

plane

It appeared that the reason the plane's debris was to be turned over to Japan is the absence of diplomatic relations between South Korea and the Soviet Union. Seoul has reported asked Tokyo to represent its interests in the affair.

The Soviets have not pinpointed the crash site yet, Pavlov reportedly said, but they found fragments in four areas near Moneron. He gave the coordinates of the sites as 46.15 degrees north and 140.15 east, 47.10 north and 140.15 east, 47.10 north and 141.35 east and 46.35 north and 141.25 east.

There were strong indications that the Soviet refusal to offer an accounting that satisfies the United States was leading to a further deterioration in relations between Moscow and Washington.

"This brutal Soviet action has vividly displayed the Soviet Union's lack of concern for the human lives involved," Shultz said, "and the preposterous explanation that the Soviets have offered and continue to offer to a disbelieving world has only compounded the problem.

"This is not the end of the matter," Shultz told reporters after seeing Gromyko.

"In the days and weeks ahead the United States along with others throughout the international community will press hard for justice for the families of those murdered and safety and security of innocent travelers."

The United States has demanded an apology, restitution for the victims' families, and assurances that such an attack will not occur again.

White House spokesman Larry Speakes said he could not comment on reports that the Soviets were beginning a major missile test at the time the Korean airliner flew through restricted Soviet airspace.

But he added: "I don't doubt the reports." A source with the West German delegation in Madrid said West German Vice Chancellor Hans-Dietrich Genscher told Shultz the Bonn government favors a "broad and quick" action but wants to send "a political signal, a political demonstration by the whole Western world toward the Soviet Union."

The source, who would not be identified by name, said West Germany did not favor boycotts or sanctions.

But the national pilots' groups followed the call issued Tuesday by the International Federation of Airline Pilots Associations for a 60-day ban on flights to Moscow.

Swedish, Danish and Norwegian pilots decided Wednesday to stop at least four weekly flights by SAS, the Scandinavian Airlines System.

Some of the European airlines' Moscow-bound flights continue to the Far East, however, and not all of them were to be affected by the ban.

SANTIAGO, Chile — Riot police using clubs, tear gas and water cannon battled hundreds of rock-throwing demonstrators in Santiago Thursday during a "Day of National Protest" against the military regime of President Augusto Pinochet.

Reporters saw scores of people arrested, including the head of the copper workers union, Rodolfo Seguel, and former Sen. Patricio Aylwin, both affiliated with the five-party Democratic Alliance that called for the day of protest.

Witnesses said policemen beat Aylwin as he watched a rally and put him on a police bus.

The demonstrations began as at least 1,000 marchers, most of them university students, converged from three directions toward Plaza Italia, a square at the end of the main downtown boulevard. Helmeted police, descending from buses and running in small groups, used clubs and tear gas to try to cut them off.

MANILA, Philippines — President Ferdinand E. Marcos said Thursday he shed tears for his assassinated rival, Benigno Aquino, and called the killing a "national shame."

Marcos' wife, Imelda, in a separate interview, said she had nothing to gain from the death of Aquino and added she was considering giving up her vast official powers.

Both denied government involvement in the Aug. 21 assassination and said they wanted to attend Aquino's funeral. Aquino family members had said they wouldn't be welcome.

Marcos, in an interview with The Associated Press and visiting Japanese newspaper editors, said the killing of Aquino as he arrived home from three years' self-exile in the United States was a "national shame."

"I shed tears for him, and every Filipino should have," said Marcos.

WASHINGTON — President Reagan, accused of foot-dragging on his alternative to the Equal Rights Amendment, decided Thursday to ask Congress to change nearly four dozen sexually discriminatory federal laws, but to leave intact some others that give women preferential treatment.

The president took the action at a meeting of his Cabinet Council on Legal Policy, which considered a 50-page memorandum that Reagan had solicited from the Justice Department and the Office of Management and Budget on sex discrimination in federal laws.

The meeting was prompted by criticism from Barbara Honegger, the Justice Department aide who worked on the 2½-year-old project to identify discriminatory laws, who called the project a "sham" and who later resigned.

VIENNA, Austria — Pope John Paul II begins a four-day visit to Austria on Saturday to pray at the grave of an anti-communist Hungarian cardinal and to meet with Roman Catholics from Eastern Europe who have taken refuge here.

Church officials hope the trip will bolster morale of churchmen in communist countries as well as boost lagging church attendance, stem the number of people leaving the church and encourage young men to join the priesthood in Austria.

PAC

What effect will Helms' position as Senate Agriculture chairman have on Hunt's ability to attract Ag-PAC dollars?

"Any PAC's tendency is to give to incumbents, especially if they chair committees," Bass said. "It may be tough to get the support we're looking for from Ag-PACs, but we're certainly not pessimistic."

Lebanon

Lebanon's army has been trying to rebuild and restore order in the wake of Israel's partial pullback from the mountains. The commander of Lebanon's army, Gen. Ibrahim Tannous, on Thursday ordered army reservists from the rank of major down to report to active duty on Sept. 12 and 13.

He did not say why, and the total number of men involved could not be determined.

President Amin Gemayel called an emergency Cabinet session, and the government issued a statement calling for an immediate cease-fire and announcing that Saudi Arabia was proposing a four-point peace plan for Lebanon.

The statement said the first step would be the cessation of fighting, followed by deployment of the army in west and east Beirut, then entry of the army into the central mountains by agreement with Druse and Christian militias, and finally a conference of political and militia leaders.

Israel has agreed to pull out of Lebanon totally if the Syrians also withdraw. But the Syrians, who have been in Lebanon since ending the 1975-76 Moslem-Christian civil war, refuse.

Because of a reporting error in the story "Reverse-discrimination trial comes to a close" in Thursday's paper, the DTH incorrectly stated the size of the Undergraduate Court. The court has 30 members, eight of whom must be minorities. Minorities appearing before the court may request that three of the five members of the panel be minorities. The DTH regrets the errors.
