

HEW backs UNC right to hearing before cutoff

From Wire Reports
WASHINGTON—HEW has told the NAACP Legal Defense and Education Fund UNC is entitled to a hearing before any cutoff of federal funds to the system.
 UNC and HEW are currently at a standoff over a desegregation plan for the 16 campuses in the University system. The schools stand to lose about $89 million a year in federal funds.
 Earlier in the week, the Justice Department asked the U.S. District Court to reject a motion by Fund attorneys that would bring an immediate cutoff of federal funds to the University.
 The Justice Department said in a response filed late Monday, neither the court nor HEW can take such action until administrative proceedings currently under way against UNC have determined that the University operates a segregated system.

chancellor Raymond Dawson said. "But they also have an interest in the University system."
 Friday said he has not talked with HEW officials since the negotiations are being handled by lawyers for the University.
 Last week Friday met with four black legislators to brief them on the latest developments in the HEW controversy. Rep. Kenneth Spaulding, D-Durham, asked Friday a number of questions concerning faculty HEW also argued the Legal Defense and Education Fund has no right to ask the court to stop aid to the 11 predominantly white UNC schools.

 "Plaintiffs cannot be allowed to simply ignore the fact that a third party's rights are being adjudicated in its absence," the HEW brief said.
 HEW secretary Joseph Califano, launched the administrative proceedings on March 29 aimed at cutting off federal aid to UNC.
 North Carolina has 20 days from that date to reply to the contention by HEW that UNC still runs its campuses in a manner that has maintained and perpetuated the dual system of racially segregated schools.
 Hearings before the administrative judge could take months, but Califano has said a limited cutoff of $10 million to $20 million will begin by the end of this month.

salaries and other issues pertaining to the black schools.
 "The main reason (the black legislators) wanted to meet with Mr. Friday was to get a better idea of what was going on," and aide to Sen. Fred Alexander, D-Mecklenburg, said last week. "The problem is that the only information we get comes from either radio or television and puts us in a difficult position to respond to the new developments."

guidelines.
 Union President Frank Fitzsimmons refused to say whether he thought the package fell within the guidelines, leaving that to the government. "I can't figure their arithmetic," Fitzsimmons said after the two sides settled Tuesday.
 The agreement must be ratified by union members, a process that takes four to six weeks. "I'm sure they'll be satisfied with this agreement," Fitzsimmons said. "At least I hope so."
 Union officials say the possibility that members will reject the pact is a remote one.
 Carter's voluntary anti-inflation program calls for a 7 percent annual ceiling on wage and fringe benefit increases. That works out to 22.5 percent over three years with compounding.

 However, the administration has relaxed the standard twice to accommodate the Teamsters.
 The contract is considered a crucial test of Carter's voluntary guidelines because the Teamsters traditionally set wage patterns for other major unions that bargain later in the year.
 Meanwhile, union and industry officials met at Teamster headquarters Wednesday in Washington to complete final terms for ending the longest trucking shutdown in the nation's history.

and 12-week sessions, respectively.
 The Yoga Place in Chapel Hill deals solely with yoga instruction and maintains a waiting list of prospective yoga students.
 "Yoga is a never-ending process," Carothers said. "If someone starts taking yoga classes but then loses interest in continuing the classes, at least he will come away with a greater awareness of himself, and that's what yoga is all about."

For those interested in taking instruction in Hatha yoga, several classes are available in Chapel Hill. UNC and the Chapel Hill YMCA offer special interest classes in yoga for eight-

News In Brief

Tornado dead, injured rising

WITCHITA FALLS, Texas (AP)—Emergency crews strung lifelines Wednesday to splintered neighborhoods in this north Texas city and three other "Tornado Alley" towns hit by tornadoes that killed at least 60 persons and injured more than 800 others.
 Texas Gov. Bill Clements said the cost to rebuild would run between $200 million and $300 million.
 The Department of Public Safety reported 44 bodies had been found in Wichita Falls by noon, plus 12 in Vernon and one in Harrold, a few miles to the west. Across the Red River in Lawton, Okla., three more were counted dead.

Galifianakis indicted for perjury

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former North Carolina Congressman Nick Galifianakis has been indicted on charges stemming from allegations of South Korean influence-buying in the United States.
 A federal grand jury Tuesday accused Galifianakis of perjuring himself in testimony before the House ethics committee last year.
 In the indictment, Galifianakis was accused of denying under oath that he received $10,000 in cash from South Korean rice dealer Tongson Park. The indictment said he received the money through an aide to his 1972 senatorial campaign.
 He faces up to five years in prison and a $2,000 fine if convicted.

Radioactive waste stopped at border

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—Two trucks carrying radioactive wastes from the Three Mile Island nuclear plant near Harrisburg, Pa., toward Barnwell, S.C., were turned away by South Carolina health officials.
 Heyward G. Shealy of the Department of Health and Environmental Control said Tuesday he ordered the trucks not to enter South Carolina after representatives of Chem-Nuclear Systems Inc. told him highly radioactive wastes from the damaged Three Mile reactor were in one truck.
 The wastes were en route to a Chem-Nuclear site near Barnwell, where they were to have been buried in the containers they were shipped in, Shealy said. Shealy said the trucks were supposed to contain low level radioactive wastes from the Pennsylvania plant's number one reactor, which was not damaged in last month's accident.
 But the DHEC official said apparently some highly radioactive water from the second reactor, which was damaged, mingled with wastes from the first unit.

New safety measures needed for nukes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Three Mile Island accident has revealed the need for new safety measures that could affect nearly half the atomic power plants in the country, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission staff said Wednesday.
 The commission staff declared the accident requires consideration of additional safety measures on a priority basis, and the agency expects to issue a new directive to the industry Thursday.
 Cold shutdown in the nuclear reactor at Three Mile Island could begin within a week, Harold Denton, NRC operations chief, said Wednesday.
 Denton told reporters that if tests show the amount of gas dissolved in the primary cooling system water has been reduced to a safe level, technicians could start the NRC-approved cooldown plan formulated by Babcock and Wilcox, builder of the plant.

Somoza prepares assault on Esteli

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—President Anastasio Somoza's national guard moved troops and armored vehicles around the guerrilla-occupied city of Esteli Wednesday, apparently preparing for a major push to capture it.
 Reliable sources said the national guard, Somoza's 10,000-man army, controlled the Pan-American Highway on either side of town, the garrison and an airport on the outskirts.
 More than 400 Sandinista National Liberation Front guerrillas sworn to oust Somoza were reported barricaded inside the Esteli. Red Cross sources estimated 5,000 of Esteli's 35,000 residents had fled the city 90 miles north of Managua since it was overrun by guerrillas.
