

It was a busy weekend for Tar Heel teams

From Staff and Wire Reports

Jennifer Balent won the singles championship and teamed with fellow Tar Heel Margaret Scott for the doubles title in the N.C. AIAW tournament on the Varsity Courts.

On Saturday, the Tar Heels took the team crown with an 8-1 win over Duke, earning them a trip to the AIAW regionals May 8-10 in Johnson City, Tenn.

Balent, unseeded in singles, defeated teammate Margie Brown, the tourney's No. 1 seed, 7-5, 6-2 in the finals.

In doubles, Balent-Scott defeated Tar Heel teammates Lloyd Hatcher-Betty Baugh Harrison, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

In Raleigh Saturday, Maryland's 24-year domination of Atlantic Coast Conference track and field came to an end as Clemson outdistanced the Terps for the 1980 title.

Carolina, which entered the meet with a host of injuries, finished fifth, behind Virginia, N.C. State, the Terrapins and Clemson.

High jumper Lee Shuler and sprinter Wayne Miller took individual titles for Carolina. Shuler jumped 7-2 to outdistance his closest competition by two inches. Miller won the 400 meter while still recovering from a hamstring injury.

Tar Heel distance runner Gary Hofstetter placed second in the 10,000 meters behind Julius Ogaro of Clemson, and also finished behind him in another race, where he was fifth in the 5,000.

Other top finishers for the Tar Heels were Todd McCallister, third in the 1,500 meters; Jimmy Cooper, fourth in the 3,000-meter steeplechase; and Chris Mand, third in the pole vault.

On Fetzer Field Saturday afternoon, the North Carolina lacrosse team defeated Roanoke College 14-10, keeping alive its hopes of a shared ACC title and an NCAA post-season bid.

The win raised the Tar Heels' record to 6-2. A win over N.C. State would make them conference tri-captains with Virginia and Maryland.

Freshman Terry Martinello led Carolina scoring with three goals and an assist. Monty Hill, John Schipper and Mike Burnett scored twice.

Roanoke held a 5-4 halftime lead, but the Tar Heels took control of the game in the third period, as the defense shut down Richard Graham, who scored four straight goals in the first half, and Bill Ness. Tom Federico and Schipper put UNC up for good, 8-6.

weekend roundup

The North Carolina softball team lost a double-header Sunday to the Wolfpack in the N.C. State Invitational, falling 4-3 and 5-3 in Raleigh.

Wake Forest ran off and hid from the rest of the field in the ACC golf championships Sunday at Rocky Mount's Northgreen Country Club.

The Deacons won the tournament by 31 strokes, with a 54-hole total of 838. Clemson was second with 871, N.C. State was third at 873 and Carolina was fourth with 882. Virginia was next at 891, then came Maryland at 898, Duke at 906 and Georgia Tech at 910.

The individual title was won by Wake's Gary Hallberg who shot rounds of 67, 69, 68 for a three-day total of 204. That shattered the conference tournament record of 207 set by Parker Moore of Clemson in 1976 and tied by Scott Hoch of Wake in 1977.

One of Hallberg's teammates, sophomore Tom Knox, finished second at 206. Knox was at even par 72 after the first round, but fired 5-under 67s on each of the last two days to rally. Roy Hunter of N.C. State was third, followed by Gary Pinns of Wake at fourth and Clarence Rose and Kevin Walsh of Clemson who tied for fifth.

Carolina's top finisher was Phil Bland, who opened with a 69 but shot 77 on Saturday en route to a 219 finish, good for a tie for ninth.

Other Carolina scores included a 76-71-75 for a 222 total by Mike West, a 77-76-70 for a 223 total by Todd McGrew and a 79-74-71 for a 224 total by David Whitfield.

Clemson's tennis team posted victories in five of the six singles matches Sunday to capture the ACC crown, its first tennis title in 11 years.

The Tigers got wins from last year's singles champion Mike Gandolfo, who defeated Armand Molino of Wake Forest 7-5, 6-7, 6-3 at No. 1 singles. Gandolfo's teammate Mark Dickson downed Carolina's Ray Disco 6-2, 6-1 at No. 2.

Other Clemson wins were posted by Pender Murphy, Mark Beuchler and Jean Desdunes. At No. 6, Phil Raiford of Wake Forest beat Russell Gache of Duke, 7-5, 6-2.

The team standings had Clemson with 73 points which easily outdistanced Wake Forest with 58. N.C. State had 48 to take third and Carolina was fourth at 45. Virginia took fifth with 33 points, Duke was sixth with 31, Georgia Tech was seventh with 22. Maryland was last with 14 points.

In addition to the championships in singles, Gandolfo was selected as the Most Valuable Player in the tournament. Clemson's Chuck Kriese was named coach of the year.

In addition to Disco's second place at No. 2, UNC's Gary Taxman finished third at No. 1 singles. Taxman beat Virginia's Hal Brock in the consolation round of the No. 1 singles finals 6-3, 4-6, 6-1 to take his third-place finish.

Perkins to UNC

LATHAM, N.Y. (AP)—Sam Perkins, a 6-foot-9 center who escaped the slums of New York City to find fame in this Albany suburb, announced Saturday he has accepted a basketball scholarship to attend UNC next season.

The announcement ended months of speculation over the destination of Perkins, who in just two years, established himself as the best basketball player in northeastern New York scholastic history.

Perkins said he decided on Carolina—over Duke, UCLA and Syracuse—mainly because of coach Dean Smith. Perkins' high school coach Julius Grimindl and his guardian Herb Crossman had also favored UNC because of Smith.

"They told me about the man. I hadn't really heard of him," Perkins said. "He's a good guy. He knows the game. He's a great person."
