than four points. But Carolina started missing while Maryland kept hitting, and the Terps drew out from a three-point advantage to nine in six minutes to lead 40-31 at halftime.

"They spread us out late in the first half, and we chose to chase." Smith said. "That was a gamble on our part."

Carolina couldn't dent the lead until the 9:29 mark of the second half when a Jimmy Braddock jumper from the top of the key started the Heels on a spree to within three points at 60-57. But Driesell called time, and Maryland came out to score 10 straight points, putting the game out of reach with 4:52 left.

During the 10-point Maryland run, Carolina's James Worthy drove into the key around the Terps' Graham but slipped and broke two bones above his. right ankle. Worthy is out for the rest of the year.

Carolina was able to get within as few as six points only in the final 29 seconds.

The loss drops Carolina to 10-4, 4-3 in the ACC. Maryland remains in the league lead at 5-1 and is 12-2 overall.

"I wouldn't say (we're in control of the ACC race)," Driesell said. "We're just taking them one game at a time. The win today should help us along the way, but it does not make the season."

"They're in good shape in the conference race," Smith said.

The Tar Heels were without the services of guard Jimmy Black because of his mother's death Friday.

weekend roundup

A late Wolfpack comeback had tied the match 18-18 going into the final match between Parry and State's Greg Steele. Parry's takedown gave him a 4-2 lead. and he held on for a 5-3 victory.

Parry's clutch victory was set up two hours earlier when Carolina's Bob Monaghan upset Jim Zenz, ranked second in the nation, in a 15-6 major decision in the 118-pound class.

Monaghan's victory gave the Tar Heels momentum, and they ran to a 12-0 lead behind decisions by Dave Cooke and C.D. Mock.

The Wolfpack then mounted a comeback with four victories around Carolina wins at 158 by Jan Michaels and at the 167 class by Carter Mario. State's three-time Atlantic Coast Conference champion Joe Lidowski's 7-5 win over Norman Walker tied the match at 18 and set the stage for Parry's win.

The Tar Heels returned Saturday night to Carmichael Auditorium and defeated Old Dominion 30-11 for their fourth dual meet victory against no defeats. The meet was highlighted by Mock's 9-4 decision of nationally ranked Buddy Lee and Mario's second-period pin over threetime Virginia state champion Arturo Holmes.

UNC's next dual meet is against Duke at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Carmichael.

The men's swim team had one of its best performances of the year Saturday as the Tar Heels defeated South Carolina, 65-48, while the Tar Heel women fell to USC in an upset, 37-94, at Bowman Gray Pool Individual winners for the men (3-3) were Bob Omainsky in the 1,000 free, Terry Jones in the 50 free, Arnaldo Perez in the 200 fly, and Ken Ireland in the 200 back and Barry Thomas in one-meter diving.

Roger Vredeveld, Keith Hoffman, Perez and Tim Sutton swam on the winning 400-medley relay. The men concluded the meet with a win in the 400free relay (Fritz Homans, Todd Deckman, Omainsky, Dave Hansen). The women dropped to 4-1 in losing to the nation's 10th-best team in 1979.

"We had no idea they would be so strong," assistant coach Duffy Hickey said. "But I think good things will come out of this meet. We had gotten into a lull and USC woke us up."

Cynthia Chilcott was the only individual winner as she and Nance Thompson teamed for a 1-2 finish in the 1.000 free.

Cindy Shirey, Gayle Hegel, Barb Harris and Bonny Brown made up the winning 400-medley relay.

The UNC men's track team outdistanced South Carolina and East Carolina, while the Tar Heel women tracksters were defeated by Virginia in indoor action Saturday in the New Tin Can.

Carolina's men, who coach Joe Hilton said were "real good all the way down the line," recorded 12 first-place finishes and scored 83 points for a comfortable margin over the Gamecocks and Pirates.

Virginia's women defeated the Tar Heels 50-39. Seven UNC competitors finished first against the Cavaliers and East Carolina. The Pirates' scores were not figured in team or individual competition.

UNC's Steve Flynn won the shot put with a 49-11/4 effort in his first competitive meet. Other UNC winners were Todd Hamilton in the two-mile run. Kelvin Bryant in the 60-yard dash, Phil Farris in the long jump and Skip Miller in the 60vard high hurdles.

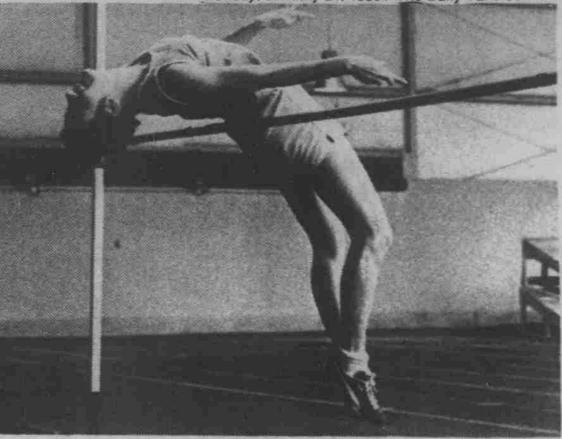

Other winners were Lee Shuler in the high jump. Chris Mand in the pole vault. Wayne Miller in the 600-yard run, Sam Brown in the 440-yard run. Kevin Lockerbie in the 880-yard run, the UNC distance medley team and the UNC relay team.

For the Tar Heel women, Lisa Staton won two events: the long jump and the 60yard dash. Michelle Langan won the high jump. Rosie Reddick the shot put. Kelly Houk the 440-yard dash. Lindy Appen the mile and Nancy Radford the twomile.
