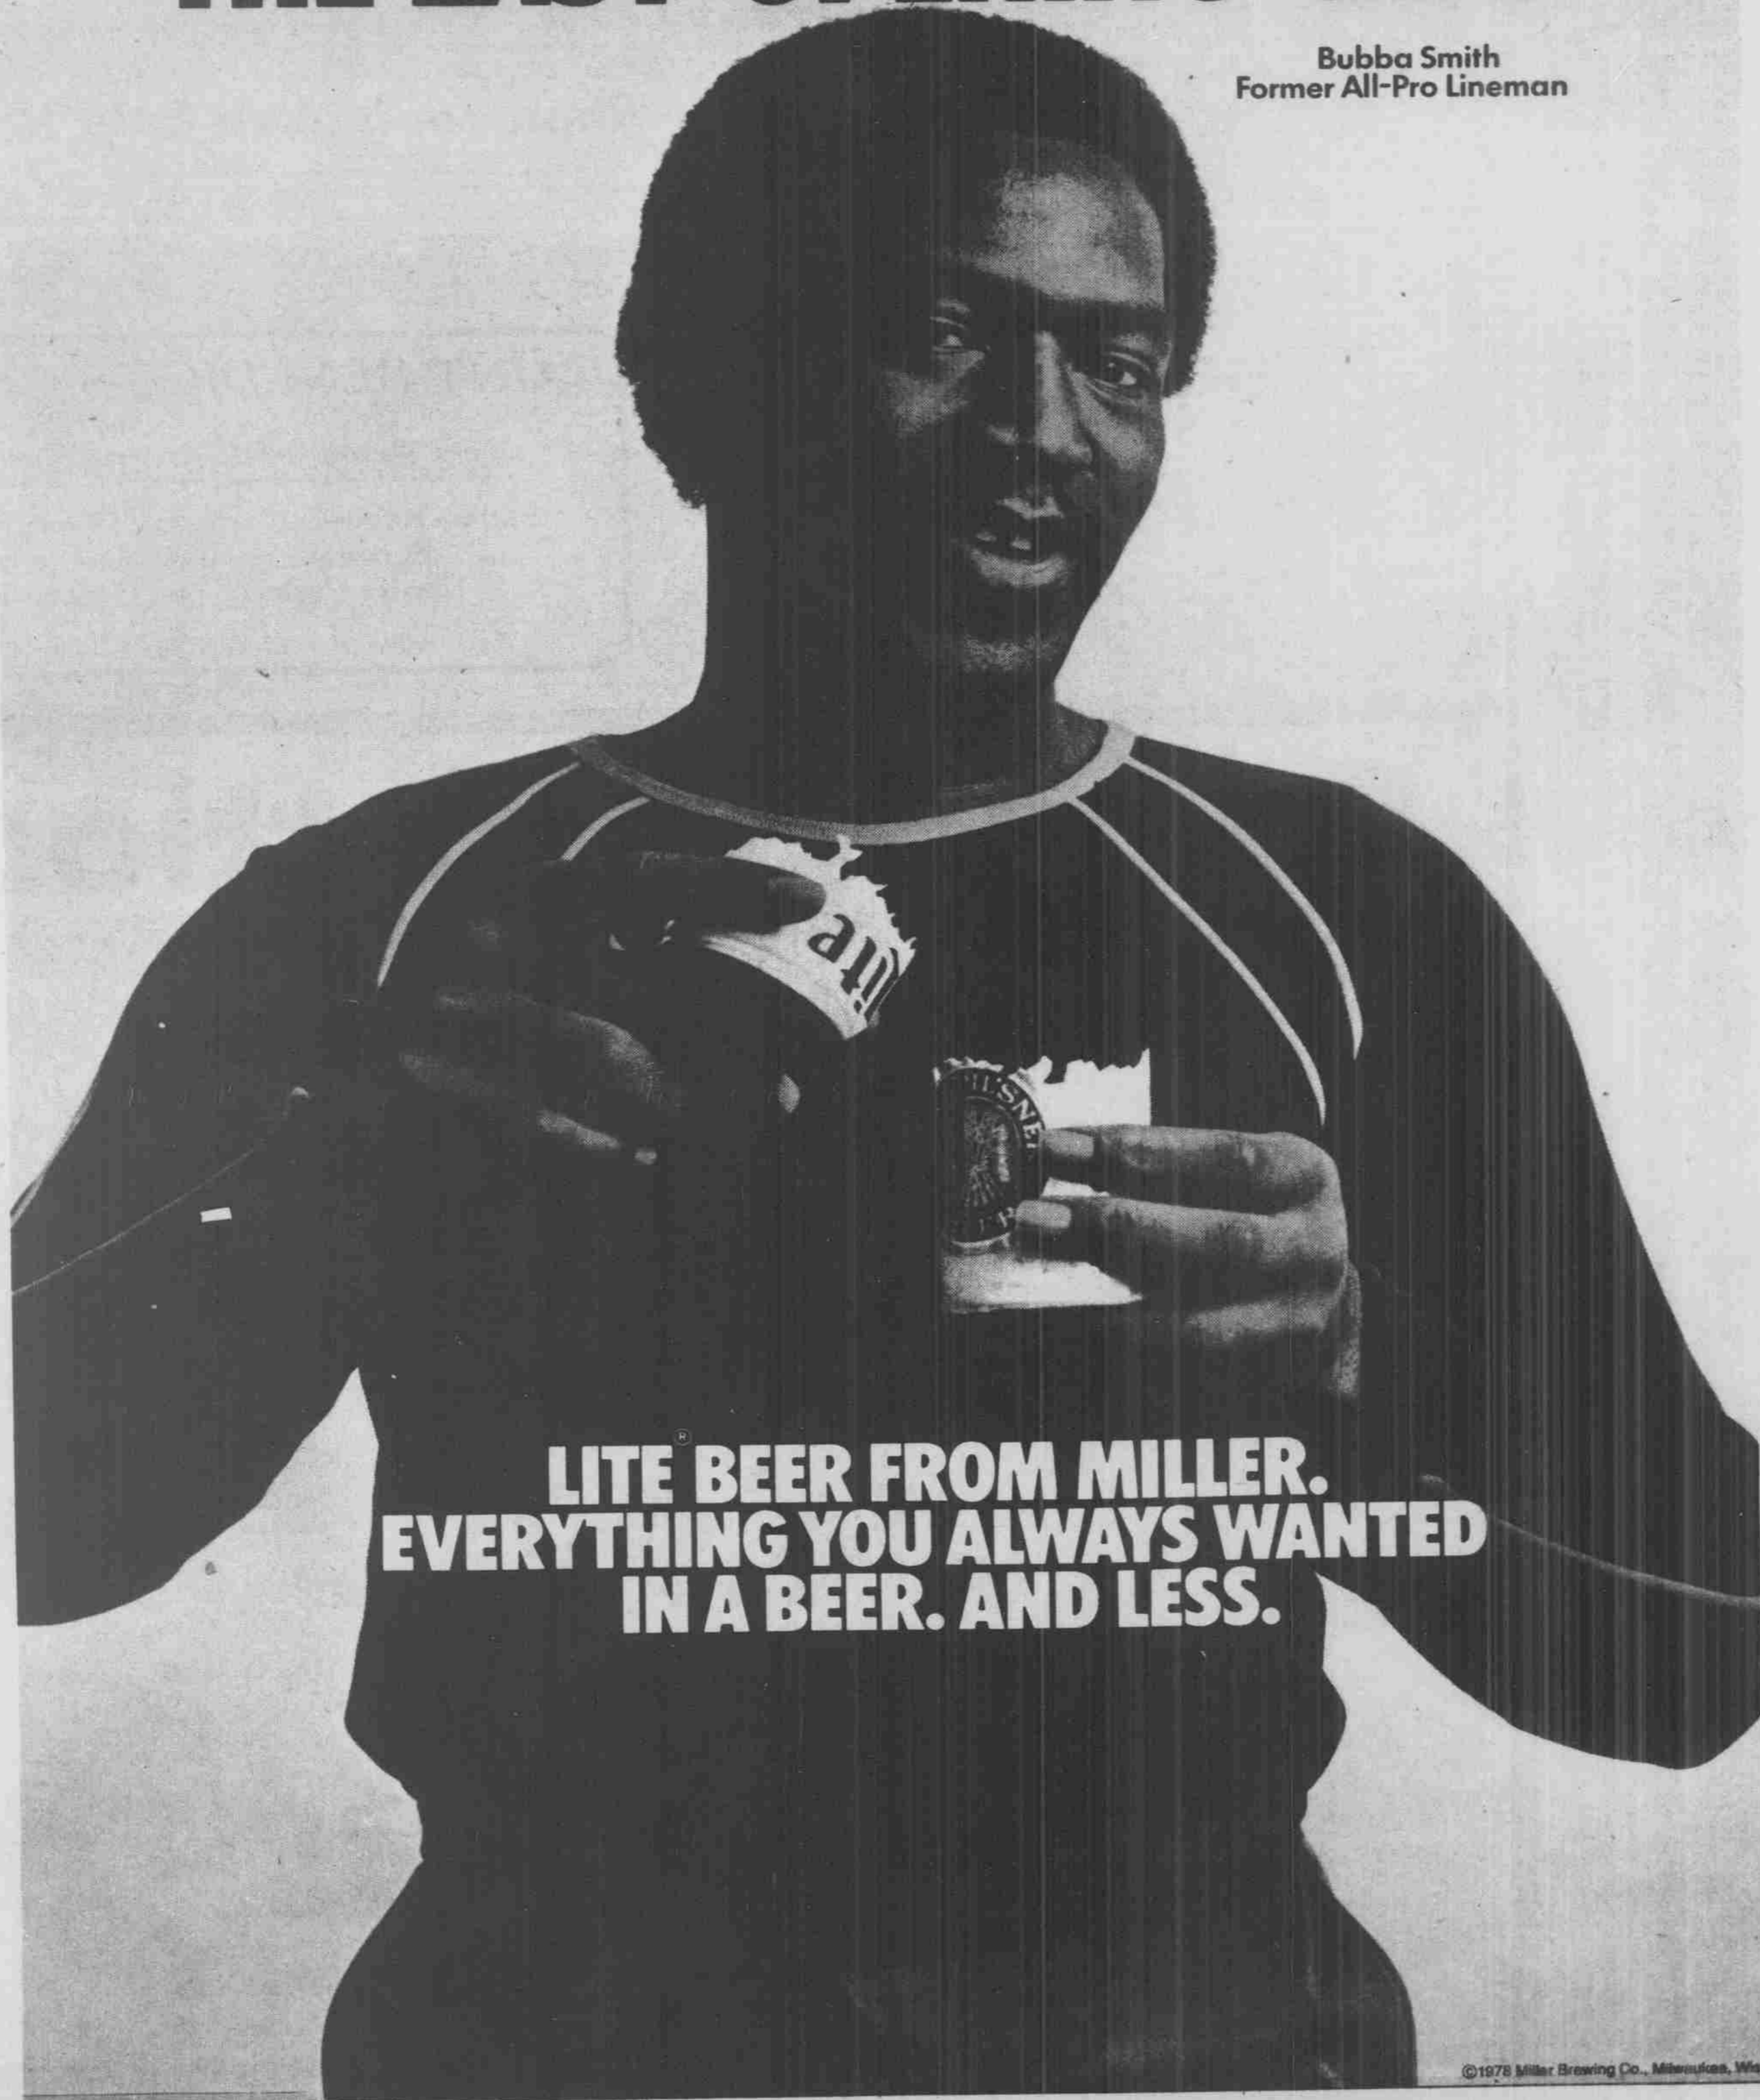

For the record

In its Wednesday, March 21 edition, the Daily Tar Heel incorrectly quoted Student Legal Services attorney Mark Sternlicht as saying Foxcroft residents who did not pay the full amount of their rents in response to an alleged breach of contract on the landlord's part are in violation of the law. He said Thursday that because the law is unclear on the point, Foxcroft residents who did not pay the full amount of their rents because water was not supplied to their apartments are not necessarily in breach of their contracts. He said it will be up to the courts to determine whether any breach had occurred.

The Daily Tar Heel regrets the error.

"LITE TASTES GREAT AND IT'S LESS FILLING. I ALSO LIKE THE EASY-OPENING CAN."

Bubba Smith
Former All-Pro Lineman

LITE BEER FROM MILLER. EVERYTHING YOU ALWAYS WANTED IN A BEER. AND LESS.

THE CAROLINA THEATRE
DOWNTOWN DURHAM 668-1939

HELD OVER
4th BIG WEEK

BEST FILM OF THE YEAR
—National Society of Film Critics
Bernard Blier's
GET OUT YOUR HANDKERCHIEFS
Academy Award nominee
"BEST FOREIGN FILM"

Evenings 7:10, 9:10
Sunday Mats: 1:20, 3:15, 5:10
Admission $2.75

Plaza 3 HELD OVER
3:30, 5:30, 7:30, 9:30

See The Movie
All Your Friends
Are Screaming About!!!
"HALLOWEEN"

Plaza 3 NOW SHOWING
2:45-5:00-7:15-9:30

Midnight Express

Plaza 3 NOW SHOWING
3:15-5:15-7:15-9:15

Roman Polanski's
"FORBIDDEN DREAMS"
"...very explicit"

Varsity Now Showing
3-5-7

Melina Mercouri
Ellen Burstyn
A Dream of Passion

Varsity

Come at 7:00 and see "Norma Rae" and
"A Dream of Passion"
for the price of one movie.

"...very touching and wonderful."
—Gene Shalit, NBC-TV

Norma Rae
SALLY FIELD

PHONE 942-3651
Varsity
101 E. FRANKLIN ST.

FRIDAY & SATURDAY NIGHT
LATE SHOW
12:00 MIDNIGHT
ALL SEATS $2.00

THE ROCKY HORROR PICTURE SHOW