

College Bowl team to compete nationally

By MIKE ALLEN
Staff Writer

The UNC College Bowl team will travel to Ohio State University from May 20 — 24 to compete in the National College Bowl Tournament.

The five man team, consisting of Blair Haworth, Jeff Carnes, Seth Katz, Adam Falk and Ron Black, earned the invitation by winning the regional tournament at Charlotte in February. The team, formerly known as the "Rude Boys," were one of 16 regional champions invited to compete in the National Championship Tournament.

The team will be on NBC-TV May 24 if it wins the first two rounds, Black said. The team is the tournament favorite.

to the fact that it won the championship in 1982. The '82 win brought $2,500 to UNC's General Scholarship Fund but the prize amount has not yet been determined for this year, Black said.

Jeff Carnes, another team member, said there was no national championship tournament last year due to loss of sponsorship by television and radio, but that NBC picked up the tournament again this year. Carnes said Maryland's and Princeton's teams were tough, but UNC was prepared to win.

Carolina's team recently won the National Invitation Tournament at Emory University in Atlanta where they compiled a record of 14 wins to only one loss, which was due to what Black called "tournament fatigue."

SAVING BABIES...

Recording star Evelyn King:

"There is no greater joy than to have a healthy, beautiful baby. But not all babies are so fortunate — 250,000 infants are born with physical or mental birth defects each year. The March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation works to save babies."
