Monday, February 14, 1984/The Daily Tar Heel/5

Campus elections polling sites

Students must vote at the polling site as indicated below. A valid UNC student 1D is required in order to vote.

Polls will be open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

UNION All grad students (CGC 1-8) and offcampus undergrads (CGC 16-23)

Y-COURT All grads (CGC 1-8) and off-campus undergrads (CGC 16-23), Alderman, Carr, Kenan, McIver, Old East, Old West, Spencer.

MORRISON Morrison, Hinton James (CGC 15) GRANVILLE CAFETERIA Granville East,

South-West (CGC 14) HINTON JAMES Hinton James, Morrison (CGC

15)

EHRINGHAUS Craige undergrads, Ehringhaus (CGC 12)

PARKER Avery, Parker, Teague, Whitehead (CGC 10)

SPENCER Alderman, Carr, Kenan, McIver, Old East, Old West, Spencer

CRAIGE All grads (CGC 1-8), Craige undergrads, Ehringhaus (CGC 12)

DAVIS LIBRARY All grads (CGC 1-8), all offcampus undergrads (CGC 16-23)

EVERETT Aycock, Cobb, Everett, Graham, Grimes, Lewis, Mangum, Manly, Ruffin, Stacy (CGC 11)

CONNOR Alexander, Conner, Winston (CGC 13) 'WHITEHEAD Avery, Parker, Teague, Whitehead (CGC 10)

SCUTTLEBUTT All grads (CGC 1-8), all offcampus undergrads (CGC 16-23)

JOYNER Alexander, Connor, Joyner, Winston (CGC 13)

RUFFIN Aycock, Cobb, Everett, Graham, Grimes, Lewis, Mangum, Manly, Ruffin, Stacy (CGC 11)

COBB Aycock, Cobb, Everett, Graham, Grimes, Lewis, Mangum, Manly, Ruffin, Stacy (CGC 11)

LAW SCHOOL Grad Districts 1,2,4

McIVER Alderman, Carr, Kenan, McIver, Old East, Old West, Spencer

MED. SCHOOL Grad Districts 3,5,6,7

ROSENAU Grad Districts 3,5,6,7, off-campus undergrads (CGC 16-23)

KENAN LABS Grad Districts 3,5,6,7, off-campus undergrads

HAMILTON Grad Districts 1,2,4, off-campus undergrads

SEEDS stresses non-campus issues in elections of time and effort, he said.

According to SEEDS member Bill Barlow, UNC needs a political party that will press both the students and the establishment to make the University a model for future world change.

Students must become actively involved in world issues because they are the leaders of the future, Mills said. "This is especially true for students who are forming their ideas and must live in this world for another 60 years," he said. "SEEDS' purpose is to involve students in solving the problems of the world."

Last week the candidates for Student Body President declined a SEEDS endorsement.

"This creates an almost alarmist perception of SEEDS," according to Mills. "We are breaking precedents. Our proposals for increasing awareness of public issues aren't incompatible with the role of Student Government."

Mills was questioned as to how a SEEDS member serving in Student Government could effectively deal with issues of a wider scope. He cited a recent Daily Tar Heel editorial that stated that UNC government did not have the power to send troops to El Salvador.

"Admittedly, he (SEEDS member) can't do much," Mills said. "But these problems of greater magnitude still deserve attention. Something is better than nothing."

Mills said SEEDS candidates had an advantage in the upcoming elections. "I see a natural advantage to a party system," he said. "By drawing up a platform, we've generally arrived at a definite position the electorate can see."

There is total apathy on the part of students towards Student Government, according to Mills. "The concept of SEEDS arose out of these concerns," he said. SEEDS members want to activate Student Government and give it higher visibility on campus, he said.

SEEDS has 25 to 30 regular members, and usually about 30 to 40 people attend the meetings out of interest, he said. SEEDS wants to promote awareness of national and international issues, and awareness then leads to action, Mills said.

CGC candidates

District 1: (Law School, PE) Steve Reinhard

District 2: (Art, dramatic art, music, education and social work) No candidates District 3: (Botany, chemistry, marine science, ORSA, physics, statistics, business and math) No candidates

District 4: (Anthropology, computer science, 'economics, history, city and regional planning, political science, psychology and sociology) Bill Barlow District 5: (Dentistry, anatomy, bacteriology, biomedical engineering, genetics, neurobiology, occupational therapy, pathology, pharmacology, physical therapy, physiology, rehabilitation and speech and hearing) No candidates

District 6: (Medical school and nursing) No candidates

District 7: (Ecology, geology, zoology, pharmacy and public health) No candidates

District 8: (Classics, comparative literature, English, folklore, geography, German, linguistics, philosophy, RTVMP, recreation administration,

District 14: (Granville Towers) Terrence Brayboy, Dan Hall, Sherri Watson District 15: (Hinton James, Morrison) Max Lloyd, Ryke Longest, Todd Victor Mason, Marshall Mills, Chuck Vocelle District 16: (Townhouse, Brookside, Westhall; Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Upsilon, Phi Delta Theta, Lambda Chi Alpha, Tau Epsilon Phi, Alpha Deplta Pi, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Delta, Phi Mu, Pi Beta Phi, Alpha Chi Omega, Sigma Sigma Sigma, Village Apts, Manor House, Booker Creek, Stratford Hills) David Berlin, Patricia Wallace District 17: (Pinegate, Foxcroft, Castillion, Kings Arms, Colony, Camelot, Town Terrace, The Oaks, Shepherd Lane) Herman Bennett District 18: (Estes Park, Bolinwood, University Gardens, Colonial Arms) Thomas Kepley

District 19: (Tar Heel Manor, Berkshire, Chateau Labet, Sue Anne Court, Pineknoll) No candidates District 20: (Old Well, Poplar, Fidelity

Quick, Belker are comic write-in candidates

By JANET OLSON

By STEVE FERGUSON

Staff Writer

Members of Students Effectively Establishing a

Democratic System are getting involved in the 1984 student elections to express their beliefs that students

"Our base point is to encourage involvement in the political process," said Marshall Mills, District 15 CGC candidate. "We're very concerned about our community

SEEDS attempts to get students to address wider issues, such as the nuclear arms race and the situation in Central America, Mills said. They are against social in-

SEEDS is attempting to combat what Mills called a

"tidal wave" of unawareness on the UNC campus.

"We're not attempting to change everything overnight," he said. Increasing student awareness of national and international affairs will be a constant struggle taking a lot should take a stand on issues outside UNC.

and about the world in general."

justice and militarism.

With only one day left to campaign, two candidates for campus offices still remain mysteriously hidden behind their posters.

And the word around campus is that they won't speak up any time soon.

Although this year's election amusement has not reached the level of entertainment that student body president candidate Hugh G. Reckshun attained last year, some students are still trying to find a laugh amid all the serious campaigning.

for Marrymee Quick, a candidate for student body president, and for Mick Belker, a candidate for Daily Tar Heel editor. Both candidates are conducting comical write-in campaigns for Tuesday's elections.

Quick's poster reads, "I don't need a platform, I'm already on a pedestal." Belker's simply says, "Vote, dogbreath!" A representative for the Belker campaign, who chose to remain anonymous, said Belker was the law and order canplanned to be a tough but compassionate leader.

"Mick thinks public officials are professional criminals," the representative said, "and he believes student government officials are criminals in training." If elected, Belker won't take any doubletalk from officials and will make an effort to pin them down to the issues at hand, the representative said.

Neither Belker nor Quick will appear on the official ballot, because of a bill the Campus Governing Council passed last semester. The bill does not disallow joke candidates, but it requires them to provide their full legal names in addition to their pseudonyms.

Hugh Lamb, alias Reckshun, said the key to his near-success last year was appearing on the official ballot as Hugh G. Reckshun.

"When we passed the bill, the impression of the Council was that there is a place for joke candidates in the elections," James Exum, CGC speaker said. "But when a candidate is running for a student government position, it's Exum said he stressed that the CGC was not preventing joke candidates from running or from making a statement about student government.

"That (the CGC bill) just shows that they know something's a little fishy up there," Lamb said.

Despite the bill, however, Lamb said he felt he would have a chance at becoming student body president if he were to run again. But since he made his statement last year and because many of his key campaign members have left, Reckshun said he would not run again.

Andy Sutherland, Elections Board chairman, said he felt there was a place for joke candidates in the elections if the candidates were making a statement that students were unhappy with student government.

"But I hope that before they run, they have searched the question 'What do you do without student government?"" Sutherland said.

Serious candidates should take joke candidates seriously, Sutherland said, by respecting their objections and making a

Sutherland said the Elections Board would treat all candidates equally, objectively and fairly, but he stressed that all candidates must adhere to the election rules.

All candidates must submit a financial statement listing all campaign expenditures by 5 p.m. Tuesday, Sutherland said. He has so far received no accounts for campaign poster expenses from Belker and Quick.

Sutherland also said that only constituents of the University could run for campus offices and that any non-students would be wasting students' valuable time.

The joke candidates may encourage more students to vote, Sutherland said. They may increase the response of serious voters in addition to attracting people who vote for a joke or for a change in student government, he said.

Sutherland said the joke candidates would spread out votes of students who might otherwise have voted for serious candidates. But he said the votes probably would only be diluted by an insignificant amount because both Belker and Quick are write-in candidates.

Staff Writer

Posters have sprung up around campus

romance languages, Slavic languages, religion, speech, journalism and library science) No candidates

District 9: (Spencer, Alderman, McIver, Kenan, Old West, Old East, Carr) Dawn Peters

District 10: (Avery, Parker, Teague, Whitehead) Wyatt Close, Scott Humphrey

District 11: (Aycock, Everett, Grimes, Lewis, Mangum, Stacy, Manly, Ruffin, Cobb, Graham) Reggie Holley, Tim Newman, Karen Rindge

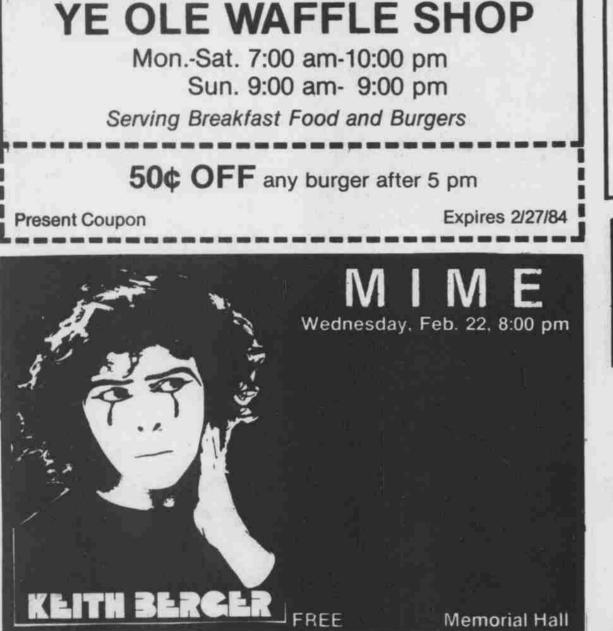

District 12: (Ehringhaus, Craige) Peter Doyle

District 13: (Alexander, Connor, Winston, Joyner) Ron Everett, Balram Kakkar

Court) A.G. Wood, III District 21: (Carolina, Bim Street, Greenbelt, University Lake, Yum Yum) Bryan Brice, Connie Brown District 22: (Royal Park, The Villages, Kingswood) Tim Berrigan, Tony Delapp District 23: (Oak Terrace, Northhampton, Rosemary St., Hargrove, Johnson St., Laurel Ridge, Phi Gamma Delta, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Chi, Chi Phi, Zeta Psi, Chi Psi, Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Pi Lambda Chi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Sigma Phi Epsilon, St. Anthony Hall, Zeta Beta Tau, Pi Kappa Phi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Kappa Psi, Phi Delta Chi, Zeta Tau Alpha, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Sigma Nu) Kenneth Harris.

NO CIVILIAN BAND CAN MAKE YOU THIS OFFER.

If you're a musician who's serious about performing, you should take a serious look at the Army. Army bands offer you an average

The Army has bands performing in Japan, Hawaii, Europe and all across America.

And Army bands offer you the chance to play with good musicians. Just

It's a genuine, right-now, immediate opportunity. Compare it to your civilian offers. Then write: Army Opportunities, P.O. Box 300, North Hollywood, CA 91603. AComplete Contact Package For of 40 performances a month. In everything from concerts to parades. Army bands also offer you a chance to travel.

to qualify, you have to be able to sightread music you've never seen before and demonstrate several other musical skills.

A Very Fitting Price

A complete examination by an Eye Care doctor, Daily Wear Soft Contacts, chemical disinfection, plus two weeks follow-up care are all being offered for a very special price. And for a slight additional charge, you can opt for tinted or extended wear contacts. All is backed with our money back guarantee. So call today for a complete contact package. It's a very attrac-tive offer at a very fitting price!

Just $119

Chapel Hill 128 E. Franklin Street, in Franklin Centre Mall Dr. Phillip C. Tart 929-4733