HAS VOTED ON BY THE IM-REC OFFICIALS SUPERVISORS AND STAFF

The first annual intramural, the intramural track meet, started to run Thursday and Sunday. It has been changed to run a week from Sunday through Oct. 11, according to IM-Rec director Marty Pomerantz.

UNC's intramural will consist of 10 events. Each person must complete at least one event and, in those of seven optional events, Pomerantz said. The optional events must be declared on the entry form, which is due Friday.

Each event has an established performance standard for which the participant can attain 1,000 points Pomerantz said. A performance superior to the standard earns bonus points and a performance below the standard deducts points.

Mandatory events include an obstacle course, 100 and 800 meter runs, 50 meter swim, soccer, kick, leg press and 16 foot softball throws for men and 12 foot for women.

Optional events include bowling (participants bring own bowling ball), ball, ball, free throw, archery, 200 meter freestyle swim, mile run, football accuracy throw and netball only.

Aycock, Chi Psi, Lewis post track wins

By BERT WOODARD

Aycock Dorm, Chi Psi fraternity and Lewis Dorm, leaders in intramural track, ran to victory in their respective divisions last week, while "Misrepresented Conclusion" of the Sociology department and School of Medicine took the grad/independent title.

'The girls really get psyched for this meet. It's bad more girls from other units don't participate because it's a great way to meet people.'

Annette Ivey
Aycock manager

Craig, Delta Upsilon, Avery and Teague A won championships in team table tennis held recently in the Tin Can. Aycock, which dominated the women's track division for the second consecutive year, was led by Clare Lynam's victory in the 800 meter run and second place finish in the long jump. Lynam was joined by a long list of Aycock contributors including Allison Stevens, winner in the softball throw, and Linka Schlitz, shot put winner.

"The girls really get psyched for this meet," said Aycock manager Annette Ivey. "It is bad more girls from other units don't participate because it is a great way to get to know people."

Dave Dixon and Mike Hasty, co-managers for Chi Psi, organized a large group of participants and their fraternity's second straight IM track championship. The "Lodge" was led by Nick Manos' win in the discus, victories by the 400 and 1600 relay teams, and a score of second and third place finishers in their victory over a Tabb Evan-led PiKa team.

"About a week before the track meet, we start pulling out good runners out of the moth balls," Dixon said. "We get pretty 'gung-ho' about it (track meet) every year."

In the dorm division, it was all Lewis which meant it was all Charlie Brown. The former UNC trackster won the 100 and 400 meter runs, while teammate Fred Smith helped out with a victory in the 1,500.

'About a week before the track meet, we start pulling out good runners out of the moth balls.'

Brown said the annual meet, though not challenging, was fun. "And I enjoy winning T-shirts for the dorm."

Mike Zollicoffer and Steve Lerner led the "Misrepresented Conclusion" to its title.

A Craige team of Sam Abrams, Thomas Wayne, Rich Ammons and Robbie Tangan claimed the residence hall table tennis title. The Avery "Penguins" won the women's honors, Teague A's "Dinks" won men's rec and three teams are still tied for first in the grad/independent division.

"It feels good to finally win an intramural (champion) T-shirt," said senior Trent McKay of DU's winning table tennis team. McKay was joined by Johnny Stephenson, Tim Edwards, and Rob McNeill.

Inadvertently edited out of last week's copy were Tim Burgiss, captain of DU's-grail mural softball champs, and the all-campus golf results.

Dental student Donnie Luper's 72 score won him the golf title in the annual tournament held recently at Finley course. Finishing behind Luper in the 16-student field, were Ehringhaus' Glenn Dixon, Gene Martin of Graham and Mark Rich of Teague.
