IM ATHLETES OF THE MONTH

Donna Hovis

Since coming to Chapel Hill, Donna Hovis has known the feeling of winning. As manager of the Untouchables, Hovis helped lead her team to the Napoleon basketball championship with a 15-8 victory over Gosh Almighty.

She said that she was worried that the other team might run the Untouchables ragged in the finals—given that her team only had three players. But experience came through in the end. "We've played together for three years," she said. "It was ironic that we won with only three players and they had six."

A junior physical education major from Charlotte, Hovis was a member of the semi-finalists in the fall Grail softball tourney, the M&M Sluggers; the 1981 Competitive Women's football champion M&M Option; the UNC basketball team that won the IM Big Four championship two years ago; the finalists of last fall's Co-Rec football division, the Interceptors; and last year's Napoleon basketball winners. Hovis, for sure, understands how to win.

Anthony Moses

Anthony Moses plays just as hard on the football field as he does on the softball diamond. While spending his afternoons on the practice field with the football Tar Heels, Moses found time to captain and lead the Alexanders from Henderson Residence College to the recreation division championship of Grail Mural Softball.

A junior studio art major from Fayetteville, Moses hit three home runs and batted .647 in five games for the Alexanders. His personal performance, though, was just part of his pride in the IM championship. They play of his team meant more to him.

"Going into the season, we had a great nucleus of returning players," he said. "We came close a couple of times before, this time I'm really happy for my players."

Moses, the son of Gene and Theresa Moses, and a graduate of Douglas Byd Senior High, is the IM manager for Alexander, as well as participating in basketball, volleyball, badminton, and track and field.

Wild and crazy would be an understatement in describing the Thundering Hearts, the first-ever IM Almost Anything Goes! champions. Captain Keith Lee led fellow Teague-mates Jeff Burgess and Jeff Stutts, and Terry Massengil from Parker, Terry Lee of Morrison, and Lisa Medlin of Carrboro to the crown.

The "Hearts" collected 91 points in six events—the Centipede Shuffle, the Balloon Hocquet Relay, the Dance Balloon-a-thon, the Cheap Date Relay, the Egg Roll and the Scavenger Hunt. Lee attributed his team's success to consistency and team work.

"We didn't win many of the events, we just tried to stay near the top," he said. "We used team work and plotted out strategy ahead of time."

This was evident when Jeff Stutts took advantage of his job in Wilson Library to come up with an overseas stamp during the Scavenger Hunt. Stutts dashed into Wilson and moments later emerged with the stamp—the only one found during the hunt.

For their hard work, the Thundering Hearts earned a bouquet of roses an IM plaque and IM champion T-shirts.

Welcome Back Students!

Each month throughout the school year, four students are recognized in the IM-Rec program as the "IM Athletes of the Month." Each person is chosen by the IM staff for outstanding performances in a particular sport, a positive attitude on and off the field, participation in a variety of sports or activities, and contributing toward the IM program in general. The IM staff honors the four athletes after consulting with individual activity supervisors, managers and officials.

In addition, the IM staff also chooses the "IM Managers of the Year" and "IM Officials of the Year." One manager from each of the competitive divisions, fraternity, residence hall, graduate/independent and women's divisions is honored for an outstanding job in his/her unit. Exceptional officials are chosen each year in three categories: Outstanding Official, Outstanding Supervisor, and Outstanding Rookie Official.

This Bud's for everyone who keeps cool when the game gets hot.
