

Students may purchase inexpensive used books

By HEIDI OWEN
Staff Writer

It's not easy being a student, especially when a textbook-buying spree can necessitate a month of cheap peanut butter and four-for-a-dollar macaroni and cheese meals.

But there are ways to avoid pouring those Christmas earnings into one semester's worth of textbooks.

Used books at the Student Stores, selling books back and textbook co-ops can often provide unexpected savings and even revenue for students.

Used books in the Student Stores have saved the student body more than $200,000 in one year, according to Student Stores Advisory Committee Chairman William I. Burke.

And when a book will be used again next semester, students can sell their old books to the Student Stores for 50 percent of the new list price, and for the wholesale price when the book will not be used the next semester, Burke said.

Another alternative is to take advantage of the Alpha Phi Omega Book Co-Op program.

The APO books will be on sale until Tuesday, Jan. 18.

Students selling books receive the price they set for their books minus 15 percent in cash.

The 15 percent share will be placed in the Bernard Grail Scholarship Fund which will provide student aid to UNC students.

Alice Stroup, chairman of the APO coop, said that more than $5,000 was given to the scholarship fund last semester.

"This semester we expect to donate over $6,500. Some people say they are saving more than $40 to $50 on books bought from APO, and I think it's great that we can give the students that opportunity."

Other alternatives to purchasing and selling books for lower prices are buying them from friends, used book stores, and from individuals in the school.

Many people advertise books they want to sell on bulletin boards in the Union, as well as other locations on campus. But students should always double-check the editions of these books to make sure they are the correct text for a specific class.

Events mark King's birthday

ABC's Max Robinson to speak here

By KYLE MARSHALL
Staff Writer

Events commemorating the birthday of Martin Luther King Jr. have been scheduled for the UNC campus this weekend, culminating in an appearance Sunday by Max Robinson of ABC News.

Robinson will give "A Television Journalist's Tribute to Martin Luther King Jr." at 8 p.m. Sunday in Memorial Hall. He also is scheduled for a press conference and a seminar beginning at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in 203 Howell Hall. The program is sponsored by the Black Student Movement, the Carolina Union Forum Committee, the Martin Luther King Jr. Committee and Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity.

In addition to Robinson's appearance, the School of Public Health will conduct a program Friday, and the BSM, the Carolina Union and the King committee will co-sponsor a cultural celebration on Saturday, King's birthday.

There is no charge for admission to Robinson's speech Sunday night, which is open to all students and members of the community. Students interested in attending the press conference and seminar should sign up at the Union desk.

A reception will follow in the Morehead Faculty Lounge.

Before Robinson's speech, UNC Chancellor Christopher C. Fordham III will present the first scholarship award of the King Scholarship Fund. Alice Carmichael of the King committee said the BSM, Student Government and the committee submitted names of students "who have shown a devotion to civil rights," and the committee is still in the process of choosing a recipient.

UNC history professor Nell I. Painter will be the speaker for the memorial ceremony at the School of Public Health. The ceremony is scheduled for 4 p.m. Friday in Rosenau Hall.

Saturday's cultural celebration is scheduled for 8 p.m. in Great Hall. Speakers include Rev. Willis Wilson of Carrboro and UNC African and Afro-American professor Sonja Stone. The BSM Gospel Choir, Ebony Readers and Opeyo Dancers are scheduled to perform.

BSM cultural coordinator Chuck Wallington said it was "a good idea for us to combine with the Chancellor's office and the Union, because we all feel King's birthday should be a national holiday. He deserves proper recognition, and we hope our program is one step closer to making this recognition a reality."

General meeting for 'DTH' staff

The Daily Tar Heel staff will meet Monday, Jan. 17 at 5 p.m. All writers, copy editors, photographers and artists must attend. Individual desks will meet after the general staff meeting. Meeting place will be posted in the DTH office and in the DTH.

Concert tickets on sale today

Tickets to the Feb. 6 Bow Wow Wow concert at Memorial Hall are on sale today at the Union Auditorium Box Office. All seats are reserved.

Tickets are $7.50. After today, tickets will be available at Ruthless Records on Franklin Street.

Union to sponsor symphony visit

The Carolina Union has wasted no time this semester in bringing the fine arts to the UNC campus.

Tonight at 8 in Memorial Hall, the North Carolina Symphony will present a concert of works by North Carolina composers. Student tickets for the concert are $2.50 at the Union box office. Call 962-1449 for more information.

Meanwhile, the Union Gallery Committee is presenting "Hope and Dignity," a photo exhibition featuring pictures of black women, through Jan. 31, and a showing of photographs by Tim Barnwell, taken in Madison County, through Feb. 13.

THE Fireside, Ltd.

Fabulous SALE On Winter Merchandise Now In Progress

New Merchandise For Spring Arriving Daily.

171 E. Franklin St.

942-2674

LIFE ISN'T CHEAP.

GIVE TO THE AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY.

SHARE THE COST OF LIVING.

JANUARY CLEARANCE

20-40% OFF

on Selected Athletic Shoes and Warm-Up Suits

Sale Ends 1/29/83

SECOND SOLE

UNIVERSITY SQUARE (Next to Granville Towers) 133 W. Franklin St.

Open weeknites 'til 8 pm 942-1078

*merchandise limited to stock on hand

THIS COULD BE THE START OF SOMETHING BIG

It could be your big chance for a scholarship that pays you $100 a month, plus all tuition, books and lab and incidental fees.

If you want to devote a part of your college curriculum to classroom and laboratory training in leadership, management, Air Force history and traditions...and you can qualify, it could be for you.

Air Force ROTC leads to an Air Force officer's commission. And that means responsibility, challenge, service to your country. It means taking on big responsibility.

Look into the Air Force ROTC program at your campus. Check out the benefits of an AFROTC scholarship. It could be the start of something big...it could be the start of a lasting relationship with the United States Air Force in dedicated service to your country.

For additional information contact Lt. Parker 962-2074

AIR FORCE

ROTC

Gateway to a great way of life.

THE SHRUNKEN HEAD BOUTIQUE PRESENTS

1983 Swimsuits & Coverups by The Twins

Lay Away Now For Spring Break.

Shop Early For The Pick Of The Crop!

Bathing Suits to be worn away from Mom!

155 E. Franklin St.

942-7554

Dessert Double Play.

Buy one, get second for a cent!

Here's a dessert double play you can't miss! Buy one frozen yogurt at the regular price and get the second (of equal value or less) for just a penny.

It looks and tastes like homemade ice cream with only half the calories. Enjoy 25 delicious frozen yogurt flavors. And add your choice of 20 different fruits, nuts and toppings for a delightful snack.

Go tasty dipping today—with frozen yogurt from The Yogurt Pump.

1¢

Coupon expires 1/21/83

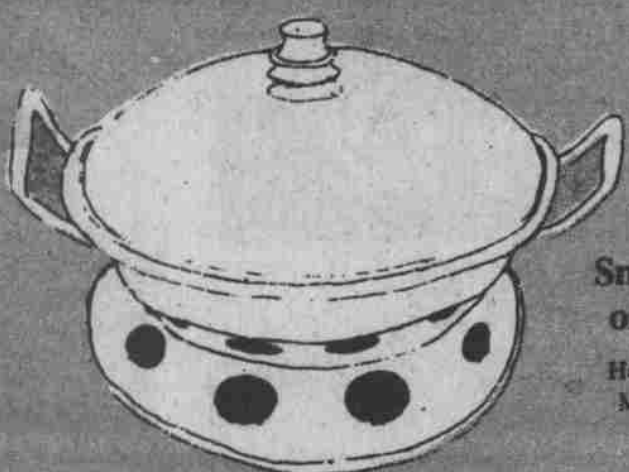

106 W. Franklin Street at the former location of Austin's Sno-Cones. Between Mr. Gatti's and Pizza Hut behind Baum Jewelry

FREE SAMPLES

Phone 942-PUMP

Oriental Gourmet Materials

Snack Lunches of Sushi, etc.

Hours of Operation Mon. thru Thurs. 10:00-6:00

Fri. 10:00-8:00 Sat. 10:00-6:00 Sun. 12:00-6:00

The Silver Way Food Shop

Carr Mill Mall

933-1295

Carrboro

CREATIVE FREEDOM

In the age of information technology, a company—whose sales of $1.7 billion annually and whose products and components extend from data acquisition and information processing through data communication to voice, video and graphic communication—is making creative freedom a reality for their new graduates.

ON CAMPUS INTERVIEWS

January 18th & 19th

Computer Science and Business Majors Make arrangements at the Placement Office.

HARRIS

An Equal Opportunity Employer, M/F/H/V

SIGN-UP NOW for SPRING BOWLING LEAGUES

at the UNION BOWLING LANES

Registration: Now-Jan. 21

Mon.-Thurs. nights are available for leagues. There will be 4-8 teams of 3-4 bowlers. We use Handicap scoring, so you don't have to be good to have fun. Check the Bowling Desk or call 962-4131 for more information.

League play starts Monday, Jan. 24 Students, faculty and staff are invited