Preyer: Reagan won't run in 1984

By TOM CONLON

President Ronald Reagan probably will not seek re-election in 1984 although it appears he is running, UNC political science professor Richardson Preyer told the Young Democrats Tuesday night.

"I think it's a smokescreen," Preyer said. "No real (incumbent) would campaign so early. I think he (Reagan) is aware that Democrats will increase or gain control of the Senate and Congress. Why should he want to battle with them to get legislation passed?"

Preyer added that Reagan is probably trying to avoid a breakup in the Republican Party by announcing too soon and that Vice President George Bush would be the likely Republican presiden-

Preyer, a federal district court judge from 1962 to 1964 and U.S. congressman from 1968 to 1980 for the 6th District, is active within the N.C. Democratic Party.

Preyer said any of the Democratic nominees could beat Reagan, but that Walter Mondale had the best chance to get the

"To win the nomination you must appeal to several groups women, minorities, labor and educators, and Mondale has many of those ties," he said.

Preyer said that former Sen. George McGovern, who Wednesday announced that he would run for president, started too late and with too little money. "I was very surprised he announced."

A Jesse Jackson candidacy would hurt Democrats' chances of regaining the White House, Preyer said. "Jackson would bring out a large black vote, who in turn would support Democrats at other levels of government," he said. But "the Democratic candidate would need those votes. I think we need more black candidates in public office, but a Jackson candidacy would be a bad result for Democrats at the presidential level."

Besides the presidential election, Preyer said the expected senatorial race between Sen. Jesse Helms and Gov. Jim Hunt will be very important in 1984.

"Republicans are putting a lot of effort into it, and they will have a financial advantage," he said. "We (Democrats) will have to work hard as a group - that means organizing."

Should Helms lose in 1984, Preyer said that the National Congressional Club, a Helms-backed political action committee, would lose much of its power.

"Helms would be unable to introduce controversial amendments in the Senate," he said. "This would prevent many issues from going on voting records that could be used against candidates in future elections. Helms would probably end up going around the nation speaking to right-wing groups with whom he is

A Hunt exploratory committee has been established in Raleigh and the campaign is in an organizing period, Preyer said. Hunt is expected to announce his candidacy early next year.

Preyer said that he would not re-enter politics as a candidate. "I will always stay involved in political work though," he added.

WASHINGTON - The House, which lost one of its own in the destruction of Korean Air Lines Flight 007, voted unanimous condemnation Wednesday of the Soviet Union for a "coldblooded, brutal, barbarous attack on a commercial airliner."

The resolution calls on the Soviets to explain why the plane was shot down Sept. 1 and demands that they aid in the search for victims and provide reparations to their families.

"It is the least we can do to express our outrage," said Rep. Clement Zablocki, D-Wis., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. "What is even more horrible is the Soviet refusal to apologize or provide reparations for the families of the victims."

The vote for the resolution was 416-0 with Reps. George Crockett and John Conyers Jr., both Michigan Democrats, voting present.

RALEIGH — Attorneys for Lt. Gov. Jimmy Green entered a plea of innocent to five bribery-related charges Wednesday after Superior Court Judge James M. Long refused to dismiss the charges.

Long rejected arguments by defense attorneys that the state's 115-year-old bribery law is too vague and that the fivecount indictment is so unclear that attorneys cannot prepare a defense.

Green was indicted June 20 for allegedly accepting a $2,000 bribe, agreeing to accept a $2,000 bribe, twice consenting to accept bribes of $10,000 a month and conspiring with Howard F. Watts to accept bribes.

Defense attorneys Wade M. Smith and Howard F. Twiggs of Raleigh argued the motions in a Wake Superior Court hearing. Green waived has right to appear, but some of his aides attended the hear-

RALEIGH — The North Carolina Utilities Commission approved a $20.3 million rate increase Wednesday for Southern Bell but turned down a request for an additional $91.5 million. In a separate order, the commission also granted the in-state long-distance network in North Carolina a 6.3 percent rate increase amounting to $26.2 million. The first order allows Southern Bell local rate increases between 30 cents and 40 cents a month for residential telephones. Under the original request for $111.8 million, rates would have increased by as much as $7.05 per month. In addition to the base increases, certain areas will have extra increases of up to 30 cents a month because exchanges were regrouped to reflect the growth in customers. For example, Raleigh will have a base increase of 40 cents plus a regrouping increase of 25 cents for a total increase of 65 cents a month for oneparty access lines.
