Hearing on rate hike set

Duke Power Company's proposed 19.7 percent rate increase will be the topic of discussion at a public hearing tonight before the N.C. Utilities Commission. The meeting, following hearings that are now under way in Raleigh, will be a chance for citizens and customers of Duke Power to learn more about Duke's request and to voice their opinions about the proposed increase.

The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. today at Durham City Hall. Duke Power officials told the Utilities Commission Wednesday that they needed the increase to bring another nuclear unit into service and to meet consumer demand, Duke Power President William S. Lee said.

Women's studies head sought

The search is on for a new director for the women's studies program, says Beverly Long, who is heading the search. "The search has just started," she said. The deadline for application is not until Nov. 2. Applicants must have a doctorate or its equivalent, publications in their disciplines and at least five years college teaching experience. The new director will be required to administer the program, advise students in course selection and future careers and coordinate activities addressing women's issues. The appointment will be for five years. Interested persons should send applications to Mary Turner Lane, director of the women's studies program, third floor Steele Building.

News in Brief

More arrests made in bombing

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Police investigating a bloody grenade attack on a downtown synagogue made six more arrests Sunday, authorities said. The Jewish gathering was shattered Saturday when two men described as Arabs hurled grenades and fired automatic pistols into the crowded synagogue. Two people were killed and about 20, including two policemen, were wounded by bullets, shrapnel and flying glass, police and Red Cross officials said. The PLO condemned the assault, while the Israeli government and Austrian Chancellor Bruno Kreisky accused each other of following policies that fostered terrorism. Police said the six men arrested were discovered in an apartment rented for at least two months by one of the men grabbed by officers outside the synagogue. They identified him as Hassan Marwan and said he had given them a false name, Ali Yusoff, and said he was Egyptian. Austrian Radio reported there were some Palestinians among the six arrested Sunday, but police refused to confirm the report or supply further details.

Angolan fighting continues

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — The Angolan provincial capital of Cunene was captured by South African troops in fresh fighting in the southern part of the nation, the official Angolan news agency reported Sunday. The Angop news agency, monitored in Lisbon, said the Angolan Defense Ministry announced that South African troops had occupied the city of Ngiva on Saturday and had also taken eight small towns near the provincial capital. The agency quoted the Defense Ministry as saying Angolan forces had shot down five South African warplanes, two in a bombing attack on the town of Tchibemba, 185 miles from the Angolan-South-West Africa border. The report of renewed attacks follows two days of debate in New York by the U.N. Security Council on the South African incursion into Angola. The 15-member group adjourned Saturday until today. Third World nations proposed broad sanctions against the white-minority ruled government in Pretoria.

Back pay sought by Garwood

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Robert Garwood, the Marine private convicted of collaborating with the enemy in Vietnam, is seeking some $147,000 in back pay held by the government during his nearly 14 years as a prisoner of war.

John C. Lowe, an attorney who represents Garwood, said the case would be brought before a hearing officer Tuesday. Months could pass before a verdict is handed down.

"There's not going to be any witnesses or anything like that.... We're saying basically the trial record shows he's entitled to his back pay," Lowe said.

A Pentagon spokesman said in Washington, however, that the proceeding was expected to last two days and would be closed to the public and news media. Garwood's other attorney, Vaughan Taylor of Jacksonville, N.C., said Garwood applied for the back pay two years ago.

traffic office decided to return the North Campus lots to 90 percent residents and 10 percent commuters.

To make up for the change commuters were given more S-5 stickers.

The 25 S-5 permits already given to students were taken from the 50 permits Student Government allocated for hard-ship cases.

"Without denying any permits to hard-ship requests, we were able to save 25 spaces," Norberg said. "We took the 25 S-4 stickers and gave them S-5s."

"This is an entirely separate process from the traffic office," Norberg said.

"With the cooperation of the traffic office, we've been able to give just about everyone a better space."
